THE INTELLIGENCER FOR 1901.

Nearing the end of the year—the INTELLIGENCER's forty-eighth—we are looking to our friends to rally round the paper in such a way as to give it a good start into the new year.

In the year now closing we have endeavoured to give our readers a good, helpful paper. Many testimonies of appreciation have reached us. In the next year, it will be our aim to keep the paper up to its long-time recognized standard, making it a messenger of instruction and help to all whom it may reach.

Renewals Now! We are now at a time when renewals for the next year should be coming in. In no way can the friends of the INTELLIGENCER so well show their interest as by quick renewals of their subscriptions. They had better be a little ahead of time than a little behind time. Will they kindly have this in mind, and let us hear from them at once?

New Subscribers. There is room for many new subscribers on our lists. And we are equally sure that there are many homes, especially Free Baptist homes, in which there should be room for the INTELLIGENCER. New subscribers can have the paper till Jan. 1st 1902 for the price of one year.

Will the ministers and others interested in the INTELLIGENCER kindly make known the foregoing offers? We will be glad if the ministers will, also, call attention to the importance of prompt renewals.

Three Things. Let us have the hearty co-operation of all the friends of the paper now, in 1. Payment of all over-due subscriptions. 2. Prompt renewals for 1901. 3. New subscribers from every congregation.

THE SIEGE OF THE LEGATIONS.—The Living Age will begin in its issue for November 17, and will continue for several successive numbers, a thrilling account of "The Siege of the Legations," written by Dr. Morrison, the well-known correspondent of The London Times at Peking. This narrative is of absorbing interest in its descriptions of the daily life of the besieged legationnaires, and it is noteworthy also as containing new disclosures relating to the inside history of Peking in those stirring days. In England Dr. Morrison's narrative has attracted wide notice.

DEPOSED.—C. C. Burgess has been deposed from the Baptist ministry for immoral conduct.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS. The INTELLIGENCER will be sent to new subscribers from the time of receiving the subscription to January 1902 for the price of a year—$1.50. Send on the names.

PALE AND BLOODLESS Thousands of Anaemic Girls Hurrying to the Grave. A YOUNG LADY AT COBBOURG, ONT., WHOSE CASE WAS PUNISHED HOPELESS TELLS HOW SHE REGAINED HEALTH AND STRENGTH—A LESSON TO MOTHERS. Anemia is the term used by doctors to indicate poverty of the blood. The prevalence of this trouble is most alarming, especially among young girls, and a large percentage of the altogether too numerous cases of consumption which annually ravage the country have their origin in this trouble. The first indication of anemia is a pale, sallow or waxy complexion. This is followed by loss of appetite, frequent headaches, indisposition to exertion, swelling of limbs, violent heart palpitation and frequently fainting fits. These symptoms may not all be present, but the more there are the greater the urgency for prompt and effective treatment, which should be persisted in until all traces of the trouble have vanished. Among the thousands who have been brought near to the brink of the grave from this trouble, and ultimately restored to health through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, is Miss Bella Boyd, an estimable young lady whose home is at Cobourg. Miss Boyd gives her experience as follows:— "It is nearly ten years since my illness first commenced, and although I was doctoring more or less I received little or no benefit, as the doctors did not seem to understand my trouble. Two years ago my health became so bad that another doctor was called in, and he stated that my case was a most severe type of anemia, and that while he could help me the trouble had progressed to such a stage that he could hold out little hopes of a cure. At this time I was as pale as chalk, my eyelids were swollen and would hang down over my eyes like sacks of water. My feet and limbs would swell, and were always cold. I was subject to violent headaches, severe palpitation of the heart, and if I stooped over I would be so dizzy that I could scarcely regain an upright position. My appetite failed me almost entirely, and I grew so weak that I was a mere wreck. While in this condition I read in a newspaper of the cure of a young girl whose case was much like mine, through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I determined to try them. Those who knew me did not think any medicine could do me any good or that I would ever get better, but I determined at all events to give the pills a fair trial. I have used them for nearly a year with the result that I feel like a new person. The swelling in my eyelids and limbs has disappeared; my appetite is good and my face is regaining the color which left it years ago. I can sew and do work about my house, and this great change in my condition is due solely to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It is not too much to say that they have saved my life and I strongly urge girls who are similarly afflicted to give them a thorough trial."

FROM A. M. MCNINTCH.—I have not reported my work here for some two months. I may say the last two months have been busy ones and months that have brought with them sadness and gladness to us. I have stood twelve times at open graves and committed the mortal parts of our loved ones to the dust, which has brought sadness to many hearts. It has been our privilege also to bury in baptismal waters three converts which has brought gladness to our hearts. It has also been our joy to see about twenty-five backsliders repent and turn to God for pardon. One week ago to-day I was called to assist Bro. J. B. Magrill of Centerville to bury four in one day, one in the forenoon and three in the afternoon, all of whom were drowned, three in the S. S. Monticello and one at home. It was a sight such as I never saw before. Three caskets before us in the church at one time and about four hundred people in tears for we were all mourners indeed it was a gloom over the whole island. They were true men and did at their posts, every man did his duty until the ship went down and they were left to the mercy of the cruel waves. My God comfort the hearts of all the mourning friends in our prayer. Clarks Harbour, Nov. 21st, 1900.

"Proof of the Pudding Is in the Eating."

It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. Thousands of people give the proof by telling of remarkable cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Rheumatism, and other blood diseases. Scrofula Bunches—"An operation helped my son temporarily, for scrofula bunches on his neck, but Hood's Sarsaparilla cured." Mrs. Lewis A. Carpenter, 51 Wadsworth St., Hartford, Conn.

McFarlane was only sick a short time, his sufferings were intense, but he was very patient. He died very suddenly, the doctors were making ready to perform an operation, and he said I am getting faint and then without speaking again, he passed peacefully away to the better land. Our deceased brother was a member of the Free Baptist church at Lutz Mountain. He was a good man. His funeral was conducted by the writer. GIDEON SWIM.

MONCTON.—The members of our church and congregation held a reception in the Free Baptist Parsonage, Moncton, on the 16th inst., for the purpose of extending a welcome to the new pastor and family. A large number were present. We spent a very pleasant evening together. It was an enjoyable time. The ladies provided refreshments, and after the good things had been passed around, Mr. D. W. Kierstead, Clerk of the church read an address of welcome, the psalms or replied in a few well chosen remarks, and in behalf of Mrs. Swim expressed heartfelt thanks to the kind people for the very cordial welcome we have received since coming. After singing God be with you till we meet again, and prayer by Mr. Swim, the company dispersed to their homes.

SOUTH AFRICA NOTES: The Canadian Artillery and mounted rifles still in South Africa have been in the thick of heavy fighting lately, and have fully sustained the Canadian reputation for good fighting. A Quebec despatch says Mrs. A. Hunter-Ogilvie received a cable Thursday from her husband, Major Ogilvie, commanding "E" Battery, R. C. A., saying that the battery will leave Cape Town for Halifax on December 1. By the falling of his horse, a few days ago, Lord Roberts was slightly hurt, but was soon about his duties again. Col. Biggar cables from Cape Town that if the Dominion Government wants any of the guns captured from the Boers that now is the time to apply for them. Some of the Canadian cities, including Ottawa, have been expressing a desire to have them as souvenirs of the war. Twenty-five Victoria Crosses have been awarded so far in the South African war. Eight have been given to captains, three to lieutenants, including the one given to Lady Roberts by proxy for her dead son, four to sergeants, four to corporals, two to majors, and one each to a gunner, a driver, a trooper and a private infantryman. The Boers show much activity in breaking railways and blowing up bridges. Lord Kitchener is likely to deal with the Boers more strictly than Lord Roberts has done. The latter pursued a magnanimous course all through the piece, which, however, the Boers failed to appreciate. They need another kind of treatment. If any Boer guns are to come to Canadian cities, Fredericton may fairly claim one, having sent as large a quota of its sons to South Africa in proportion to population, as any place in Canada.

Urging them to hold out till Dec. 10, he encouraged them by telling them that at that date all the British were going home." He added that the British had the permission of Russia to fight for a year only; Queen Victoria was in Cape Town, whither she had fled to escape the Chinese, who had captured half of England; General Botha had driven the British out of the Transvaal and had taken Pretoria; D. W. was fighting in Cape Colony, burning farms, and Lord Roberts, wounded by three bullets, had been taken to Heidelberg and had been buried there beneath the town hall.
