JOINED IN MARRIAGE.

St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal church yesterday afternoon was the scene of a wedding in high life when Miss Clara Marr, daughter of Mr. J. H. Marr, one of the most estimable young ladies in the city, was married to Mr. R. McNab, a well-known commercial man from Montreal. Long before the appointed hour the church was filled with people, standing room being at a premium. Shortly after 14 o'clock the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away. She looked charming, attired in white silk, with a beautiful pearl front, with bouquet of roses and bridal veil. Miss Mary Allen, daughter of Capt. Allen, of Halifax, acted as bridesmaid, while the two little maids of honor, Miss Allen, of Halifax, and Miss Marion Phelan of Springhill, looked exquisitely cute and prett. Mr. Taylor, of Amherst, supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Brown, in the presence of Bishop Campbell, and also in the presence of a large number of specially invited guests. After the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the home of the bride's parents where a reception was held. The numerous beautiful and costly presents of which the bride was the recipient are a convincing guarantee of the esteem in which she is held by all. The groom's present to the bride was a pendant formed of thirty-eight pearls.

Professor Watts presided at the organ and gave the bridal music from Wagner's "Lohengrin," before the service. The hymn "Oh welcome was the call and sweet the festal day," was effectively sung by the choir on the entrance of the bride. Mendelssohn's wedding march concluded the ceremony. The newly wedded couple left on the C. P. R. on an extended tour through Nova Scotia, P. E. Island, Ontario and Quebec.
