Lifty Years Ago in New Brunswick

By GEORGE I. HIGGINS

LOCH LOMOND

Loch Lomond, Saint John County, N.B., a favorite summer resort on a lake of the same name, 11 miles from Saint John. The scenery is very fine _a magnificent view is to be had from the top of Ben "Lomond." There are three lakes in the Loch Lomond chain, and numerous other lakes and streams nearby, in all of which trout of large size abound. Woodcock, partridge, snipe and duck are plentiful, and firstclass board at reasonable rates may be obtained. A railway is projected from Saint John, to connect with the St. Martins and Upham Railway at Barnesville, which, if built, will add very much to the attractiveness of this resort.

"Tally" Winners

The First Prize Winning Sentence in the First Tally Contest: "Millidgeville Thoroughly Photographs Unemployment Manufacturers"—sent in by Miss E. M. Northrup, 64 Elliott Row, Saint John, with a total Tally of 1046.3. Other Winners, in order, were:

William Campbell, 195 Market Place, West Saint John.

Miss Donalda Briggs, 346 Douglas Avenue, Saint John.

Miss Grace I. Campbell, West Saint John. Mrs. Charles Currier, Haymarket

Square, Saint John. Miss Marjorie Atkinson, Fredericton Junction, N.B. Alfred E. Thompson, Chance Harbour, N.B. Mrs. Clyde Robbins, Yarmouth,

The many hundreds of answers received testify to the popularity of this Contest. There, however, appears to be quite some difficulty in the minds of contestants in determining the manufacturer's bonus. This bonus only applies to advertisers who are recognized Maritime manufacturers of commodities in the generally accepted term of "manufacturer." Additions have been inserted in the Rules governing the Contest to clear up other questions which have been raised. Read the Rules carefully before filling in your coupon.

SIMPLE! FASCINATING! YOU WILL ENJOY IT!

Make up a sentence of not more than five words using words that are to be found in advertisements in this paper. The words must be English words to be found in the dictionary. Proper names, hyphenated words and coined words are not eligible. The sentence must make sense as a proper sentence. For instance, to say "Maritime pickles are always superiority" would be disqualified as not being properly constructed. If instead of the word "superiority" the word "superior" was used it would be a proper sentence, or such a word even as "bituminous" would be a complete sentence. While the latter word would make the sentence rather ridiculous it would nevertheless be termed a complete or proper sentence. The sentence may be as ridiculous as you like to make it so long as it is a proper sentence. Below you will find a chart giving the value of each letter in the alphabet.

Contestants will use the blank chart below in filling in their answers; putting in the name of the advertiser from whose advertisement the word is taken and place the letters contained in the words in the squares, and the total tally in the last column. The object being to pick out words that will make a correct sentence whose letter values will total the highest score. Words taken from advertisements of Maritime manufacturers will carry a 15% bonus value.

Send your answers to TALLY, Maritime Broadcaster, 22 Canterbury Street, Saint John, N. B. Answers to this week's Tally must be in this office not later than Friday, April 17th, 1936. Decision of the judges must be accepted as final. Winner of this week's contest will be published in the issue of April 24th, 1936.

The following table shows the relative value in Tally points of the 26 letters of the alphabet. See the example shown at the right.

TOO MUCH FOR HIM

"Life is nothin' but disappointment," groaned Brindle-

"Cheer up!" urged his friend. "Didn't you get ten pounds for puttin' yer picture in the paper as bein' cured of all ills by Pinderton's pills?"

"Yes, I did. An' now all my relatives are asking me why I don't go to work now that I'm

"How did Pa act when you asked him for my hand?"

"Very gentle and courteous. It took me completely by surprise." "I told him you used to be a pugilist."

ONLY HEARSAY

A well-known divine attended a function, and left his hat and coat in the cloak-room. The attendant, who knew the divine by sight, did not give him a ticket. When the guest left, he was given his correct belongings.

"You did not give me a ticket when I came in," he said, "so how do you know these things belong to me?"

"I don't," replied the attendant; "I only know that you handed them to me!"

HAIR-RAISING LOYALTY

An officer in a Highland regiment lost his hair as a result of his war experience, and for a time had to wear a wig.

When in the crowd watching the trooping of the colors at the Horse Guards Parade, he raised his hat as the colors went past. By a mischance his wig stuck in

A cockney behind him who noticed it remarked admiringly: 'Coo, ain't 'e loyal!"
