But about eighteen months ago circumstances took place that rendered a meeting house in that community a necessity, and the people came forward with willing hands and loving hearts to Next we started an autograph quilt and the work, and the Lord blessed and prospered every effort in that direction. The brethren saw the necessity to move forward with the least purchased a place joining the land where the meeting house stands, and deeded it to the Trustees of the Baptist Church for church property. Having a little money to commence with, we started a subscription list and raised the sum of $142. We had a basket sociable in March last and raised $20. received over $22, and a tea meeting the first day of October, the day being fine many patronized us in the large undertaking. After having a very pleasant time we found in the evening we had the handsome sum of $123, clear of expenses.

At 7 P. M., sermon by the pastor C H. Martell. Text Psa. cxviii. 25. Subject : The elements of true prosperity. The day was a profitable one and will be long remembered by the noble band of Christian workers at Belmont. The Sabbath School Convention of Colchester County held its quarterly meeting in the new chapel on Monday 3rd, and was one of the most refreshing seasons we have enjoyed for a long time. God was in the place and his children were conscious of his presence. Those who love to meet for prayer were in that meeting, and saw signs of true prosperity, and sev eral unconverted persons present real' ized we trust, more fully than ever before, the great fact that Christ is yet seeking to save lost men. The following lines were composed by a very aged Christian brother residing in the place, and may be perused with deep interest by many readers of the CHRISTIAN MESSENGER. ONE PRESENT. The announcement of the election of Grover Cleveland to the Presidency of the United States is generally favorably welcomed in London. At the American exchange a daily register has been opened for the informal registration of the political opinions of the visitors. The results on Saturday were as follows:

Cleveland 96. Blaine 80.

The London Times of Saturday in a leader devoted to the American Presidential contest says: "It is unlikely that there will be any serious attempt to contest the result of the election, Blaine is a man of great gifts and is an accomplished speaker, but has unhappily identified himself with speculators' schemes and moneyed interests. Cleveland has few brilliant qualities. His public career has been comparatively brief and modest, but he has shown a high sense of public duty and faithfully discharged his trust without favoring either the magnates of Wall street or the demagogues. The situation as regards New York state has not been materially changed. The Republican managers are as positive as ever in their claim that Blaine has carried the state by a small plurality.
