How Dollars Are Made!

By Stopping the Little Leaks

And losses great fortunes are accumulated. A loss of a few dollars on a suit of clothing may seem a small thing to some men, but it is losses such as these that make many men poor. The man who, instead of dealing with us, goes elsewhere and gets poor, shabby goods and slipshod, careless work in the making-up of these goods, is likely to look poor and feel poor, too, before many years. Gentlemen, stop these little leaks by dealing only with our firm, and you will then be sure of having clothing that will look well, wear well and fit well.

Some of The Best Dressed People

You see on the street are wearing suits and overcoats that have been cleaned, dyed and pressed at J. G. Francis' Steam Dye Works, and made to look as good as new. You cannot tell whether the people are wearing new suits or those that have been done over at the Steam Dye Works.

The cost? Why it is only a mere trifle: You will be surprised how cheaply the work can be done.

NOT SUPERSTITIOUS.

Uncle Job McIntosh, an elderly negro, who lived not many years ago on one of the Georgia Sea Islands with his wife Hannah, used frequently to rebuke his wife for her "slooperstishin." "Yo's a heep too slooperstishin, Hannah, he would say; 'why did you done observe me, ole woman? Yo' ain' nebber seen me min' no slooperstishin. Dey ain' no dog howl-in' wot kin skeer me; dey ain' no black cat wot kin make me belebebe dat I's 'gan fer to die'."

Aunt Hannah paid no attention. She was accustomed to let Job assert his superior virtues without contradiction, being quite aware that he was no better nor wiser than his fellows.

The night after this positive assertion on Job's part of his independence of superstitions, Aunt Hannah was suddenly taken very ill with cholera morbus. Job, after satisfying himself that her case was really alarming, set out, just at sunrise to fetch the doctor.

He was making his way, in a depressed state of mind, through the path, overgrown with wild orange and jessamine, that leads from his cabin to the boat-landing. His eyes were upon the ground Suddenly he became aware that some object was confronting him on the path, and he looked up with a start.

There, standing facing him was a big black cat, its glossy back arched, its tail erect and swollen to what seemed an extraordinary size, and its golden eyes glittering in the light of the rising sun. It was merely some wandering tabby of large size, returning from a night's foray, and startled by Job's quick approach into making a bold show of resistance; but to the negro's dazed eyes it was an astonishing and terrible object.

Job threw up both hands and screamed. "Tain't me, Mars' Satan! Tain't me dat's sick, I tellys, 'e. It's my ole 'oman Hannah dat ye come fer; it's me Mars' Satan!"

Jack Tolliver, on his way to the rice plantation, came up just at this moment and took in the whole situation; and while the cat turned and ran off through the jungle Jack laughed long and loud at Job's fright.

Aunt Hannah recovered from her cholera morbus, but Job never escaped from the telling of the story of the way in which he had proved his freedom from "slooperstishin."

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

OTTAWA, June 26.—Yesterday on the motion to go into supply the following amendment was moved: "This house declares that since 1886 the public expenditure has increased, is increasing, and ought to be diminished," and in support of the amendment Mr. Mills spoke three-quarters of an hour, confining his criticisms almost entirely to the administration of Indian affairs.

Hon. Mr. Daly replied in support of the policy of his own department, which was formerly administered by Mr. Mills, and showing that considering the extent of the service the present administration of the Indian department is more economical, as well as more effective, than it was under Mr. Mills. Hon. Mr. Daly continued his speech until recess, and Mr. Macdonald of Huron replied in an extravagant speech, at the close of which the members who had by this time nearly left the chambers, were called in to vote.

The amendment was lost by a vote of 87 to 57, and the house went into supply. The house went into supply and made good progress until one a. m., when the committee rose and the house adjourned.

In the senate today Mr. Bernier of Manitoba moved for papers relating to the Manitoba schools. He spoke for four hours in defence of the old system, replying to the various reflections upon the church schools as they existed before 1890. Incidentally he stated that illiteracy had increased in New Brunswick under the public school system, while it had decreased in Quebec under the separate school system.

Senator Angers promised that all papers should be brought down, but did not offer any observations on the general question.

Joe Martin, in a letter to the Citizen, says that evidently there has been an understanding with the Catholics on the school question, and he believes that it can be settled without interference of parliament if the Catholics only want religious teaching, as Hon. Mr. Oumet says, Manitoba will grant this. There is a possibility that conference of the leaders may be arranged to settle the whole dispute.

Montreal, June 25.—Ted Emory, a well known actor, who brought a company of fourteen to the Queen's theatre here for the summer season, has disappeared, leaving the troupe completely stranded.

A painter named Joe Choinard took Paris green this afternoon and died it a short time.

It appears pretty certain in ecclesiastical circles here that the Roman authorities will bring Bishop Gravel of Nicolet to a severe account for having allowed a private official document to become public. There is also a rumor to the effect that the Bishop of Nicolet aspired to the succession of Cardinal Taschereau, the latter being very feeble now and that a reverend gentleman opposed to his lordship's plans decided to give the letter to the press and thus destroy at one blow any chance the Nicolet prelate might have for becoming the one Canadian prince of the church.

CABBAGES.

Do not be in too great a hurry about getting out late cabbages. We have made it a rule for several years not to set out late cabbage until the latter part of June or the first of July, and we have set them as late as the ninth of July, but this is rather late unless the season is favorable for rapid growth.

The ground should be prepared some time before the plants is to go in, and made very rich, with heavy fertilizing and in good condition by being frequently stirred. After the plants are set there is no danger of stirring the soil too often as per cent of cultivation is the price of a heavy crop of cabbage.

The plants do not begin to form heads until the cool nights of September come, in the late varieties, and if they have been so cared for that they have made a good ready root growth, they will then be ready to take advantage of their most favorable lesson and form solid crisp heads of the very best quality.

THE TURF.

The Moncton Driving Park Association, who have leased the park for the present season, will hold their initiatory meeting on July 6th. The events will be a running race (handicap) for a purse of $100; a 2-45 class trotting for a purse of $100 and a named race, trotting and pacing for a purse of $50. There will also be a two-mile and a one-mile bicycle race, the prizes being a silver and a gold medal respectively. The new association is composed of some of Moncton's most reliable citizens, and they promise just treatment to both the public and the horsemen. Entries close July 1st in the horse race, and July 5th in bicycle races.

Yesterday Sun a reporter saw a letter addressed to a well known firm in this city and it was dated August 12, 1890, from a town in Switzerland, and it only arrived in St. John, June 18th, 1895. The address was very plainly written, and the letter had not been tampered with in any way. Where has the letter been for the last five years, the firm would like to know?—Sun

This Springhill Advertiser says: A few bright lights in town had a parlor meeting last week and told of the woes and sufferings they endured from the opposite sex. Some were jilted, some fooled, many refused, and some were dead out by the feminine fraternity. In revenge they formed themselves into a union to remain single until they married. They are now wondering where the joke of the resolution comes in.

THE NEW VALKYRIE.

LORD DUNARVEN SATISFIED THAT SHE WILL MEET THE AMERICAN—WILL COMPETE IN ROTHESAY RACES.

GLASGOW, June 26.—Contractor Henderson's men finished their work on the new Valkyrie at Gourcock yesterday, and the boat resumed her trial sailing to-day. The weather conditions were very favorable. It is definitely settled that she will compete in the races at Rothesay on Saturday. Ailsa was docked here to-day and is having six tons of lead taken off her keel, her boom shortened and her masts slightly reduced. The new steel boom for Valkyrie is ready, but it will not be tried until after the Clyde regattas.

LONDON, June 26.—The Sporting Life says the Hendersons are bringing steel spars for Valkyrie III., including a very light boom. This boom, it is said, will be built of 3 1/2 inch nickel steel. It is used in the cup contest. The spars for Valkyrie III have been bought from & Co., of Greenock. They will be fitted as a jury rig with which Valkyrie III. will cross the Atlantic ocean. It may thus be assumed that Lord Dunarven is satisfied that Valkyrie III will meet the Defender, The new British boat will race in the Clyde, but will not be measured until she reaches America. It is stated on good authority that her rating will be somewhere about 200. The paper compares Valkyrie III. with Ailsa, the latter being anchored one hundred yards from the former. It says that with the exception of their paint they are strikingly similar. The mast and boom of Valkyrie III. are probably each to foot longer than those of Ailsa.

THE AFRICAN GOLD-FIELDS.

"The richness of the African gold-fields" says Pro. Heilprin in the New Science Review, "as portrayed by Dr. Karl Fetter will come as a surprise even to those who have looked most optimistically upon the dark continent as the most hopeful source of supply of the standard medium of exchange for the future. At the present time the gold-mining activity is nearly concentrated in the region of the Transvaal, whence in 1893 there was obtained a product the valuation of which was placed at upward of twenty-nine million dollars, or very nearly a full tenth of the total African yield, counting from the days of the Egyptian kings. According to Diodorus, these early potentates mined gold to the extent of some thirty million dollars. So far as it has been possible to trace the mining operations of the past, it would seem that Northeast Africa has yielded gold to an amount of approximately eighty million dollars, Northwest Africa a hundred and fifty million dollars, and equatorial and Southern regions six million dollars. Dr. Fetter holds firm to the opinion that for many years yet come the gold output will be largely increased, and he estimates that from the Witwatersrand gold fields alone the yield in twenty five years will be not less than one billion dollars. It is conjectured that at the end of this time the mining operations will be conducted at a depth of a mile, but with the improved methods of shafting, cooling, and ventilation, no serious obstacle to operating at even much greater depths need be anticipated."

NEWFOUNDLAND.

A GOVERNMENT MEASURE DEFERRED IN THE LEGISLATURE YESTERDAY.

St. John's, Nfld., June 25.—The government measure was defeated on a snatched vote in the assembly today, but the ridicule the idea of resigning, and the prestige is further damaged by statements in the papers from Canadian journals that the Canadian premier, Sir McKenzie Bowell, recently stated that the Newfoundland government had made several applications to them for financial help before the negotiations for union began. This occasioned much surprise here, and the anger of even the White-wayite supporters is considerable.

DEATH OF SENATOR BURNS.

Respecting the death of Senator Burns announced Monday, a despatch to the Globe says: "Senator Burns died at his residence (Fairholme) at 4.45 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The deceased gentleman was very ill in London, England, about six weeks ago. A few days after his arrival home he again took ill with fatal results. Mr. Burns was in his fifty-fourth year. He will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends. The greatest sympathy is felt for his family in their sad bereavement. The funeral took place yesterday morning."

THE ALBERT CIRCUIT.

Mr. Justice Tuck arrived at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon and opened the Albert circuit court. There was no criminal business and the grand jury was discharged from further attendance. There are only two cases on the docket, viz: Rice vs. Stevens, and Stevens & Coonan vs. the Salisbury and Harvey railway. The first is now before the court. The last named is a suit for damages sustained by a train falling into Shepody river owing to weakness of a bridge. The suit is valued at $3000.

"It gave me my start in business threw up my job of night watchman set up as a green grocer and fruiterer. I have now, as you know, several of the best ready money businesses in that line in London."

Sick Headache CURED PERMANENTLY BY TAKING Ayer's Pills

Charles H. Hutchings

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint, but it was not until I began taking Ayer's Pills that I received permanent benefit. A single box of these pills freed me from headaches, and I am now a well man."
