His Majesty Speaks Boldly On Matters of Great Moment

the world today we must explore every means of producing better and more attractive things."

"It has always seemed to me more lucky to be born the eldest son . . . You haven't got to wear any of your brother's old clothes."

"The unemployed do not want patronage or benevolence, but service."

"It's better to film a lion than to kill it."

"I don't think any man should marry before he's thirty-two."

"It has always been a mystery to me how a certain number of people feel that the only way they can express the feeling we all have about war is by discouraging any form of healthy discipline and training."

"There is no position more honorable than that of a good craftsman."

"It's a long time since I was at school. And methods have so improved that I don't think you have any excuse for not learning a great deal more than I did."
