A PROPER TREATMENT FOR CATARRH,

reaches every effected part. Such a remedy is Catarrhazone, which is inhaled into all portions of the throat, lungs and nasal passages, where it kills the germs, and cures the disease. Catarrhazone is pleasant, safe, and absolutely sure to cure. It relieves the distressed feeling in the head, clears the throat and nostrils in one breath. Positive proof of cure is found in the words of Mr. Kirk, of Kingston, Ont., who says: "I suffered fifteen years from Catarrh of the nose and throat, used hundreds of remedies, consulted specialists, but was not permanently benefited. Having personally witnessed a cure of thirty years standing effected by Catarrhazone, I bought an outfit and used it for a month. It cured me and I am no more liable to Catarrh than if I never had it." This is most convincing testimony from one of Kingston's best known and most highly respected business men. It proves beyond question that Catarrhazone absolutely cures Catarrh. It never fails; never harms; guaranteed to cure. Price $1.00; small size 25 cents. DYNAMITE FISHING.

A Nova Scotia gentleman, whose business brings him into close contact with the fishermen on the other side of the bay, says that it is only a matter of a short time till there will be no fish caught in the Bay of Fundy if things are allowed to go on as they are going at present. According to his statement, the Grand Manan fishermen have been for a long time using dynamite in the destruction of fish. Vessels from that locality have been taking fish over to the other side of the bay and under-selling the people there. The Brier Island people, according to this gentleman, have put up with this sort of business until they have tired of it, and now they have determined to use dynamite too. An experiment, the Sun's informant says, was made at Westport the other night. A cartridge was thrown into the water, and as a result of the explosion three pollock floated to the surface. When the tide receded the fishermen gathered in about three thousand pollock. They were killed and sank to the bottom. If this be true, what must happen when explosives are used in deep water. The gentleman referred to says steps should be taken to put a stop to the employment of dynamite by fishermen.—The Sun.

A GOVERNOR'S OPINION OF MISSIONS.

A recent number of The Regions Beyond says: "It is refreshing to turn from the insinuation, so frequent of late in the public utterances of those high in authority, that native Christians and their missionaries are a danger to the civil power, to the frank testimony in favor of missions recently given by the Lieutenant-Governor of New Guinea. 'He ventured to say that the Government owed everything to the Missions—that were it not for the little white-washed houses along the coast where the missionaries lived, the administration would have to be doubled, perhaps quadrupled. Every penny spent by the missionaries saved pounds to the Administration, for the missions brought peace, law and order. The missionaries helped the Government, and the Government was proud to reciprocate the aid.'"

MINISTERS' CHILDREN.—The old story about "bad" ministers' children has often passed from mouth to mouth. But the Christian Observer gives the record of one ministers' family which gives evidence in just the opposite direction. In this ministers' family there are six sons and one daughter. The father is a pastor in North Carolina. The eldest son, who is a teacher, has just been ordained an elder in the Presbyterian church. The second son is the pastor of a Presbyterian church in Kentucky. The third is a physician, and a member of the Presbyterian church. The fourth son is the pastor of a Presbyterian church in Texas. The only daughter is the wife of a Presbyterian elder. The fifth son, a surveyor, is a member of the Presbyterian church. The youngest boy, now a college student, has just announced his intention of studying for the ministry of the Presbyterian church.

CANADIAN FLOUR.—Says the Canadian Grocer: "The British Admiralty has decided to use Manitoba flour in the navy. This has been decided on after a series of experiments, which have been carried on for some time, with a view to ascertaining what flours were best suited for that arm of the British service. In future all flour used by the navy will be purchased by brokers and manufactured into sea biscuits for the use of ships and for storing in fortresses and depots. This announcement will be received with general satisfaction by Canadian millers, as it will mean a large increase in the export of our high class flour to Great Britain and the British possessions."

PICTURES BY TELEGRAPH.—A halftone picture of President Ha per of Chicago University was recently sent by telegraph from New York to Chicago. The machinery for the experiment consisted of two machines resembling phonographs. One in the index of the New York machine was placed a half-tone of Dr. Harper, while a sheet of specially prepared paper was wrapped around the corresponding cylinder of the machine at the Quadrangle cub. Chicago. The two cylinders were made to revolve at exactly the same rate of speed. A needle passing over the cut in New York, by alternately connecting and breaking an electric current, controlled another point on the Chicago instrument, which traced in ink upon the paper the precise lines of the cut.
