It is but fair to add, that where we have been,

with rare exception, the people are satisfied with the Executive and Representative Government of the Province; the road appropriations are very generally diffusing benefit to the community; and we met with no complaint unless of a local nature, except where they make themare very generally diffusing to the sum of a local nature, except where they make themselves unhappy by taking the St. John Chronicle, and selling and drinking rum. We saw a man half-drunk at Gagetown last summer, who had transferred an article from that print to his brain, and who was drawlingly abusing Lord Glenelg's Picture! ST. JOHN June 17. OUR STAPLE COMMODITY .- Timber, in all its varied shapes, is now a mere drug in our market. The Lumberer who has left his home in search of golden gains in the lumber woods, will find himself most woefully disappointed this season. Ships are low, timber much lower, and deals the lowest of all. There are two circumstances that mainly contribute to produce this depression in trade. The first, the fluctuating state of monetary affairs both in Britain and the Colonies,—and secondly, the circumstance of most of our largest timber-ships having gone to the Southward for Cotton freights. In a new country like this, where all are beginning the world, it is quite natural that the settler should fly to the manufacture of such articles as promises the ready penny. But in this politic? Is it wise to do so? we think not. The settler in this country cannot so thoroughly consult the happiness and wealth of himself and rising progeny, as by sticking to agricultural pursuits. The culture of the soil knows no fluctuation. It is a Bank which discounts liberally, and with certainty, and altho' there may be solitary in-stances where the lumberman by a lucky stroke may have succeeded more rapidly than the agriculturist, yet it is a truism not to be gainsaid that twenty agriculturists have realized for themselves and families a permanent and comfortable home, for one whose occupation has been wood-hewing.

The truth of this axiom is to be found in the present price of Agricultural produce, as follows :- Hay £5 per ton; Potatoes 3s. per bushel; Butter 1s. 2d. per lb.; Beef, Mutton, Pork & Veal, average 5d. per lb; Land 3s per acre. -Manure for carrying away, and neither Tax Tythe, Rate, nor Rent .- Who would not turn farmer .- Herald.

Coroner's Inquest .- On Saturday last, an inquest was held on the body of a private soldier of the 69th Regt. who was drowned at the back shore on the night of Friday last. It appeared in evidence, that he had not returned to his quarters at the usual hour, when two soldiers were despatched in search of him. The solar articles, which are all of the best quality, and diers went to the back shore at the extremity of will be disposed of at his usual low rates. Morris-street, where they saw the deceased in conversation with a woman, and very much intoxicated. On the deceased discovering the soldiers who sought him, he started and ran for the water, and plunged in, observing to the man who followed, that if they wanted him, they should have a swim for it. He was in the water near half an hour, when he returned towards the shore, he swam until within a few rods of the beach and suddenly disappeared .-The soldiers who waited his landing, went immediately to the barracks and obtained assistance—the body after some search was found, and taken to the hospital, where the Coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death by drowning. The man bore an excellent character, and is much lamented by his comrades .-The untimely death of this unfortunate young man, may be attributed to the inducements held out by the keepers of disorderly houses in that quarter of the city. It would be well if no licences were granted to such characters, and in such districts, as they only tend to demoralize
