Beulah Camp Meeting.

The Camp Meeting just closed was in several respects the best held for years. Rev. C. W. Ruth the evangelist was universally liked. He held to his bible in his preaching on all occasions, doctainally he was sound to the core, being perfectly free from al side issues, and holding firmly to the word of life. Brother Ruth differs from many other evangelists in that he employs but few anecdotes in his preaching, but he uses much of the word of God, and in another way he differs from some evangelists, he went through the entire meeting without giving the people a severe thrashing such as we have suffered on several occasions when things did not move as the evangelist thought they should. Brother Ruth is definite, forceful, clear, and scriptural in his preaching and Bible readings, his illustrations at times border on the humorous. The work accomplished was good, many people left a burden

"Everything hinges on our relationship the kingdom."

Dedicated to the memory of Ida May Titus, who went to Heaven July 15,

Soft and gentle as the wind, That comes to us as evening breeze, So did she live; good, true and kind, And fondest memory of her lives.

She lived and loved, and loved to live, And sought to live for things above, Nothing she held too good to give, But yielded all in perfect love. ·

She lived for God, and loved her home, And always made its circle bright. Her sorrowing loved ones miss the tone, That sang and talked of heaven's light.

Now she sings in regions bright, Life's toils, and heartaches are no more, She lives and shouts in heaven's light, And tells love's story o'er and o'er.

Her love feasts now renewed in heaven, Are sweeter than earth's worship knows. Brighter views to her are given, Joys deeper than on earth e'er flows.

Now she sings triumphant praise, With heart renewed and vigor strong, Just as angelic voices raise; So swells she too the victor's song.

So may we live as Mamie lived, She lived for God and all that's best, She had the richest God could give, And now enjoys eternal rest.
