

A Correction

The breaking of an n in the third line of the fifteenth verse of the poem "The Spirit of the Nation," in this issue turns fearless into earless. Please note the correction.

COUNTRY NOTES.

Sights and Sensations of the Rural Districts.

On examining a packing box he cried: "Why mamma; this is big enough for me to go to heaven in."

The following from a Nashwaak four-year-old will bear comparison with the witty sayings of children in the American newspapers:

On hearing a boy playing a mouth organ he exclaimed;—"Mamma, if I had only been with that boy when God made me I might have had a mouth organ, but I don't want to go now,"

On Seeing some bark that was brought into the house to kindle the fire, he asked where it came from, and being told that it came off the trees replied: "Why, I always thought the bark come out of a dog."

The recent rains have done a power of good in the country districts. Besides putting out the forest fires they have given assurance of a crop, the prospects for which were very slim before.

Noticing the Bible on the center table one day he asked whose book was that? "Its God's book" replied the lady of the house, whereupon he remarked: "Wasn't God a good old fellow to give you that book. Wonder if he will give me one when I grow up?"

We wish to express our deep regret at the information received from the papers of the sickness of our good friend Dr. Morehouse of Upper Keswick, and hope that very soon he will be again on his feet and attending to his patients. The doctor is too useful a man not to be missed keenly, not only for his professional skill but his company as a gentleman a pleasant conversationalist and an able literary contributor. We miss his effusions to THE JOURNAL very much.

About the Liver.

A lazy, torpid liver influences the whole system, causing biliousness, sick headache, sallow complexion, languor and dullness. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the liver, Purifies the secretions and cures all forms of liver troubles. We say so and here is the proof:

I hereby wish to thank you for the great benefit derived by me from your Burdock Blood Bitters. For three years I was troubled with liver complaint and tried everything to no purpose. I had almost given up hope until I determined to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I can say now that marked improvement resulted from the use of the first bottle, and at the end of the sixth bottle I discontinued its use, being completely cured.

I can certify to the above in every particular.
