

TOWN TALK.

What the Little Birds are Whispering into the Ear of the Journal Editor.

Fredericton is well supplied with lights. We have the Auer light the electric light, the gas lights and the Israel-lites. The latter however could be well dispensed with.

A soldier is expected to be willing to die for his country and Private Baxter was willing, but he preferred to go by the chloroform route rather than the sword or bullet of the enemy.

The promotion of Col. Maunsell will cause him to hold his head up higher than ever. If he does we would imagine that he would need an overdrawn check rein to keep it in position.

With the two merry-go-rounds now in full blast and the prospects of a circus in a few days the people of Fredericton ought to get amusement to last them for some time.

The marriage of Mr. Archie McDonald and Miss Elizabeth G. Roberts, the poetess, is to be solemnized at St. Ann's on June 9th. We would wish for these our young friends, who are worthy of all respect all material and spiritual blessings.

The Tartar Base Ball Club of this city cleaned out the McAdams in fine style at the match in Scully's grove recently. No use for "squirrels" to try it on; They can't touch them. Ta ta; Come again McAdam.

We sincerely sympathise with our friend Thomas Feeney in the loss of his bright little boy Frankie and the sickness of his two remaining children.

It is currently reported that our well-known book agent with the bare poll will represent Canada at the czar's coronation at Moscow. Like Talmage he will be a distinguished guest of the czar himself and may follow his example by writing an eulogy on Russian despotism.

By the unearthly rattle, continued all day and until 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning, made by the family living over THE JOURNAL Office we should imagine that they had started a roller rink or something of that sort. Whatever the custom may be in the outlandish country from which they came they should learn that the people of Fredericton have to work for their living and do not want to be kept awake at such unreasonable hours.
