Five Spirits of Rhythm

The newest aggregation of unorthodox musicians to be corralled by Columbia is the "FIVE SPIRITS OF RHYTHM." Part of the unorthodoxy consists, as shown, in the use of the suitcase and whisk brooms as amployed by the young man second from the right. The two instruments at the upper left look like, but are not, ukeleles—they're called "tipples." The Five are now heard on the "Harlem Serenade" Tuesdays at 11.45 p.m., A.S.T., and Thursdays at 12.15 a.m., A.S.T.

Free Theatre Tickets

In different places in this issue of "The Maritime Broadcaster" will be found the names of five persons, residents of Saint John. For each of these five there are two tickets for the Capitol Theatre. All that is necessary is for the persons named to come to the office of "The Maritime Broadcaster" 22 Canterbury Street, with the issue of "The Maritime Broadcaster," containing their names and claim the tickets.

This service will be offered each week for a limited time. New names will appear in each issue of "The Maritime Broadcaster." Look for your name. Five will be published each week. Buy "The Broadcaster" each week, it is on sale every Thursday in Saint John, and look for your name. It may appear any time.
