MINISTER'S CHILDREN.

The salaries of the clergy of the United States do not average $500 a year, and yet as a class they are the best educ ted, most active, refined, elevated of the nation. With less culture, with less character, with less mental power, there are men all over this land who earn from $1,600 to $5 000 a year. But look at the results. Taking them as they come, the I biographies of a hundred clergymen who have families show that of their sons 110 became ministers; and of the remainder of their sons by far the larger part rose to eminence as profes sional men, merchants, and scholars. As to their daughters, their names ere merged into others; but there is a significant fact, which we do not remember to have seen noticed in that connection, that not only here, but in England, where titles are so highly priz d, and the possession of gent's blood is a passport to high plac s, it is Turgeon of Quebec, are on a political very often referred to as a matter of tour through the French districts in abil ty.
