

The Cousins.

A SKETCH FROM LIFE.

Well, I believe we were placed in this world to be happy, and I mean to be happy in my own way. I hate such cant."

"Yes, I hate such cant; I don't believe that Uncle Edward really thinks what he says," she repeated, after all had left the room."

"Neither have I; the lessons I have learned have been gained in the school of Christ, and in their practice I have found true happiness."

"Not so, dear Laura; to be useful to our fellow-creatures, and to glorify God, is surely the great end of life."

"Well," said the girl, "I shall not mope away existence, I assure you; I have wealth, accomplishments, and, the world says, beauty; and I shall use my gifts in making life's day pass swiftly, give care to the winds, and sing."

"No, my dear cousin, you entirely misunderstand me; I have no idea of relinquishing the cultivation of my mind; indeed, I study more earnestly than when at school, for now I have an object; with all our gifts, we may and should seek to glorify God. Yet I would not glory in my natural advantages, they are but gifts from our merciful Father, and as such, should be used for his service."

"This is the moral philosophy class, the following subjects are presented. The origin of Action and the nature of Power; the freedom of the Will; the Mechanical, Animal, and Rational principles of Action; the nature and standard of Virtue; the existence of the Deity; the immortality of the Soul; Duty, as indicated by the light of nature; Man in a state of nature; the origin and progress of the Arts and Sciences."

"The course in NATURAL PHILOSOPHY treats of Matter, its properties, necessary and contingent; Motion, its laws; Acoustics; Mechanics; Hydrodynamics; Pneumatics; Heat; Optics; Magnetism and Electricity, including Galvanism; Electro-Galvanism; Magneto-Electricity, and Thermo-Electricity."

the matron. A brilliant career had been hers; the star of the gay throngs of fashion, "the cynosure of all eyes," she had revelled for a time in the worship her beauty and her wit had exacted. At length her beauty began to fade, her worth pined for her wit; and in terror of an old age of loneliness, she married one who sought her but for her wealth. As might be supposed, she married a man without a heart. Had children been given her, she might have learned from them to be happy; but childless, unloved, and cheerless, the world was one dreary blank. Despairing her husband, she would not stop to win his love, and while the world envied her, she was wretched than the lowest menial of her household. Earth could not give the rest her soul craved.

Laura had found, like the holy Augustine, that "the vain-glory of this world is a deceitful sweetness, a fruitless labour, a perpetual fear, a dangerous honour, her beginning without Providence, and her end not without repentance," but not like him had turned to seek true sweetness in the cross, and the honour which cometh from above. All that she had craved had been hers; honour and fame, beyond the wildest dreams of her ambition; but whom had the brilliant lights of her imagination benefited, whom had the treasures of her memory instructed?

She had looked down upon the less gifted with contempt, glorying in her superior intellect and attainments; thus isolating herself from the sympathy of her friends, while her woman's heart craved vainly for that love which she yet disdained to seek. To that aspiring spirit there could be found no rest, save in the Christian's hope of heaven. Earth's richest gifts could not satisfy its eager, thirsting cravings, but there she scorned to seek it, rather venturing her way through life uncheered by the brightness which emanates only from the cross of Christ.

Youthful reader, will you not at the threshold of life lay down your gifts at the feet of Him who died to purchase for you a higher, more lasting happiness than earth can bestow? Have you beauty? beauty wins love; use the influence this love gives you for Christ. Have you talents? consecrate them to his service, and while you roam at will through the fields of knowledge, and cul their richest flowers, weave them into a garland for your Lord. Have you wealth? let the poor and needy, those famishing for bread, and perishing for lack of the bread of life, bless you for its wide dispersion.

Would you find that good which all men seek after—enduring happiness? Believe me, you will never find it in this world, unless you first find it in Christ.

Revelenta Arabica Food. OF all discoveries, none has conferred greater benefit upon mankind than that made by Du Barry some years back. We allude to a plant grown upon that gentleman's estates in America, called Du Barry's Revelenta Arabica. Its superiority over Pills and other medicines in curing disease and keeping the system in a healthy state, is manifested in a marked degree in the metro, where the public health has latterly acquired a tone it never attained before; thus, besides a great falling off in disease, there is a decrease in deaths of from 10 to 15 per centum, whilst the births exceed the deaths by 40 per cent. Testimonials from parties of unquestionable respectability, have attested that it surpasses every medicine of every description in the effectual removal of indigestion (dyspepsia), constipation, and diarrhoea, nervousness, biliousness, liver complaint, flatulency, distension, palpitation of the heart, nervous headache, deafness, noises in the head and ears, pain in almost every part of the body, chronic inflammation and ulceration of the stomach, indigestion, cramps, eruptions of the skin, incipient consumption, dropsy, rheumatism, gout, heartburn, nausea and sickness, during pregnancy, after eating or at sea, low spirits, spasms, cramps, spindles, general debility, paralysis, asthma, cough, influenza, sleeplessness, involuntary urination, tremors, dislike to society, unfitness for study, loss of memory, dizziness, fainting, blood to the head, exhaustion, melancholy, groundless fear, indecision, wretchedness, thoughts of self-destruction, and many other complaints. It is, moreover, admitted by those who have used it to be the best Food for infants and invalids generally, as it never irritates the stomach, and imparts a healthy relish for food and drink, and restores the functions of digestion and muscular and nervous energy to the most enfeebled. For the benefit of our readers a synopsis of a few of 50,000 testimonials received by Du Barry upon the invaluable efficacy of his Revelenta Arabica Food—Case No. 75—From the Right Hon. the Lord Sturville Decies.—I have derived much benefit from Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food—Stuart de Decies, of Manana, Cappoquin, county of Waterford.—Case No. 180—25 years' nervousness, constipation, indigestion, and debility, from which I had suffered great misery, and which no medicine could remove or relieve, I have been effectually cured by Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food in a very short time. W. R. Reeves, Pool Anty, Tiverton.—Case No. 161—60 years partial paralysis, affecting one half of my frame, and which had resisted all other remedies, has yielded to Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food, and I now consider myself a stranger to all complaints, excepting a hearty cold in my head, and a harsher attack of St. Vincent's Colic in my bowels.—Case No. 184—Not expected to live six days longer, I was cured by Du Barry's admirable Health-Restoring Food—Magdalena Purvis, Moffat, Scotland.—Case No. 4,208—Eight years' dyspepsia, nervousness, debility, with cramps, spasms, and nausea, for which my servant had consulted the advice of many, had been effectually removed by Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food in a very short time. I shall be very happy to answer any inquiries.—Rev. John W. Flavell, Riddington Rectory, Norfolk.—Case No. 1,699—Three years' excessive nervousness with pain in my neck and my left arm, and a general debility, which rendered my life very miserable, has been radically removed by Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food—Alex. Stuart, Ardeacon of Ross, Skibbereen.—Case No. 2,704—I consider you a blessing to society at large. It is not to be told all the benefit Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food has been to me, and my little boy cries for a saucer of it every morning.—Walter Keating, 2 Manning-place, Five Oaks, Jersey. Case No. 3,906—Thirteen years' cough, indigestion, and general debility, has been removed by Du Barry's excellent Health-Restoring Food—James Porter, Athol-st., Perth.—Case No. 81—Twenty years' liver complaint, with disorders of the stomach, bowels, and nerves, has been perfectly cured by Du Barry's Health-Restoring Food—Andrew Fraser, Haddington, East Lothian.—Case No. 79—Levon Cottage, Bromley Middlesex—Gentlemen—The Lady for which I ordered your food was six months advanced in pregnancy, and was suffering severely from indigestion and constipation, throwing up her meals shortly after eating them, having a great deal of heartburn, and being constantly obliged to resort to physics or the opium, and sometimes to both. I am happy to inform you that your food produced immediate relief. She has never been sick since, had but little heartburn, and the functions are more regular, &c.—Thomas Woodhouse, Messrs.
