WOMEN SUFFRAGE.

One of our friends interested in the woman voting question has favored us with a report of the debate of March last in the Nova Scotia Legislature on the proposition to permit the names of spinsters and widows to be added to the lists of voters.

MRS. CLEVELAND AT GRAY GABLES.

A local paper has the following to say about Mrs. Cleveland and her stay at Gray Gables: "Mrs. Cleveland is fairly settled for the summer at Gray Gables, where her mother, Mrs. Perrine, will go to visit her in July, in order to be present at the great event of interest to which the President is looking forward with such hopeful anticipations that it will result in adding another voter to the Democratic party of the future.

RICHES HAVE WINGS.

If John D. Rockefeller, Duluth, Mass., aged 25, for whom Alfred Merritt secured a verdict for almost $1,000,000, has an idea that his troubles will end upon the payment of that verdict. He is a much mistaken man, for the suit was simply a test case, to decide whether or not several others of a similar nature should be brought by other parties.

OWES HALF A MILLION.

DENVER, Col., June 18.—Henry J. Aldrich, president and general manager of the Colorado Securities Co., one of the largest in the west has disappeared, and creditors of the concern are making strenuous efforts to locate him. His debts amount to $500,000.

HER SILVER SPOONS.

THEY REMAINED HER PROPERTY, BUT WERE VERY COSTLY.

The following story was told in a paper read by Mrs. M. J. Coggeshall, at a meeting of the Woman's Suffrage Society of Des Moines, and published in the Saturday Review of that city:

To-day, when we women have not outgrown the pretty fad of collecting souvenir spoons, the great variety and beauty of which were unknown to our grandmothers, allow me to recall the story of a great aunt of ours who also loved spoons, but whose plain cupboard drawer contained no sets of dainty after-dinner coffees like those from which we love to sip as we sit in our clubs and talk of culture.

This aunt when a young woman was a teacher in a country school until she had enough money to indulge her great desire for a set of silver spoons. She was married soon after to the young man of her choice.

Then she spoke and said: "These are mine. I bought them with my own money before I was married." "Yes, ma'ma," said the lawyer, "but you know, ma'ma, that after a lady is married everything belongs in law to her husband."

So all the little property was divided, the brothers taking half, and she took the spoons with the rest at the price that had been set upon them.

She liked him well, and her friends told her it was the best thing to do, and she thought with pleasure of again being mistress of a home. So they were married.

In a few years her husband's health declined, and for many months she gave him most tender and unceasing care. She had a few times spoken to him about making a will, but as it seemed an unpleasant subject she had ceased to mention it.

And again she paid the price of her first darling purchase of silverware, but there was not enough left after the half was taken for her to keep the house and lot, so they went into the hands of strangers, and with her cat Aunt Liza again went into cozy, but hired rooms.

A local paper has the following to say about Mrs. Cleveland and her stay at Gray Gables: "Mrs. Cleveland is fairly settled for the summer at Gray Gables, where her mother, Mrs. Perrine, will go to visit her in July, in order to be present at the great event of interest to which the President is looking forward with such hopeful anticipations that it will result in adding another voter to the Democratic party of the future.

"No, Tommy, I have bought these spoons three times, and I don't intend to risk them any more."

A TOUGH PIECE OF HUMANITY.

This is the way a man named Gaines of St. Peter, Minn., got the better of an insurance company: Many years ago Mr. Gaines insured his life for $3,500. After many years of payment of $90 a year premium, at the age of 70 years he asked the officers of the company how much they would pay him to cancel his policy.

SUDDEN DEATH.

The death of Mr. Henry Smith, of Charlottetown, under peculiar circumstances, occurred on Sunday last. He was driving home accompanied by a lady when he became faint, and the lady got out of the carriage to get him a drink of water. When she returned he was dead.

THE TRIUMPH OF LOVE

Every Man who would know the Grand Truths; the Plain Facts; the New Discoveries of Science as applied to Married Life; who would Aton for Past Errors and Avoid Future Pitfalls, Should Secure the Wonderful Little Book called "COMPLETE MANHOOD and How to Attain It."

Whatever may be the cause of blanching hair, the hair may be restored to its original color by the use of that potent remedy Hall's Vegetable Sulfur Hair Renewer.

LOVE ON THE ARKANSAW.

THE PROUD BEAUTY IS WAITING TILL HER PRINCE RETURNS.

It was evening after a glorious summer day. A stylish-like maiden whose beauty was of the Castilian type, sat on the doorstep lost in meditation. It was only a humble cabin on the banks of the Arkansas river, but she was not proud.

"Is that you, Sal?" It was a gentle voice from the other side of the beautiful brush fence in front of the shack.

She held her peace as they set down the worth of each article of furniture in the little home, until they finally came to the box of spoons.

Then she spoke and said: "These are mine. I bought them with my own money before I was married."

So all the little property was divided, the brothers taking half, and she took the spoons with the rest at the price that had been set upon them.

She liked him well, and her friends told her it was the best thing to do, and she thought with pleasure of again being mistress of a home. So they were married.
