GEOGRAPHICAL REVIEW.

It is always helpful to travel with Jesus over Palestine by means of a map, large or small. Follow his movemen's from the b ginning. S op at each place and call from the scholars the events and the teachings connected with it. Pins with heads of different colored sealing wax or with small fliers may represents the different persons, Jesus being the most promuent. The disciples may start from their differ. ent homes. John the Baptist, the Paarisees, and others may be repre sented. The scholars in turn can move them in their proper places at the proper t mes.

WORD PICTURE REVIEW.

A very interesting review can be made by means of word pictures or vivid descriptions of the various scenes in the lessons of the quarter, and the scholars can decide what lesson is referred to. Different persons may draw the picture, or scholars may be requested to write out the description and read it to a distinct picture.
