BATH, C. Co.—At the close of the revival meetings held in this place by the pastor, Rev. M. L. Gregg, the people held a birthday party in his behalf. It was held in Phillips' Hall, which was crowded, all denominations in the place being well represented, showing how well the pastor's services are appreciated by this community as well as in the adjoining places. During the evening we were entertained with music by the choir, tea, coffee and rings of cake were served by the ladies, who did thenselves great credit for the ample preparation they made. At the close of the meeting Mr. Gregg gave us a very pleasing address, which ing. Mr. Meade briefly summarizes all enjoyed. The receipts of the evening were $58.10. We can say of bro. Gregg, that the Lord has sent the right man to us. The church had been without a pastor, and was low when he came. When special meetings were begun, notwithstanding the bad roads, there was a good congregation; when the roads were better the church was more than full every night; the interest was good till the last. Many souls were born into the kingdom, and backsliders were reclaimed who are now zealous in the work for the
