

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Chiefly Concerning Ourselves and Our Friends.

The responses from subscribers and the voluntary renewals of some during the winter and spring have helped us out greatly, and done much to tide us over the hard times consequent upon the sickness of ourself, the inability of the wife to add to our slender means, and the more or less expense of bringing into our family and giving a start in life to the little stranger whose coming brought the first thrill of genuine happiness to our saddened and over-burdened heart since the death of our dear old mother.

Some appreciate our hard struggles, under very aggravating disabilities, permit us the right of every man—freedom of speech, and patronize us to the extent of their ability. There has been a gratifying absence of discontinuances or complaints during all this time, from our subscribers, but we are sorry to say that some few of our advertisers have deserted us in our sorest hour of need; but, as when God shuts one door he always opens another, their places have been largely filled by new friends, and the more than kindness of our old and staunch friends among the merchants in refusing us nothing which we have asked for in the way of food, clothing or medicine, regardless of how our account stood, has prevented us from suffering any discomfort or inconvenience.

Notwithstanding all this, had we not had a small account to our credit in the bank, we would have been very closely pinched for money wherewith to carry on the publication of THE JOURNAL. Among the remittances handed in or sent by letter, in each case with words of encouragement, are: D. B. Mysh-rall, Woodfords, Me., $1.00; John Taylor, Harvey Station, 70 cents; John Adams, Wiseley, 70 cents; C. H. McCluskey, Gibson, 70 cents; P. McCluskey, Gibson, 35 cents; Thomas H. Colter, Mouth Keswick, 35 cents; Dr. J. R. Inch, city, $1.05; Emery Sewell, $1.00; John Reardon, Cork Station, 35 cents; and several others whose names we cannot now recall.

Thanks, good friends, you have children of your own whom you love dearer than your lives; better fortunes and more hands, and do not let a poor man, struggling against overpowering odds and living up to the light he has as best
