We have copied a letter which appeared in , the Montreal Gazette, from the pen of some tourist who has recently visited this country, and whose remarks are both shrewd and correct. But he need not have come here to have been enabled to form an opinion upon the subject; of its business; and altho' there are at least six-ty shops in the front street alone, yet we believe the number of business advertisements that have the number of business appeared in the Sentinel since June, amounts to

Of the former it is unnecessary now to speak; but with reference to the latter practice, against which the law in England is express and severe, we look upon it as far more injurious to this com-CHANDLERY, EARTHENWARE, munity than is general supposed. It induces a number of persons from about Sheffield and Maquapit Lakes to proceed to St. John with their produce, rather than hawk it about the streets of Fredericton, and take in exchange articles which they frequently do not want. Were market days established, a building

Were market days established, a building for the reception of country produce placed in some central part of the town : and persons pro-hibited from purchasing or selling elsewhere; and the law in these respects rigidly enforced, the result would be highly satisfactory, and the placed in So if you find fault, I hope J Fredericton, Oct. 17, 1840, merchant himself would gain by the alteration.

At present Fredericton is the dearest place in North America; and nothing can have a great-er tendency to depress trade, and prevent the advancement of a country than the high prices of the necessaries of life. Nor does the persons who dispose of them, derive any advantage from exhorbitant prices, as they have to pay at an advanced rate for whatever articles they require. And thus it is that a farmer generally finds he is no better off at the end of a year, when he has obtained great prices, than when he has disposed of the produce of his in-
