DISEASED LUNGS

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it. I then consulted a doctor, who found, on examining me, that the upper part of the left lung was badly affected. The medicines he gave me did not seem to do any good, and I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."

SERMONS IN VOTES.

We have all read of sermons in stones, but our pious Sackville contemporary preaches about the first sermon we ever heard on votes. The thread of the discourse will be indicated by the following extract:

"The statement made by Professor Davidson, of the N. B. University, that voting should be looked upon as a religious act deserves attention. Religion as it is understood in Christian countries means good government, which is based upon justice and righteousness. If you desire good government your right in the government must be delegated to good men."

"Let every elector who deposits a ballot on Saturday, whether it be for Mr. Powell or Mr. Killam, do it in such a way that he can look his neighbour in the face and hold the candidate responsible for the right with which he has been intrusted."

There is no more reason that we know of to look upon voting as a religious act than there is for regarding the posting of a business account as a religious exercise. Nor do we think the remark that religion means good government, based on justice and righteousness, is an altogether exhaustive definition of religion. Yet we agree with the conclusion of the theological disquisition of the Post that every voter on Saturday should deposit a ballot so marked as to leave it practicable for him to look his neighbor in the face, presuming always, of course, that his eyesight is sufficiently good to permit of this indulgence.

In commending the Post's requirements of true religion, as needed for use on Saturday, it occurs to us to add that the outcome will be safer, and the desired results more surely attainable, by dropping Powell out of his religious meditations altogether. Really Powell might not like very well to be told by an elector that he was going to vote for him as a religious act. Religious acts on polling day are usually omitted from the programme, but we see no objection to the Post's idea of having them instituted, particularly for the present election; only we would suggest, in order to remove possible objection, that the usual order of religious services be so far varied as to have the collection taken up before the other exercises begin. The place for the benediction on Saturday is at the beginning, and not at the end, of the service, as it is on Sunday.

FELL AMONGST THIEVES!

MY EXPERIENCES.

I have said that Powell stood at the back of those men and helped those men who robbed me of the earnings of my life.

You know the facts; that Toole robbed me, assisted by Boyd, and that Marsters, with unparalleled dishonesty, completed the robbery, and that Henry A. Powell made all this possible by his deception and treachery.

If the reader likes that sort of thing he should vote for Powell, and so encourage him to do likewise with somebody else. Marsters would be the right man to vote for, because if he is duly honored, rewarded and encouraged, there will be no reason why any common scamp of a clerk should not destroy any business man whose destruction is desirable.

The key to the Great Reform, remember, is MARSTERS and we wonder he has not been put forward as a candidate, instead of Powell, who only aided the swindle by his infidelity and treachery.

When another opportunity offers, as it soon will, we commend the claims of Marsters, as away ahead of those of Toole, Boyd, Sumner or Powell, to the support of the Times and such conventions as a few men, by ways that are dark and tricks that are, usually, vain, assume to act for the Liberal-Conservative party of Westmorland.

H. T. STEVENS.

WESTMORLAND TO MANITOBA.

To-morrow let Westmorland say to Manitoba: We are with you; we will not allow your legislative rights to be over-riden by Dominion politicians; we will insist on your constitution being respected; we send Killam to Ottawa as a token of our good will and brotherly regard. Across the wide prairies let us shake hands! Those who would send this fraternal greeting to our far away brethren will do so by voting for Killam. Those who, on the contrary, would say: Obey the remedial order or we will compel you to do so, will vote for Powell.

Which message will we send to our far away brethren?

THINK OF IT!

Workmen think of this! Thirty thousand dollars would found an industry that would employ 200 hands and feed 1,000 men, women and children. Think of public men wasting it, and don't approve of it by voting Powell. Rebuke it by voting Killam.

IRISHTOWN.

A mass meeting in the interests of Mr. Killam was held at the meeting house, Irishtown, last night. The speakers were E. H. McAlpine of St. John, Joseph Howe Dixon of Albert, and ex-Sheriff Wheaton of Richibucto. Our informant says that the enthusiasm was unbounded and that Killam's election is sure.

The St. John Telegraph intimates that if the people of Westmorland desire a member of parliament who can imitate all the members of certain Westmorland "first families," Mr. Powell is their man. If it is true that Mr. Powell can perform this feat, he undoubtedly has a memory that could not fail to be of the greatest service in the House of Commons, as the members of the families mentioned are as numerous as the sands of the seashore.—[Charlottetown Guardian.

Wood's acceptance of a seat in the Senate, a year before it was necessary, is costing the people fully $30,000 for the Dominion election, and as two seats in the local legislature have been vacated, two local elections will be contested, with much expenditures, strife, etc., all of which could have been prevented by Mr. Wood holding both positions for a few months longer, as he has for the last year or two. The only satisfaction the electors have is that they will never be bothered by Wood again, and Powell will be so badly snowed under next Saturday he will never come to the surface in again. But the unnecessary waste of the people's money should be condemned.

Carey Toole, Sutton Boyd, James E. Masters and H. A. Powell are not incorporated as a band of robbers, yet no incorporated company could act more steadily with a single aim than these people did when they undertook to destroy Mr. H. T. Stevens. Those who believe that the business and other interests of the community will be promoted by such wholesale larceny and rascality, will vote for H. A. Powell, so that he may have additional influence in effecting the destruction of others of his particular friends.

A WORD IN REPLY.

In answer to a friend who seems to think it strange I should support Killam as against Powell, I may say that I have opposed A. E. Killam a great deal in politics, but he has never robbed me; never cheated me; never betrayed my confidence; never that I am aware of, assisted any assassins to stab me or to steal my cash; never plotted my ruin. Neither has he ever done these things, so far as I know, to any other man. I have cause to wish I could say all this in respect of Fowell and the ruffians whom he materially assisted to place in charge of the Times newspaper, robbing me of a business that I had earned the right to hold.

THE EIGHT HOUR MOVEMENT.

A petition sent to Ottawa by the carpenters in the I. C. R. works about four months ago asking for an increase of pay, has been returned with refusal to grant the carpenters their reasonable request. Mr. Powell, the government candidate, being pledged to scab labor men and monopolists will not secure this right. Vote for Killam.

Mr. Foster said last night that Mr. Killam had never adopted the eight hour system. Right Mr. Foster; neither can any other private individual employing labor.

Mr. Killam favors the 8 hour system for government and all other employers of labor, while Powell says laborers are already highly paid. Minister Foster should sanction on condemning the 8 hour movement but he avoided doing so last night. However the electors will do so for themselves on Saturday next by voting for Killam.

From the Globe we learn that the matter of the winding up of the St. Lawrence Lumber Company was up yesterday before Judge Tuck in chambers on an application of some Quebec creditors to have some sales by them declared preference sales. The goods were attached at first, the creditors claiming that by the Quebec law the goods became the vendors' again as soon as there was no payment. It seems then the goods were allowed to go to the liquidators, it being understood that they then became a sale to the liquidators. Mr. Fitzpatrick, of Quebec, presented the case for the creditors, and Mr. J. C. Coster contra. Judgment was reserved.

We do not know how much property the St. Lawrence Lumber Company may have had but if the Masters-Powell method of dealing with it was adopted, the creditors would not be "in it" as the boys say. An interesting incident is mentioned in connection with Henry M. Stanley taking the oath last week in the house of Commons. After being sworn, he passed the Testament to the member waiting behind him. The latter turned out to be James J. O'Kelly, member of North Roscommon, with whom Mr. Stanley spoke last 20 years ago when they met in Africa. Both members were formerly New York reporters.
