Twentieth Century Has Made Progress in New Brunswick

The New Brunswick Twentieth Century is faced with the difficulty, that instead of having large centres in which to form cohesive bodies, there are numerous small centres. In the larger centres, it is relatively simple to garner strength.

A model in combined county and city organization was instituted in the federal constituency of York-Sunbury, with the city of Fredericton acting as the nucleus and focal point. In the last provincial and federal elections, the York-Sunbury Twentieth Century conducted their own unhampered campaign in support of the Liberal candidates. They trained and developed their own speakers and arranged numerous campaign meetings, which they conducted themselves with their own speakers. Subsequently, in conjunction, they also supplied speakers to accompany candidates. In addition, they organized their own county local bodies.

Outstanding among the more active bodies were also Saint John, Woodstock and Dalhousie. The Twentieth Century in New Brunswick has the distinction of having put its president, Walter W. V. Foster, who is only 27 years of age, in the field in the Provincial election. He was subsequently elected to become the youngest member of the Legislature. Likewise, the president of the Campbellton Twentieth Century, H. Francis Bridges, is the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly.

The New Brunswick Twentieth Century has as one of its objectives, the securing of a political cohesiveness of young men and the placing of more young men in the political field as workers and candidates.

Provincial Officers
Hon. president, A. A. Dysart; president, Walter W. V. Foster, M.P.P., Saint John; first vice-presidents, H. W. Sutherland, Fredericton, Mabel Scully, Saint John; corresponding secretary, Ralph J. Broderick, Saint John; press secretary, Donald C. Duffie, Fredericton; recording secretary, W. W. McLellan, Fredericton; regional vice-presidents, Frank B. Osborne, Fredericton, Edmund W. George, Westmorland, Fred S. Bridge, Saint John-Albert, H. F. G. Bridges, M.P.P., Restigouche-Madawaska, Ray Hall, Carleton-Victoria, Thomas Troy, Northumberland-Gloucester, Miss Grace McIntyre, Royal, Miss Mary Dysart, Kent, William O'Neill, Charlotte; committee chairmen—organization, Reginald Keirstead, Saint John; policy, Donald Harper, Sackville; finance, Frank Stackhouse, West Saint John; resolution, Miss D. Johnson, Port Elgin; publicity, Ralph J. Broderick, Saint John; education, J. Harold Chown, Saint John.

Suppose that every Tom, Dick and Harry in the land took it upon himself to put his or her own interpretation on any other law as too many are inclined to do in respect to the traffic laws! Supposing every Tom, Dick and Harry said, for instance, that the law against theft did not apply to a particular store or individual. We all know that anarchy would be the result.

And that is just what is happening in too many cases anent the traffic laws. There are too many self-constituted judges amongst motorists and pedestrians as to what they mean and what they do not mean whereas their meaning is crystal clear. They mean just what they say. Stop when you are told to; go when the way is clear; avoid excessive speed, be personally fit to drive, etc.

They mean to the pedestrian to obey all safety signs, also, to avoid jay walking, not to try and save a minute or so by going against a signal; not to figure you can "beat" that car out for too often you can't.

Motorist, drivers of horse vehicles, cyclists, pedestrians, obey the traffic laws as you do the other laws of the land. IT IS THE ONLY MEANS TO ENSURE SAFETY ON OUR STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

Reaching the Human mind is a problem—the centre line is the nearest control—stay on your side of the road.
