The funeral of the late Mrs. Thos. Croke of Robinson St. will take place this morning at 10 o'clock. The remains will be taken to St. Bernards Church where appropriate services will be held.

The Androscooggin river, in Maine, was originally the Amoriscoggin, "the high fish place." The first two syllables were changed in compliment to Sir Edmund Andros. Forty-seven different spellings are given as recorded by the early settlers.

The new drug store of Enman & Co. is being admired by all who pass by the place. It has been about two years since Mr. Enman was formerly in the business and being a thorough and trusted druggist during his previous business commanded a very large trade.

The Promenade concert in Victoria rink last night by the Moncton Amateur Orchestra assisted by the 74th Batt. Band was quite largely attended and the results must be very gratifying to Prof. Watts and his associates. The selections by the Orchestra were all well received. The trombone solo by Mr. C. Prince, the cornet solo by Mr. D. Stewart and the vocal solo by Mrs. G. W. Daniel, all received justly merited encores. Of particular interest was the violin solo rendered by Miss Gibbs, of St. John, whose execution was much admired. The band rendered Sousa's march, "Washington Post" to the great delight of the audience.

THE LARGEST SHOW ON EARTH.

Of all the shows exhibiting under canvas in America, that of Sells Brothers is the only one that has not reduced and curtailed its features to meet the loss of business resulting from hard times, but on the contrary has materially augmented them. It is a fact generally known among the members of the circus profession, but studiously concealed from the public, that alleged mammoth tented organizations have without exception cut their shows in two in the middle, and not only that, but have discarded the best and most attractive half. Quite the opposite, is the policy of the Sells Brothers' enormous tented shows, which alone has increased its size, has augmented its features, has not cut the salary of a single employe one cent, but maintained triumphant its record. Positively the great outdoor field of tented entertainment, is now substantially prompted by Sells Brothers' big show of the world. In fact in the exclusive possession of many rare creatures and noted performers, it holds first place, and on its visit to Moncton on July 24th, will no doubt draw thousands to the huge tents.

TROUBLE OVER THE RED UNIFORM OF THE 74th BAND.

Much annoyance is at present manifested in the ranks of some order in our town, the cause being the band's uniforms. It appears the 74th Band has always been poorly fitted in the matter of military suits, those they have, not being fit for wear. The trouble commenced by the band not appearing in uniform at the recent Hibernian picnic held at Buetouche on the 11th inst. contrary to the orders of the Band Sergeant. On their return from the picnic staff. Sergeant McStay notified all members to appear in full uniform next morning to escort the orangemen to Petitcodiac. They did so and on arriving at the place of meeting next morning were told to doff the uniform, and wear civilian clothes. The bandsmen had to return home, the result being that the Sons of William were compelled to parade the lower portion of the town without music. The Orangemen were vexed at this, but their indignation was highly increased when informed that a party identified with the opposite persuasion had in some manner obtained the order from Captain Hanning on that the band must not proceed to any party demonstration in uniform. The order was supposed to have been issued on the strength of an order sent out by General Herbert some time since, but which was revoked on the Hon. Mr. Dickie assuming control as Minister of Militia. The Orangemen claim the affair was done so that they would not be in any manner better fitted than the A. O. H. So incensed are they that they have notified headquarters at Ottawa and say they are determined to sift the matter to the bottom. The Oddfellows notified Sergeant McStay that if the band came on parade at their decoration services last Saturday without a uniform that they would not accept their services and several Orange members of the band would not play because the suits were not worn at Petitcodiac. And so the matter stands at present, and it is about as safe to flaunt a red rag before an angry bull as to mention a red-coat to an orangeman. One thing is certain the band have disgraceful uniforms. And although the best musical organization at the late camp presented a disgraceful appearance. What they need is a serge suit for summer, and a tunic for colder weather, and their services certain by merit a more decent uniform than they at present possess.

THE BODY OF EDWARD COGSWELL FOUND.

SACKVILLE, July 14.—The Sackville mystery has been solved. The body of Edward Cogswell of this place, who left his home Monday forenoon three weeks ago, and was last seen about one hour later on his marsh bordering on Aulac river, was found to-day lying on the shore of a large ditch leading from the river at Westmorland point, about four miles from Sackville and one mile from the place he was last seen. The body was found by George Siddall, who drove at once to Sackville and made known the news, and in a short time about twenty-five carriages were on their way to the scene. The body was so far decomposed as to render the features unrecognizable, but it could be identified by the shape as well as the clothes it had on. His papers, watch, safe keys and a memorandum book were found in the pockets. The hat was missing, which goes to prove that the one found three days after the accident was Mr. Cogswell's. The watch had stopped with the hands at 11.30 o'clock, showing that the unfortunate man met his death soon after he was last seen on the marsh, and has since that time been floating in the river or bay, tossed about by the tides. The remains were removed to a building near by. Coroner Baird decided that an inquest was unnecessary. It was thought best not to keep the body over and a telephone message was at once sent to Sackville for a ca-keet and the hearse. The funeral procession reached the residence of the deceased shortly after seven p. m., where the funeral service was read by Rev. S. Howard of the Methodist church, and a few words were spoken by Drs. Stewart and Allison concerning the honorable character and virtues of deceased and his untimely end. The procession of carriages to the cemetery was very large. No service was held in the Methodist church this evening on account of the funeral.

SHOT HIMSELF TWICE.

MILLIDGEVILLE MAN ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT SUICIDE—HE IS VERY SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

ST. JOHN, July 16.—The residents of Millidgeville were disturbed very early yesterday morning by a report that Richard Nichols had attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself. At first it found little credence, but as the neighbors flocked to the house they soon found out it was too true. Richard Nichols is about sixty-three years of age. For a number of years he had been watchman in Jewett's saw mill, but on account of a sore leg he was forced to give up his situation. Of late he has been troubled with sore eyes, and was becoming blind. This preyed upon the old man's mind until he became melancholy. About five o'clock yesterday morning he left his bed, and went to the water closet which was situated down stairs. Shortly afterwards he returned up stairs with a very haggard look. Mrs. Nichols asked him what was the matter, saying: "George you are very pale."

In reply to the question, Mr. Nichols said he had put a bullet into himself. His wife at first hardly credited him, but soon she saw her husband sink to the floor. A young man was called and when he reached the room, he found Mr. Nichols on his hands and knees on the floor. He was quickly bolstered up with pillows, etc., and Dr. Daniel E. Berryman was summoned. An examination showed that the old man had fired two shots from a small revolver, and had lodged a bullet in each breast. After attending to him Dr. Berryman ordered Nichols to be taken to the hospital, as it was necessary to examine the wound every two hours.

The wounds are regarded as very dangerous, the one on the right breast being the worst. Dr. Berryman failed to find either of the bullets by probing, though he traced into the wound on the right breast to a depth of five inches. It is feared that the bullet has lodged in the lung, and but slight hopes are held out for the injured man's recovery. He is a man of quiet disposition and one of the last who would be thought of to make an attempt on his life.

He was taken to the hospital this forenoon, and at noon was resting easy and his case looked more hopeful.

How Dollars Are Made!

By Stopping the Little Leaks

And losses great fortunes are accumulated. A loss of a few dollars on a suit of clothing may seem a small thing to some men, but it is losses such as these that make many men poor. The man who, instead of dealing with us, goes elsewhere and gets poor, shabby goods and slipshod, careless work in the making-up of these goods, is likely to look poor and feel poor, too, before many years. Gentlemen, stop these little leaks by dealing only with our firm, and you will then be sure of having clothing that will look well, wear well and fit well.
