Canadien - Bruin Type Of Hockey Pleases The Crowd

National League Teams Show Their Wares in City of Saint John.

The professional hockey game in Saint John with the Montreal Canadiens and the Boston Bruins ended with the Bruins on the long end of the score which read, after sixty minutes of fast and furious hockey, 2-1. Six thousand fans witnessed this game and it was packed as full of thrills as the rink was with people. Some of the highlights of the game were: Eddie Shore showed the reason why he is one of the highest paid players in the National Hockey League, and with his wonderful defensive playing and several of his well known rushes he put some real pep into his plays. Archie Sands also showed just what a hockey player can do when he is in the pink of condition, and the way that he could skate from one place to another and cover the puck was remarkable, with Shore and Wilcox on defence it was almost impossible to get by that combination while the Canadiens had to depend mostly on long shots except for Joliet, who put on the steam in the third frame and notched a score with one of the usual Joliet rushes and masterful stick handling to come from behind the Boston net and poke the puck in to make the red light flicker.

Lepine, forward for the Canadiens, was right there with the speed and clever stick handling, while he shared the limelight with Laroche, Portland and Crutchfield, newcomers with the Canadiens this year, who showed up well. Joe Lamb, the New Brunswick present to the Canadiens, did some very clever work and also mixed it up a bit with the Boston defence. Pusie, of the Boston defence seemed to be on the outs with the fans, while one was heard to exclaim while he was on one of his rushes to the other end of the rink, "Pusie, come back to your saucer and finish your milk."

A little excitement in the third period was caused when Johnny Gagnon and Nels Crutchfield mixed it up on the defence and then Pusie came in with his fists swinging for Crutchfield. However, this was stopped after it looked like a free for all and the game was suspended for a few minutes to clean the ice as some excitable fans started to throw several articles on the ice.

The goalies were sensational and made some wonderful saves and the small score was partly due to their work. They took shots as coolly as if they were handed a piece of candy.

Referees J. H. Drummie and Jackie Keating were the referees.

FANNING FOR THE FANS

By LLOYD M. YOUNG

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEW Brunswick won the provincial intercollegiate rugby title and the right to take part in further playdowns of the Maritimes by defeating Mount Allison in the third game of the play-off, by a score of 5-3. These teams had previously played two tie games, making U.N.B. favorites to win the Eastern Canada title.

TINY THOMPSON, FAMED net guardian of the Boston Bruins, was born in Elmsdale, N.S., a short distance from Halifax and he along with Joe Lamb, of Sussex, were the Maritimes' contribution to the professional games being played in the Maritimes at the present time.

THE ST. FRANCIS XAVIER English rugby football team were declared Nova Scotia intercollegiate champions and now have the right to meet the University of New Brunswick for the Maritime title on November 3 in a sudden death game either in Sackville or in Fredericton.

SIX THOUSAND FANS WITNESSED the Bruins-Canadiens game held in the Saint John Forum this week and the no smoking rule was adopted and put into use. This gives both players and non-smokers a break.

THE MARITIME HOCKEY League, "Big Four," will open on November 7, a couple of weeks earlier than last year, and will give each team twenty-one home games.

THE SAINT JOHN BEAVERS, under the direction of their coach, Clint Benedict, are working out at the Forum preparatory to the opening game next Wednesday night.

ALTHOUGH THE BASEBALL SEASON FOR 1934 is a thing of the past and the paraphernalia of the major league clubs placed away until the spring of 1935 the doings of the magnates continue to hold the interest of fans. News that Tom Yawkey, owner of the Boston Red Sox, had purchased Joe Cronin, manager and sensational shortstop of the Washington Senators, was one of the biggest surprises sprung in balldom since Connie Mack disposed of Lefty Grove and other stars during the annual meeting last year. The Red Sox owner is evidently determined to produce a winner and is willing to spend a fortune to realize that ambition. This is "all to the good" as far as Saint John and provincial fans are concerned, for they are all pulling for the Boston team to come through. General Manager Eddie Collins is well known throughout the province; Tom Daly, a former Saint John boy, is associated with the team, along with Art. Graham, who played on the local team in the Twilight League. In addition, there are scores of former Saint John people residing in "The Hub" and all tend to bring Boston a little closer to the hearts of "down eastern" fans. The sale of Cronin brings up the question as to what Clark Griffiths intends doing to replace him. Has he an eye on Babe Ruth to fill that role? It would not be surprising for the former "king of swat" would still prove a big attraction providing that he occasionally appeared in the line-up. The owners of the Yankees have a high regard for Ruth and there is no doubt they would be glad to see him land a lucrative managerial berth.

ALONG WITH THE REPORT OF THE SALE OF JOE CRONIN to the Boston Red Sox comes other items of interest to fans. Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Chicago White Sox, is out with a denial that he has any intention of trading Al Simmons, slugging outfielder. According to Jimmy he is looking for a couple of likely players to work in with Simmons. He is confident that Al will stage a real hitting comeback next season.—Ray Schalk, former Chicago White Sox star catcher, has signed for another year as manager of Buffalo, in the International League.—Hank Greenberg, first baseman of the Detroit Tigers, has signed with the Brooklyn Jewels of the American Professional Basketball League. According to a report he will be well remunerated for his services.

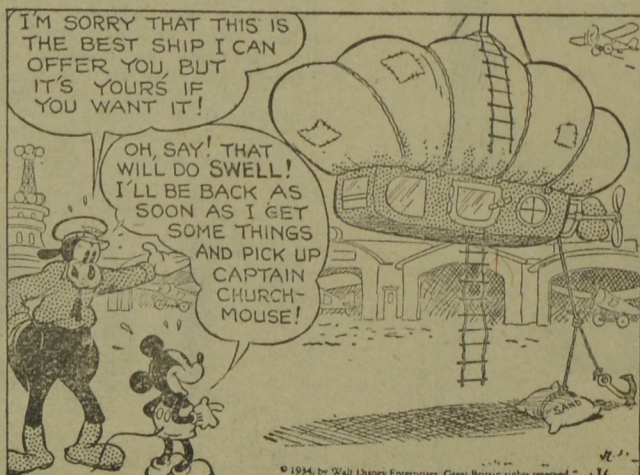

LITTLE JACK SHARKEY, ONCE A REAL CONTENDER FOR the bantamweight title, is threatened with blindness according to reports from New York. Followers of the ring will recall some of his great battles, particularly those with Joe Lynch, former champion. Jack has already lost the sight of his right eye and his left is very weak. Blindness is one of the terrors of all pugilists. The battering they are subjected to, cuts and infections all tend to affect the optic nerves and blindness is inevitable. Sharkey was credited with winning purses aggregating over $200,000 during his ten years in the ring. During the height of his career this great bantamweight was in Saint John en route from England to his home in New York. At that time he told the writer he was fully confident of clinching the title when he met Lynch in the old Madison Square Garden.

THE THRONG THAT PACKED THE FORUM LAST MONDAY evening gave an indication of the interest manifested locally in hockey. In fact the enthusiasm was so great that it was hard to realize that it was merely an exhibition game with nothing at stake but a test of strength after a preliminary course of training. The Canadiens, due to establishing their training quarters here, were the favorites, although the Boston Bruins had quite a following. As a result the enthusiasm "pepped up" the players and the majority of them turned in a mighty fine brand of hockey. The Canadiens, prior to their departure, spoke in glowing terms of the reception they received in Saint John and the splendid sheet of ice and skating surface afforded in The Forum. There is little doubt that they or some other major league organization will be here next year for training purposes. The visit of the Canadiens has been a great boon to hockey and in addition has given the city some worth-while advertising.

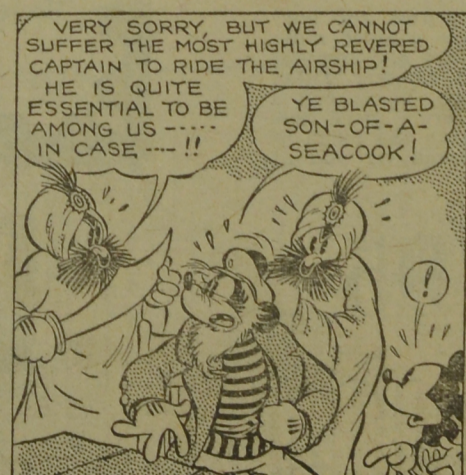

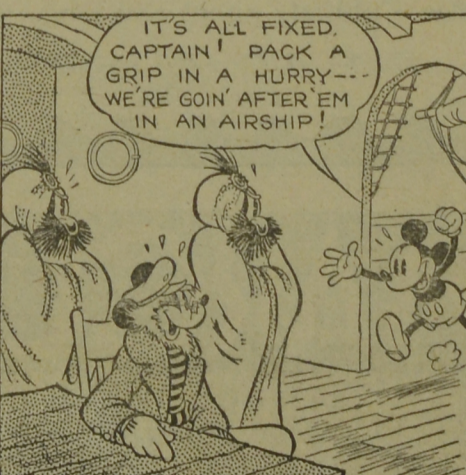

PRIMO CARNERA, FORMER HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION OF the world, is apparently confident that he can "take Maxie Baer through" if ever they meet again in the roped arena. Prior to his recent departure for South America he did not hesitate to give his version of the bout in which he lost his title. He considers Baer was lucky. Those who saw the fight pictures cannot help thinking that Baer's luck was all clustered in his right hand encased in dynmaite. It is likely this pair will meet again.
