MILBURY .-- A ful'er reference to Mr. Seth Milbury, whose death was recorded last week, has reached us, from which we make the following extracts: -Mr. Milbury had been in feeble health for years, but the end was sudden and unexpected; his mind, however, was preserved in all its vigor to the last day of his life. He was born in Wicklow nearly seventy-six years ago, and was the son of Nathan and Margery Squires Milbury. He married Hannah, daughter of Murphy and Lydia Stickney Giberson, another loyalist family; Mrs. Milbury's grandfather Giberson having been born in New Jersey and, an officer of dragoons in the English Army during the Revolutionary War. Mr. Milbury was a man of public spirit and was always found actively at work for any cause that appeared to him to be for the public weal. Temperance, the public schools system, Canadian federation and all things promotive of the public welfare found in him a warm advocate. He was a man of piety, a member of the church for nearly fifty years, and active and generous in church work. He was conscious till his last breath and his parting words, after leaving love for all his family and relatives and friends, were: "All is bright ahead," and a reference to his blessed Saviour." The funeral sermon was preached by his pastor the Rev. W. C. P. Rhoades, from the texts "For me to die is gain" and "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord.' Mr. Milbury is got a dead sure thing. All druggists survived by his wife, four sons, Arthur sell it, or by mail post paid on receipt of twenty five cents. N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

SANITY TESTED.

Rev. John F. Hill in "Presbyterian Banner' takes the following incident from aNew York paper and adds asug gestive comment:

"A gentleman was once being taken over an idiot asylum. He asked an attendant how they knew when an idiot was considered to be sufficiently restored to sanity to be discharged.

"Oh," said the attendant, "it is easily managed. We take them into a yard where there are several troughs.

We turn on the taps and give idiots buckets to bail out the water and empty the troughs. Many of them keep bailing away while the tap keeps running, but them that isn't idiots stops the tap."

This little story, though by no means a new one, may have proven amusing to the readers, and all will agree that the asylum should not discharge an inmate who failed upon this furny test.

But are all the people in asylums for the insane or imbecile who "keep bailing away," hoping to empty the trough without stopping the inflow? Is not this precisely what we do when through our state and municipal governments, we make desperate struggles for the abatement of the floods of crime and pauperism, and yet neglect to close the saloon, which is the acknowledged source of the greater part of those awful streams? A city missionary, addressing the Presbyterian Social Union of Philadelphia, on the "Slum Problem" in large cities, when asked what connection the saloon had with the slums, replied, "Remove the saloon from the slums and you will have no slums."
