The late Dr. M. D. Hoge, of Richmond, Va, tells of two Ghristian men who fell out. One heard that the other was talking against him, and went to him, and said Will you be kind enough to tell me my faults to my face, that I may try to get rid of them? Yes, sir, eplied the other, I will do it. They went aside, and the former said Before you commence telling what us pray over it, that my eyes may be opened to se . my fauls as you will tell them? You lead in the prayer. It was done, and, when the prayer was over, the man who had sought the interview said : Now proceed with what you have to complain of in me. But the other replied : After praying over it it looks so I ttle that is is not worth talking about The truth is, I feel now that in going around talking against you I have been serving the devil myself, and hav need that you pray for me and forgive me the wrong I have done you, Dr. Hoge tells the story very well, and here and there in almost every community is a man or woman who might profit by it -Religious Herald.

What Repentance Is.

A gentleman once asked a Sunstorm or sunshine, wind, rain, or day school what was meant by the word repentance. A little boy rassed his hand.

> Well, what is it, my lad? Being sorty for your sins, was the nswer.

A little girl on the back stat raised her hand. Well, my little girl, what do you think ? asked the gentleman. I think, said the child, it's being sorry enough to quit. That is just where so many people fail. They are sorry enough at the time, but not sorry enough o This bulb isn't good for anything quit.-Unidentified.

"None but the sinners die under their own roof" is the prevailing belief among the Hindoos. The person who dies at home and on like a troubled sea, without shore Tuesday or Saturday, is believed to be surely possessed of an evil spirit. His ghost walks round the house, and frequents the places where he rested in his lifetime. Hence, the tainly not I! moment the physician has declared that there is no hope of life for the sick person, the friends hurry him away to the ghant on the bank of the river Ganges, where they lay him down in such a way that he may see and bow down to the sacred river In these ghants some rooms have been erected for the accommodation of the sick, and their friends because in some instances they linger a long time before death comes in which case they all remain there day and night. It is believed that between the edges of this world and the other there is a river to cross, by those who go from this. There are no boats at all. Each one must provide the means of crossing for himself. Hence, at the point of death or a little while before the departure body besmeared with ashes. His from this world, the traveller dedicates a cow, and a large quantity of raw rice, peas, butter, sugar and clothes to the gods. As a compensation the infernal spirit will provide him with a cow, which will carry him to the other side of the river, and the estable things will satisfy the spirit on its way. When am God." Such in short is a sample the men see the sick person breathing his last, they plunge his whole body, up to the neck in the river, their conditions are! Nothing but and shout. You can easily imagine the lights of the true religion can how soon the last remnant of life flies from the body under such treatment, and to add to the sufferings of the last hour, a man pinches very tightly the great toes of the sick, until he dies. They then erect a pile of wood which is nearly does everything by instrumentalisix feet long, three broad, and six high on which they lay the dead Work then if it be expedient, or body. A New Heart Needed.

Mere reformation of conduct is not sufficient to fit any one for Christ's kingdom. There must be a change of heart. Mr. Moody uses this homely illustration of the fact; A man buys a farm and he finds on that farm a pump. A person comes along and says: Look here, my friend, you don't want to use that water. The man who lived here before, he used that water, and children-the water did.

Is that so? says the man. Well I will soon make that right. I will pump, putties up all the holes, and You would say, What a fool to go and paint the pump when the trying to paint up the old pump

No alcohol or other intoxicant, no opium or other narcotic is contained in Golden Medical Discovery." It may pay a dealer better to self you a substitute which is less popular but more profitable than the "Discovery." It won't pay you to buy it, if you want a reliable remedy. For about one year and a half my face was very badly broken out," writes Miss Carrie Adams, of 116 West Main St., Battlecreek, Mich I spent a great deal of money with doctors and for different kinds of medicine, but received no benefit. At last I read one of your advertise ments in a paper, and obtained a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Before I had taken one bottle of this medicine I noticed a change, and after taking three bottles I was entirely cured. I can well recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to any one similarly afflicted."
