TEETH-STEALER TELLS WHY

London, Eng.—Julie Balge, a servant of Debrecon, Hungary, has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for stealing her mistress's false teeth. Her defense was this: "I stole her false teeth at night and threw them away. She gave me no food and I wanted her not to be able to eat either."

FOR A BETTER CITY

"CLEAN UP SAINT JOHN" is the slogan that should be adopted by every resident of the city. There is need of a thorough cleaning. In the spring there is usually a clean-up week, when streets, backyards, lawns, cellars and outbuildings are cleared of the accumulations of the winter. This is as it should be and the people of Saint John should take special pride in having this the cleanest of all cities. In this work again there is necessary the spirit of co-operation.

But in order to have a really clean city there must be a further cleaning. Some conditions in this city are threatening the morals of the people and there must be a clean-up along these lines.

Gambling is said to be rampant in this city but the civic officials seem to have so many divided opinions in this matter that action seems to be very slow. Conditions cannot continue as at present and unless the proper authorities get busy, public opinion will be aroused to such an extent that drastic action will be bound to come and public officials, whether they be good or bad, will find themselves swept from office in one city-wide convulsion.

Besides gambling there are other unlawful practices being carried on and in these instances also the public will be taking a hand. Just at present the citizens are looking to their paid representatives and officials to make the necessary clean-up.

Some officials have seen fit to criticize remarks made by citizens concerning conditions in Saint John. Because one citizen was bold enough to say that a vigilant committee might be necessary here, he was condemned. But if the paid officials will not act, citizens may find it necessary to enforce the laws themselves. And if such a move comes, it may be necessary first of all to remove these official obstructionists, who are quibbling over points of what they say is the law, and thereby giving unconscious protection to those things which are debasing the social and moral life of Saint John.

Cleanliness of premises and streets is most desirable, but the cleansing of the moral life is far more essential and the greatest asset of any community is a healthy moral citizenry.

Hats Are Rebuilt On A New Machine At the New System

Saint John Concern Gives Factory Finish To Old Hats.

The New System Cleaners have just installed a Factory Finish electric hat re-builder—a machine that makes your soiled, out of shape hat, look and wear like new. On this new equipment your old hat is scientifically cleaned and then put through each step in rebuilding that is used in the original hat factory.

All the million hairs in the hat felt are combed and brushed and laid in exact position and ironed to stay by electricity.

The hat then goes through the factory luhing process of heat and pressure, which brings the natural animal oils to the surface, thus restoring it to its original silky Factory Finish.

The brim is carefully shaped on the most modern flanging blocks and automatically baked and molded to give it snap and to hold its shape. Air curing makes the hat punk dry—so it holds up under all weather conditions.

This is just another step taken by this progressive company in better serving the community. New System will be glad to have all their friends stop in and see this new equipment at work in their plant on Lansdowne Avenue.

On page five of this paper you will see an advertisement about this new Weather-seal service quoting an exceptionally low price for the quality of work delivered.

Your Family Grocer And You

By FRED E. LOGAN

Have you ever stopped to think seriously of your relationship with your family grocer?

This man holds a very important and responsible position, no matter where his locality may be, the very welfare and the health of you and your family rests upon this man's shoulders.

He understands just what the people of his community want—the grade of the article desired and also the price that you would want to pay for that article.

He lives in your own community, pays taxes, rent, contributes to local and community welfare.

He endeavors to give you the very best of merchandise at reasonable prices and the better service which is free.

Mothers and housewives put their trust in their family grocer—take for example, when the mother or the housewife is busy about the home with some task that she does not want to leave undone or does not want to take the time to go to the store herself—she knows that a phone call or a note delivered by little Bobby or Mary will receive the promptness and care as if the mother or housewife had called at the store in person.

There are thousands and thousands of grocers playing in this role every day. The family grocers throughout the Dominion of Canada help hundreds of people in their communities each year—by carrying their accounts on his books—when sickness, unemployment or some other misfortune has come to the people of his community.

Surely, each and every household of any community must realize the important part carried on by the family grocer. The consumers, each and every one can show their appreciation to the family grocer by giving him their whole-hearted support at all times.
