

SBYTERIAN WITNESS.

donary Ballad.

From the East to the West... your, beside him to stand, glory with heart and with

Heads and hearts abroad, and hearts at home... Not far is the need for your mission to roam;

Then (for the soldiers of Heaven's true post... Britain's dear sons on each far distant land

Then—let the banner of grace be unfurled... Free as the winds and wide as the world,

Sure is your work of a blessed reward... To serve a good Master, in serving the Lord,

But—it is better! yet more shall we earn!... Many to righteousness now shall we turn,

—Mr. Tupper's Ballads for the Times.

SIKOT-PROOF VESSELS.

As to the ascent of the Bug or the Dnieper it is only to be attempted by vessels with shot-proof screens and proof decks, inasmuch as every man could be picked off the decks by a single rifleman unless the banks of the river are cleared by troops in numbers sufficient to beat back the enemy as they advanced.

MEDITATED ATTACK ON THEODOSSIA.

The regulations which came from Krimm are still on board the fleet at Kamiesch. It is known that the English Admirals are much anxious that they, with a sufficient body of French troops, should at once proceed to Theodosia to undertake the operation I have indicated.

Another hurrah! The first... is the wall shake again; his spouse, the whole imperial house, follow in precedence, either separately or in a lump, according as the boats last out.
