News of the Week.

NEW BRUNSWICK

Martin Cogswell, charged with stabbing Alfred Poor, at Oromocto, on election night, was acquitted.

The only fire of any magnitude that ever occurred at the town of Marysville occurred on Monday of last week. In two hours upwards of $20,000 damage had been done, a grist mill and saw mill being destroyed and the hotel building with its contents being badly damaged. Insured partially. A workman at the mill attempted to fill a lamp while it was lighted, spilling some oil over the side of the lamp, which took fire and immediately the flames were communicated to the tank. An explosion ensued and in less than a minute the whole place was ablaze.

A few days ago the body of James Maher, a married man with a family of children, was found in his well at Barnaby River, Northumberland. He had been somewhat deranged.

The wire between Fredericton and Chatham has been strung, and the workmen are now stringing the return wire to Doaktown.

Sore Throat

and hoarseness with their attendant dangers may be speedily averted and remedied by the use of Nerviline. Excellent to gargle with—ten times better than a mustard plaster and more convenient for the outside, and speedily lays inflammation. Nerviline cures because it is five times stronger than other remedies—penetrates the tissues instantly, soothes the pain and cures simply because that's what it is made for. Druggists sell it.

LITERARY NOTES.

The Living Age for 1901. During the fifty-seven years of its existence this sterling weekly magazine has steadily maintained its high standard. It is a thoroughly satisfactory compilation of the most valuable literature of the day, and as such is unrivalled. As periodicals of all sorts continue to multiply, this magazine continues to increase in value; and it has become a necessity to the American reader. By its aid alone he can, with an economy of time, labor and money otherwise impracticable, keep well abreast with the literary and scientific progress of the age, and with the work of the ablest living writers. It is the most comprehensive of magazines, and the prospectus for 1901, which appears in another column, is well worth the attention of all who are selecting their reading matter for the new year. The Living Age Company, Boston, are the publishers. The offer to new subscribers is particularly inviting.

In the December Forum the question of "American Coal for England" receives consideration from Mr. George C. Lockett, an English coal owner of standing. Mr. Lockett's conclusion is that there is little hope of American coal obtaining a footing in England, and that it only obtain a temporary tenure in some of the Continental markets. He finds his conclusion on careful analyses of figures and reports supplied by ship-owners who have had opportunities of practically testing the merits of the coals of the two countries.

The Methodist Magazine and Review for December celebrates the closing number of the century by appearing in a new handsome illustrated cover, to be changed in design every month, with other marks of improvement promised for the new year. Much prominence is given to the World's Progress, and Current Events, religious and secular. A new serial is begun, and two Canadian Christmas stories are given. Among the announcements for the new year are several illustrated and other papers on Canadian subjects. Canadian stories will be numerous.

November and December numbers given free to new subscribers. Toronto: William Briggs. $2.00 a year; $1.00 for six months.

Among other important articles in the Missionary Review of the World for December we would call attention to the Round-Table conference on "Co-operation in Mission Work," and "The Causes of the Crisis in China." Other readable and timely papers are those on "The Zionist Congress in London," "Church Burning in China," and "In the Heart of Brazil." A full list of missionaries known to have been killed in China is given. The Editorials and Missionary Intelligence cover a wide range of topics and give the latest news from all parts of the mission field. Published monthly by Funk &

Wagnall's Co., 30 Lafayette Place, New York. $2.50 a year.

Rudyard Kipling's new novel, "Kim," will begin in the December issue of McCure's Magazine. This is a tale of life in India. The December number will have an account of the fall of Richmond and the flight of the Confederate Cabinet. This article is from the pen of the Secretary of the Navy in the Confederate Administration.

In the December Delicatore are two Christmas stories by well-known authors. One a negro story by Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the colored poet of William Dean Howells, entitled "One Christmas at Shiloh." It tells of the home-coming of a reformed negro, and is very touching. The other by Bessie Marie Dix, who has dated her story in Colonial times and entitled it "In the Rign of Ileggy." Kemble illustrates Dunbar's story with some of his famous negro folks and F. M. Arnold illustrates the Colonial story.

Among the denominations it is pretty generally known that the famous Fanny J. Crosby, wife of so many beautiful hymns, is totally blind; yet she is a woman of most cheerful spirit, and her hymns breathe joy and sunshine. J. Allen, St. John, has illustrated "The Angels' Song," which she wrote for the December Delineator.

The National Temperance Almanac and Ecototaler's Year Book for 1901, compiled by S. C. Dunn, D. D., is published by the National Temperance Society. While it contains as usual a calendar, it is a calendar with some unique features, as on each day of the year it notes some important historical event in the history of the reform or in the lives of some of its advocates, some text of Scripture, or pivotal word or utterance on Temperance. There are Various Statistical Tables of the Liquor Traffic; Government Cooperatives in the Traffic; Official Figures as to Army Saloons; Temperance in the British Army; Tobacco and Ogar Statistics; Drink and Crime and the Economic Question; Enactment and Repeal of Prohibitory Laws; Drink and the Labor Problem; Dispensary System; Rum Versus Religion; What It Cost, etc. The book is a pocket encyclopedia of facts and figures which every friend of temperance should possess. The price is 10 cents a copy. National Temperance Society and Publication House, 3 and 5 West 18th Street, New York City.

The Hall of Fame for great Americans, which has been given to New York University, and concerning which so much misinformation has got into the news paper press, is the subject of an authoritative article by Chancellor MacCacken in the November Review of Reviews. The whole scheme of selection of candidates announced by Valhalla is described in this article, a careful reading of which should remove many misconceptions. Portraits are presented to all the 29 famous Americans chosen on October 10-12 for commemoration in the Hall of Fame, and a view of the edifice itself is given.

EXTENDING THEIR QUARTERS.—The attendance at the St. John Business College surpasses by far that of all previous years, compelling Messrs. Kerr & Son to look for additional accommodations. This they have been fortunate enough to secure without leaving their present quarters in the Odd Fellow's Hall, in the rooms formerly occupied by the High School.

"CHRISTIAN COURAGE" (?)

"One Sunday morning," says the Rev. Harry B. White, "I was requested to teach the lesson to a class of convicts in the prison chapel. I consented. The subject of the lesson was 'Christian courage.' Scarcely had I opened the topic when a young prisoner raised his hand for permission to speak.

"Are you a Christian?" he asked.

"Yes," I replied, somewhat surprised by the abrupt question.

"You are a minister of the Gospel?"

"I am."

"And you have come down here to tell us the meaning of Christian courage," he continued, with a shade of irony. "Now, see here, most of us fellows have been brought to this place by strong drink. You look us up and let strong drink go free. You don't lock strong drink up and let us go free. And the reason you don't do it is because you have not the Christian courage!"

The young fellow told the truth—the terrible truth. Is it not about time we were locking the rum holes, and giving the boys a chance for freedom and honour? Oh, for release from the shackles of political partisanship, and the courage to do what we know to be right!

The Baptists have had their churches in Sweden for fifty years, under the auspices of the American Baptist Missionary Union, and have now 564 churches and 49,759 members, or one member in every 124 of the population. The churches are, however, poor, and the pastors usually have some other means of support than their ministry. The largest church is the First, of Stockholm, and has 1,456 members. The seminary at Stockholm is described as being an institution of high rank, but its forty students under four professors, hardly promise such an amount of training as to supply the need for ministers of 50,000 members.

GENERAL RELIGIOUS NEWS.

—Throughout the world the Salvation Army has 5,600 corps, or stations under the charge of more than 13,000 officers. In America there are 705 corps and 2,533 officers.

—Prince Oscar Bernadotte, second son of King Oscar, of Sweden and Norway, recently returned home from his tour of inquiry into the welfare of the Laplanders. To do a year he made this trip, accompanied by a clergyman of the Lutheran church, on an active religious propaganda within the arctic circle.

—A candle, a marked Bible, and other literature are furnished each cell in the New Jersey Penitentiary by the Endeavorers of Montclair. Sixty five convicts have signed the pledge as auxiliary members. One, about to sign, said: "I am here under an assumed name, but I can't sign a false name to a pledge to God." And down went the long-concealed name.

—An examination of the roll of those Presbyterian ministers who died last year shows the average age to have been between 66 and 67 years. Of that list of 141 names, 64 were over seventy years of age, 27 over eighty and two upwards of ninety. "With long life will I satisfy him and show him my salvation," says the Ancient of Days of him who has "known his name." And the royal preacher says to those who keep the commandments of wisdom, "Length of days, and long life and peace, shall they add unto thee."

—Mr. Robert Arthington, who is spoken of "as a man of great wealth, but very penurious and eccentric," recently died, leaving $150,000 to the English Baptist Missionary Society, to which he had previously given $150,000. He built and fitted up a steamer for missionary purposes on the upper Congo, and left $50,000 to the London Missionary Society for the prosecution of mission work among the Awamb tribes of Africa at Lake Tanganyika. He also left other large sums to beneficent institutions.

—The Christian Index furnishes some statistics of Baptist growth, from which we learn that in 1790 the Baptists of this country had 885 churches and 65,708 members; and in 1812, they had 2,433, churches and 189,345 members. At the present, the "regular" Baptist number about 37,000 churches, and 3,750,000 members while the "anti-missionary" and the "primitive" and all other Baptist associations number about about 7,000 churches and 350,000 members.

The chief business of the Christian Church is not to nurse itself, but to evangelize this world.—Dr. E. E. Hoss.

Why Scott's

EMULSION of Cod Liver Oil?

There are others; why SCOTT'S?

The good one is SCOTT'S. It's nearly 30 years old; it is used by intelligent people all over the world; and approved by physicians all over the world.

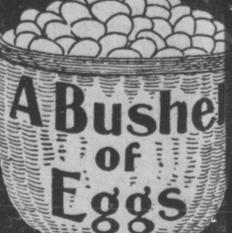

When anyone says "Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," he means SCOTT'S. No other is famous.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is made in a certain way; of certain things; it keeps; it is always alike; it does what it does.

The others—nobody knows what they are or do. There wouldn't be any others but for the goodness of SCOTT'S—there wouldn't be any counterfeit money but for the true.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other. If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto Soc. and $1.00; all druggists.

A Bushel of Eggs

In the fall and winter is worth a barrel in hot weather. There's a way that never fails to fetch egg when they're wanted, and that is to feed, once a day, in a warm mash.

Sheridan's CONDITION Powder

It helps the older hens, makes pullets early layers, makes glossy plumage on prize winners. If you can't get it we send one package, 25 cents; five, $1.25; can, $1.25; six, $5. Ex. paid. Sample poultry near town. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., BOSTON, MASS.

A Terrible Cough

If people would only treat coughs in time with Dr. Wood's No. 1 Pine Syrup, there would be fewer hospital cases. The severest coughs and colds, bronchitis and croup, and the first stages of consumption yield readily to this powerful, healing remedy. Read what Mrs. Thos. Carter, North Ont., says: "I caught a severe cold, which settled on my throat and lungs, so that I could scarcely speak above a whisper. I thought I would send me my favorite different remedies but all failed. I then tried Dr. Wood's No. 1 Pine Syrup, and the contents of the bottle completely cured me."
