By Stopping the Little Leaks

And losses great fortunes are accumulated. A loss of a few dollars on a suit of clothing may seem a small thing to some men, but it is losses such as these that make many men poor. The man who, instead of dealing with us, goes elsewhere and gets poor, shabby goods and slipshod, careless work in the making-up of these goods, is likely to look poor and feel poor, too, before many years. Gentlemen, stop these little leaks by dealing only with our firm, and you will then be sure of having clothing that will look well, wear well and fit well.

Some of The Best Dressed People

You see on the street are wearing suits and overcoats that have been cleaned, dyed and pressed at J. G. Francis' Steam Dye Works, and made to look as good as new. You cannot tell whether the people are wearing new suits or those that have been done over at the Steam Dye Works.

The cost? Why it is only a mere trifle: You will be surprised how cheaply the work can be done.

DA GAMA KILLS HIMSELF.

THE UNSUCCESSFUL BRAZILIAN REBEL DEAD.

Buenos Ayres, June 27.—Admiral Saldanha Da Gama, who commanded the insurgents in Campos, in Rio Grande do Sul, in Southern Brazil, and was defeated by the Government troops, finding himself overpowered, committed suicide. General Taveres assumed command of the rebels. Saldanha Da Gama was born in Rio Janeiro, and was descended from the noble Portuguese family, the most illustrious of whose members was the celebrated Vasco Da Gama. Some of the family now hold high office in the Portuguese Royal Court. Da Gama was one of the ablest and most influential officers of the Brazilian navy. He was held in the highest estimation by Dom Pedro, the Brazilian Emperor, and was always a strong monarchist. When the revolt against Feixoto occurred about two years ago, he remained neutral for some time, but finally decided to join the insurgents. His accession was hailed by them as a great victory, but Feixoto made use of Da Gama's well-known monarchial tendencies to counteract the effect of his desertion. After the defeat of the rebels at sea, Da Gama went to Buenos Ayres, and then went north into the Brazils, and took charge of the revolt there.

It seems after the defeat of the rebel forces near Santa Ana, Rio Grande do Sul, by the Government troops, Admiral Da Gama committed suicide to escape Gen. Casilheiro, who he feared, would torture him. Details of Da Gama's self-destruction have not been received.

A correspondent in Montevideo sends word that members of the Brazilian revolutionary party confirm the news of Da Gama's death, but says that the manner of it is a mystery. Some of the fugitive insurgents who escaped across to the frontier told Uruguay officers that the Admiral was taken prisoner by Government soldiers, put to death, and his body horribly mutilated, while others declare that Da Gama ended his own life when he saw that capture was inevitable.

VERY INCONSIDERATE.

Newfoundlanders are reported to be annoyed at the charge that their Ministers applied quietly for loans from Canada. We are angry ourselves. That anyone should have taken our Government for a lending one is little short of an affront. Have we not proclaimed publicly for years that we make a specialty of borrowing, and does not the size of our debt attest the entire success of our appearance in that role? That a near neighbor like Newfoundland, for whom we have always cherished the kindest feelings, should have seized the present opportunity to strike us for a loan is the most unkindest deed of all. One can imagine the wicked joker from the Island calling upon the Finance Minister at Ottawa, softly clearing the door, and then whispering his little request into a startled ear. The headle nearly fainted when Oliver Twist asked for more. Mr. Foster, the Liberals say, has been looking pale lately. We can well forgive him. Newfoundland, discreetly kept its silence about the little episode, but our justly indignant Ministers revealed it. They felt that their entire policy grossly misunderstood. Will Mr. Bond please turn to the Public Accounts, page 34, second column, and observe that our funded debt in 1894 payable abroad, was $207,275,504. If he wants to borrow, therefore, he will do a kindness by not hurting our feelings with an application. Should he have money to lend, now, we are the people.—[Montreal Star.]

ADMITS THE MURDER.

BUT SAYS GILBERT WAS OF UNSOUND MIND.
BOSTON, June 26.—The last day of the trial of Angus D. Gilbert for the murder of little Alice M. Sterling, began this morning. After two experts on sanity had been examined, Counsel Doherty began his argument for the prisoner. He admitted that Gilbert murdered the child, but maintained the murder was the act of an insane man. He went into the details of the crime and pointed out many of the features as being evidence of the unsound mind of the perpetrator.

WOULD-BE MURDERERS UNKNOWN.

High Constable Bellefeuille has just returned from Lacroche, on the upper St. Maurice river, bringing with him an unnatural father, named John Bodreau, and his daughter, aged seventeen. The father is charged with incest and with putting out of the way his unlawful child some two years ago. The daughter, who accompanied the father to gaol, had with her her second child, aged six weeks. Trial is set for July 3.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., June 27.—F. R. Anderfer, who has been receiving secret information and letters from Cuba, left his boarding house, saying that he was going for another Cuban letter. Pistol shots were heard shortly afterward, and on investigation Anderfer was found, face downward, on a vacant lot unconscious. The cause of the affair is a mystery.

ELECTRIC STRUCK A DRAY.

AMESBURY, Mass., June 27.—Four persons were seriously injured in an electric car accident, on the Haverhill and Amesbury street railway, about two miles from here last night. A car ran into a heavy two-horse dray. It struck the dray with great force, smashing in the forward part of the car and throwing the passengers violently to the ground. The dray was wrecked.

NOT IN MATRIMONIAL MARKET.

ELA PASO, Tex., June 27.—Miss Rennie Londonderry of Boston, the round-the-world bicyclist, arrived here yesterday from the west in good health and spirits. She will remain here probably until July 15 then ride north to Denver, enroute home. She has declined over 150 offers of marriages.

BUCHANAN HAS GIVEN UP HOPE.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Dr. Buchanan, the wife-murderer, has given up all hope of being saved from the death chair. Lawyers have given up the fight for him, as Buchanan has no money to carry on the fight. Buchanan is broken down.

A BUFFALO MYSTERY.
A PROMINENT MAN OF THIS CITY TELLS A PECULIAR STORY OF ILL-TREATMENT.

BUFFALO, June 29.—Octavius C. Cottle, a prominent lawyer, was found bound and gagged in the cellar of a vacant house at Blackrock Thursday. He had been there all night. The police are mystified. Cottle says that on Monday morning an unknown man drove to his house and told him a man on Chenago street desired to make a real estate deal with him. Mr. Cottle got into the buggy and was driven, not to Chenago street, but to an unoccupied cottage at 36 Baynes street, where on entering, he was seized by his guide and another man and gagged and bound. Money was demanded, and, under threats he was compelled to write a note to his wife, saying that he was under arrest in Fort Erie, and asked for $2500.

The man with the buggy drove back to Mr. Cottle's house with the note and delivered it to Mrs. Cottle, who called upon her son for advice. The latter went out to confer with the man, who rode away in the buggy. Mr. Cottle was kept in bondage all of that day and night. He was handcuffed and a dog collar put around his neck and chained to a chair in the cellar. A pitcher of water was put near, so that by stopping he could reach it, and the only food given him in this time, was a few crackers. He remained there while other efforts to extort money from the Cottle family were made.

At length, the bandits fearing perhaps they would be tracked, took Cottle upstairs to the ground floor of the cottage and took leave of him. Here he was found Thursday by a policeman, who, in passing the house, heard groans proceeding from within and on investigation discovered the half-starved and weary captive. Cottle says he never saw either of the men before.

A DOUBLE TRAGEDY.
JEALOUSY CAUSES A MURDER AND A SUICIDE.

TORONTO, Ont., June 27.—A Montreal special from Lennoxville, gives some details of a horrible double tragedy committed there. J. H. Hull, carriage maker of Lennoxville, had his throat cut by Mark Sherman, harness maker of Martinville.

Sherman was a frequent visitor at Hull's house, and stayed there last night. Mrs. Hull when questioned said she had advised Sherman to take a rest up stairs, and he replied he could not go up unless Hull did. Shortly afterwards she heard a scream, and upon rushing up stairs saw her husband brandishing his hand to his throat. He said: "Send for a doctor and the neighbors." The two men were lying on the floor close together, Sherman was unable to speak but still breathed. The room presented a terrible sight, and Mrs. Hull's apron was dyed in her husband's blood.

It is considered a curious thing that the deed was done with a razor, as Mrs. Hull stated her husband had not one in the house. Hull died an hour after the crime was discovered, but the doctors state that there is a chance of saving Sherman's life.

The men after going up stairs evidently got into a quarrel. It is not known yet which was the aggressor, though the fact that Sherman had a razor and insisted on Hull going up stairs, points to him as the assailant. The wound in his own throat is supposed to be self-inflicted. Jealousy is supposed to be the cause of the tragedy.

NEWFOUNDLAND LEGISLATURE.

GOVERNMENT SUPPORTERS IN REVOLT—PEARLY RELIEF EXPEDITION.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., June 28.—Stormy scenes occurred in the legislature, today, in the sitting over retrenchment, when the government supporters objected to reductions, and a government caucus had to be called this morning to reduce obstinate members to submission. It is doubtful if it will prove successful. Murrings are rising in various quarters. In reply to a question by the opposition, today, Premier Whitehead refused any information in the matter of the reported request for a loan from Canada. This is accepted as equivalent to the admission of the charge made.

GOOD TEMPLARS IN SESSION.

BOSTON, June 27.—The biennial convention of the International Grand Lodge of Good Templars opened yesterday with a large attendance. Reports were read; 176 members took the degree. The grand secretary reports a comfortable cash balance after paying running expenses. Canada shows less in membership. Three new grand lodges were admitted and one dropped from the list. The afternoon session was devoted to committee reports. In the evening a banquet was held. Simeon E. Chase presided. Several addresses were made.

BROTHERHOOD LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS.

QUEBEC, June 28.—The annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of America was held in this city yesterday with delegates in attendance. They are held in session until they go to St. Montreal.
