There is no such a thing. Scott's Emulsion comes the nearest to it, but even that will not cure advanced cases, but taken in time it will cure this disease.

Literary Notes

In the Review of Views for January "Our Interests in China—A Question of the Hour," sets forth the responsibilities, and the opportunities of the United States as a Pacific power.

Jack London writes in the Review of Reviews for January on "The Economics of the Klondike," forecasting, in a measure, the material progress of that wonderful region under natural conditions of development.

The narrative of Capt. Joshua Slocum's single-handed circumnavigation of the globe has proved a popular feature of the Century. In the January number, the Yankee sailor tells of his arrival at Cape Town and visit to the South African Republic, where he was accorded an interview with President Kruger. Everything went smoothly till Cape Slocum introduced Judge B. years, referred to his voyage "around" the world. "You don't mean round the world," exclaimed their host. "It is impossible. You mean in the world." This flat contradiction of an "outlander" neryness ended the interview.

The Methodist Magazine and Review for January begins its fifty-first volume with a not-worthy number. The initial paper of St. John Bourin t, one of a series on the "Progress of Canada During the Queen's Regency," strikes a philosophic and patriotic note. This series will be of great interest and importance. It is well illustrated. There is, also, a well illustrated article on "Picturesque Spain," and one on "W. L. G. Wigh, the Hero of Scottish History." The Progress of Canadian Methodism During the Century," has several excellent portraits. Dr. Lister, of Halifax, writes on "Cromwell and his New State." A vivid sketch and portrait are given of Cecil Rhodes, the founder of Rhodesia. The progress of the war is vividly presented, with maps and illustrations. News of the war and December numbers given free to new subscribers. Toronto: William Briggs.

The Religious Review of Review

The Evangelical Publishing Co., of Chicago have issued "Best Hymns No. 2." The new idea part of it is that the book contains portraits and brief sketches of eighteen of the modern best known religious song writers, whose music is sung in about all the churches and Sunday Schools in the land. It will add interest to the book. The selections seem to be good, and the book is bound in Manilla covers, limp cloth and boards, 15, 20 and 25 cents each respectively. Evangelical Publishing Co., 602 Lakeside Building, Chicago.

IN NEW YORK.—The N. Y. Observer gives cheering accounts of religious revival among the Presbyterian churches in New York. Special meetings have been held in many of the churches. These have been going on for about a month, and already results are visible. Not since the grand revivals of 1857 have such scenes been witnessed as have occurred in some of the after-meetings held. "Many Christians have confessed their sins and asked for prayer." Men of wealth and influence have risen, and with tears upon their faces have surrendered themselves and their powers and their possessions to Jesus Christ. "Young men have decided to serve God instead of pleasure and self, and whole classes in Sunday Schools have consented to be real Christians. We trust the movement will extend so as to embrace the whole continent.

The Crow of Croup.

It strikes terror to a mother's heart to have her child wake up at night with a croupy cough. Child can scarcely speak, can hardly breathe—seems to be choking. There is no time for delay—apply hot poultices to the throat and upper part of the chest, and give Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup—nothing like it for giving prompt relief—will save a child when nothing else will. Mrs. Wm. Young, Frome, Ont., says: "One year ago our little boy had a severe attack of inflammation of the lungs and croup, which left a bad wheeze in his chest. We were advised to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which we did, and it cured him completely. Now we always keep this remedy in the house, as it excels all others for the severest kinds of coughs or colds."

THE AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS

THE "NECESSARY" MAGAZINE

The best-informed men and women in the world use the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS to keep well informed, and call it the "necessary" and "indispensable" magazine. In the busy rush of to-day ambitious men and women must know about the important questions of the month, and not only this, they want to know about them at the right time. When the whole country is puzzled over the gigantic combination of trusts, a well-informed article is printed in the AMERICAN MONTHLY, giving the facts, and its editor discusses the theory; when the Dreyfus affair is in everyone's mouth, the best story of Dreyfus and the great case comes out in this magazine. Every month, in "The Progress of the World," Dr. Albert Shaw gives a comprehensive picture of the world's history during the previous thirty days. In the departments, the valuable articles and books that have been published during the past month are reviewed and quoted from, so that the readers of the AMERICAN MONTHLY can get including the portraits of the men and women who are making the history of the month. To be thoroughly well informed helps any man or woman in his or her work. A subscription to the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS represents an investment for the best kind of profit, as well as entertainment. One subscriber has just written: "Count me a life subscriber, and when you send me a number beyond the limit of my subscription and secure no renewal from me, consider it a notice of my death." Price 25 cents per number, $2.50 a year. A sample copy will be sent on receipt of ten cents in stamps.
