Battle of the Tchernaya. RE-COMMENCEMENT OF THE BOMBARDMENT.

Detailed accounts from Sebastopol, which extend to the 4th of August, and reached town on Thursday, prepared the public for an event which has since taken place.

The French propose erecting a mortar-battery on a small island here, to play on the town, and they have provided themselves with sandbags, fascines, &c., from Nargen.

The mortar-vessels are to be supplied with extra marine artillerymen as reliefs when required, and it is supposed the bombardment, when commenced, will continue all night and several successive days.

But we now learn from Lord Panmure's despatch of yesterday that on the very day when the mail reached the British metropolis, conveying this intimation of the contemplated attack,—that is, nearly a fortnight after the movement was expected,—it actually took place, with the most glorious results to the allied arms, and with the severest loss and humiliation to the enemy.

We learn from Lord Panmure's brief announcement that the attack commenced on Thursday at daybreak,—that the Russians had between 50,000 and 60,000 men under the command of General Liprandi engaged in it,—that the battle lasted three hours, and ended in the defeat of the enemy.

It there be one feature in this gratifying intelligence which gives us pain it is the fact that our brave countrymen were not permitted to share in the perils and the glory of the battle.

As success in war mainly depends on making the most of circumstances,—of taking prompt advantage of a critical moment, we are gratified to learn that the defeat of Liprandi was the signal for the re-commencement of the bombardment.

may have good news for our friends in England. The destruction of Swaborg must be accomplished before the allied admirals can make a prize of the Russian fleet.
