(From the Daily News. For some time previous to the attack, we enemy. doubt that every man who attacked the defences of Sebastopol on that eventful day selves of their newly-constructed floating fences of Sebastopol on that eventful day fought with the same undaunted gallantry and the same determination to carry the place or to perish in the attempt; and, although the asselts of these several attacks were unequal. assults of these several attacks were unequal, all were animated by the same spirit and continued to the great result. The first prize of this glorious victory belongs of right to our gallant allies the French, since the Malakoff Tower, the key of the main position, fell begallant allies the French, since the Malakoff Tower, the key of the main position, fell before the vigour of their assault; but, with that chivalrous feeling which is the noblest bond of men who have fought and conquered together, the mines of all those who carried the rogged defences of Schastopol deserved to stand side by side on one page, and no invidious distinctions shall sully or lessen their common renown.

The Russians of a diestinably of the main position, fell before and range. For a time the enemy continued to reply with a fire almost as heavy and vigorously sustained. At intervals might be heard above the roar of artillery the explosions of magazines; the intermittent flashes of the guns were out-shone by the blaze of burning houses and ships. At noon of the fourth day, after a temporary lull, the assailants considered to send them a force of six thousand promised to send them a force of six thousand their batteries.
