The International Sunday School Convention held its annual meeting at Atlanta, Georgia, on 17th, 18th, 19th, April last. The delegates were over 500 in number, and represented 37 states and provinces. The proceedings throughout were most interesting and profitable, and had relation chiefly to the reporting, defining, furnishing and promoting Sunday School work. The Committee on lessons, appointed in 1872, to arrange for a series of lessons for seven years gave in their final report which was agreed to. A great impulse was given to Sabbath School work in the South, by means of the labors of the Convention. The talent, eloquence, members and christian character of this vast assembly haveldom been equalled, and we have no doubt the results of their deliberations will be most favourable in the directions of so great a work as the moral training of our American young.

It contains a separate and admirably written history of every nation of ancient and modern times, and is full of valuable information concerning them, presented in popular style, and in a manner that will enable the reader to refer instantly to any subject upon which information is desired. The book is a complete treasury of history, and there is not a question that can be asked concerning any historical subject, but an answer to it can be found in this work. The author does not content himself with a mere dry statement of facts. but schetches the life and manners of the varrsous natious of which he treats, in life-like colors, and psesents to the reader the causes which led to the prosperity and decay of the great powers of tee world. He shows us the various great men-the warriors, statesmen, poets, sages, and orators-of ancient and modorn times, and makes them familiar to the reader; he explains the secret motives of their actions, and points out the lessons which their lives teach. A valuable feature of the book is and Turkey. This is the only complete History of the World in print, and it should be read by every intelligent person. We are constantly called upon to discuss the great questions of history, and the wars and quarrels of the nations of the old world require us to be continually refreshing our historical knowledge. This work offers best means of odtaining the information the people need. It is compact, easy of reference, and strictly accurate, and presents to the reader a mass of information respecting to the reader a mass of information respecting ancient, mediæval and modern history not to be found in any other book.
