Osgood Perkins

The drollery of OSGOOD PERKINS long famed on stage and screen, is one of the many bright features of the "Flying Red Horse Tavern" broadcasts which are heard over the WABC-Columbia network every Friday from 9.00 to 9.30 p.m., A.S.T. Acting as host, Perkins introduces, in his own incisive style, other stars of the program who include Eleanor Powell, Freddie Rich's Orchestra and the Tavern Singers. Perkins comes to CBS with a sterling record of stage and screen appearances.

Powell On CBS

Presenting a new picture, hot off the camera, of ELEANOR POWELL, acclaimed as the "find" of the year. She brings her versatile talents as a tap dancer, singer and actress to the CBS microphone each Friday, from 9.00 to 9.30 p.m., A.S.T., as a star of the "Flying Red Horse Tavern." And she's rapturing her new audience just as she did the film, "Broadway Melody of 1936," and the Broadway stage hit, "At Home Abroad."

'SALADA' TEA

Directs Program

This versatile young musician has long been praised for his brilliant piano interludes over the Columbia network and as an arranger for leading radio and Broadway orchestras. Now he wins added recognition as a conductor in his own right, directing sophisticated dance music on the Krueger "Musical Toast" programs every Saturday from 9.30 to 10.00 p.m., A.S.T., over WABC-Columbia network.

several weeks sport but September offered an excellent month of autumn fishing.

Popular Hunting Licenses

A constructive piece of promotional legislation enacted during the year was that put into effect by Hon. F. W. Pirie, Minister of Lands and Mines. Existing game laws of the province were amended to allow non-resident sportsmen to take two deer and two bears at a license fee of $10. The popularity of the new license was proven in two ways. The story announcing the innovation was accorded space in more newspapers and sporting magazines than was any other story released by the Bureau of Information during the year just closed. Rod and gun editors throughout the land realized that it was news which held a live interest for their readers. The correctness of their calculation is seen in the fact that hunting inquiries received by the Bureau of Information rose from 315 in 1934 to 1,212 for 1935, an increase of almost 300 per cent.

Testimonials

That the Bureau of Information is filling a very definite need for the province which it represents is attested by the thousands of letters from near and far which annually reach the desk of D. W. Griffiths, its director. These come from every conceivable angle on the quality of its literature, its promptness in responding to inquiries and the comprehensive way in which detailed or unusual queries are handled. Excerpts from representative letters are reprinted hereunder:

Accept my thanks for your kindness in sending me data concerning the Province of New Brunswick. It will be helpful to me in mapping out a Canadian tour, on which I will start with my family next Saturday, July 6. I have toured New Brunswick before and know something of its attractions, but I have learned much more from what you have sent me. I might say that this will be our fourth Canadian tour.—A. O. H. Griener, Editor, Journal-Every Evening, Wilmington, Delaware.

Please accept our sincere thanks for your prompt response to our request and our congratulations on the excellence of the literature produced by your department.—H. G. Ellis, Accountant, Universal Sales Ltd., Saint John, N.B.

I must compliment you on the excellent way in which your bureau has set out the tourist attractions of your country.—A. E. Jones, Secretary, Royal Automobile Club of Queensland, Brisbane, Australia.

I herewith acknowledge with thanks receipt of the beautiful pamphlets of New Brunswick. In return for your kindness I shall do everything in my power to give publicity to the wonderful province of yours.—S. Matsuzaki, South Manchuria Railway Co., Dairen, Manchuria.

I wish to express my appreciation for your prompt service in sending material about New Brunswick. It is entirely satisfactory and I am sure our service club will enjoy our year's study of Canada very much.—Mrs. O. W. Adams, Fort Stockton, Texas.

New Brunswick, A Vacation Land For All Nationalities

is no more than fair to mention the co-operation given by officers of the Department of National Revenue stationed at the various points along our border. Not only did they materially assist in furthering the efficiency of the Bureau of Information by the distribution of maps and literature; they also stood ready and willing to give to the guests of the province information and assistance of any kind which lay within their power.

This courtesy on the part of the Customs officers did not go without notice on the part of the motoring public. The Bureau of Information is in receipt of many letters similar to that of Ernest H. Greer of Wellsboro, Pa., part of which is quoted below:

"I wanted to write you about the extreme courtesy extended to us on our entire trip by the Customs officials, the sporting goods stores, garages and all of the people with whom we came in contact."

Unfortunately there exists no accurate way of checking the volume of Canadian traffic that visited New Brunswick nor of checking the United States cars which entered across the inter-provincial boundary between this province and Quebec. There was apparent, however, a marked development of inter-provincial travel and Ontario and Quebec cars visiting New Brunswick in 1935 loomed large in the total. The estimated gain could safely be set at 15 per cent.

Angling Season

Statistics of the Department of Lands and Mines pertaining to the sale of angling licenses are not yet available but the observation of informed persons leads one to believe that an increase was recorded. The expression, informed persons, embraces those in many and varied walks of life—license vendors, guides, sporting goods salesmen, filling station operators, hotelmen and the man on the street. Over all, the season itself measured well up to the average. The prolonged drought of mid-August deprived anglers of
