What Of Our Representatives?

WHEN the Dominion Parliament opens there will be all sorts of problems which the members must consider. The representatives of New Brunswick will have a prominent place in the deliberations of Parliament if they take seriously the duties that have been placed upon them by the people whom they were elected to represent. It is hoped that these New Brunswick men who go to Ottawa have given careful consideration to New Brunswick's position in the Confederation. It is expected that they have studied the status of this Province in regard to others and within the British Empire. They should know wherein the Dominion has failed in regard to the agreement of Confederation and it is hoped they will well understand what the proposed changes in the British North America Act will mean to this Province.

There also is the hope that New Brunswick's representatives in the Federal Parliament have taken notice of the stand taken by the Government of New Brunswick regarding the constitution and that they will work with the members of the Provincial Government and in the interests of the people of New Brunswick. The New Brunswick Government has taken a firm stand and the people of this Province will desire their Federal representatives to co-operate with the Provincial Government and see that this Province gets a square deal. They must stand firm and see to it that the Province they represent gets a chance to go forward and not backward as has been the case during the last sixty-eight or more years.

The issues of the present day concerning the rights of the Provinces are not matters of party politics, but are issues which concern the well-being of this Province and all the people that dwell within its borders. The future of this country is at stake. Liberals, Conservatives, French and English, Catholic and Protestant, must join hands in this great crisis. We must face it undivided and with one voice. New Brunswick must be given full partner rights in the partnership of the Dominion of Canada. This Province must be saved from the domination of Ontario and Montreal interests. Our people must be freed from the taskmasters, who would draw from us every ounce of vitality which we possess. The elected representatives of the people who go to Ottawa must be true representatives, and they must see that this Province is debauched no further. Larger Incomes Council Head Would Solve Our Present Problems

The interest which the new King-Emperor has in aviation can be gathered from the above picture which was taken when the planes prepared to leave England on the famous flight to Melbourne last summer. Here we see His Majesty seriously questioning various aviators about their ma-chines, a subject on which he is an expert.

Speaker In Montreal Tells How Recovery Can Be Hastened.

The solution of our economic problems lies in the creation of a surplus of average income over expenditure for essentials, L. E. McGivena, publicity manager of the New York News, told the members of the Advertising Club at their weekly luncheon in Mont-

In 1928 and 1929 there was a gap of some 30 per cent. between the total salaries earned by Americans and their total outlay on necessities, said Mr. McGivena. It was this surplus that supplied the buying power for the many luxuries, automobiles, radios, motion pictures, and magazines, that have been produced on this continent since the war.

Recovery will continue if the level of salaries is kept high enough to provide this extra income that will support the allimportant industries making nonessential products, he said

Mr. McGivent laid emphasis on the importance of the great market offered by the mass of people in the lower income bracket. New York, he said, like all other cities in America, is really a middle class town. In it there are 1,-250,000 families with incomes of under $6,000 that are a rich market if appealed to in the right way.
