'Yes! It means sir,' shaking her head reprovingly, 'you are engaged to a far away cousin, and just when you were expected to fill your engagement, you ran off. Such is the gossip, at least, that comes to me from New York. Very wicked of you! Going about under false pretences, I should say. How lucky my correspondent happened to tell me. Some poor, easily deluded girl, at your hotel, might otherwise have fallen in love with you, for they say you are a dreadful flirt. I shall post you all over the White Mountains, or at least, I suppose I ought to! She laughed again her merry laugh.

Charley, driven to desperation, now told his story. He was anything but the self-possessed Charley of their first interview. He pulled at his whiskers, stammered for words, and could hardly meet Miss Derwent's eyes.

' love you-you-' emphasizing each word more. 'Otherwise I wouldn't have made this confession about my cousin. I should have had no right to do it if I hadn't loved you. I don't know who your correspondent is, but she hasn't told the whole truth. Upon my word, Miss Derwent, I never loved Miss Thorndyke. I never made her any promise. I have never loved any one but you, and,' looking her resolutely in the face, 'I never shall.'

Miss Derwent began to be a little frightened. This man was not a man to be trifled with, She changed color rapid-

'I-I cannot profess to misunderstand you,' she answered. 'And-and,' returning his look, at last with an effort, 'I believe you.' Charlie tried to catch her hand, but she withdrew it behind her.

She looked from one to the other turn, as if for an explanation.

In Miss Derwent's eyes there began to sparkle that roguish look, which Charley had learned to associate with mischief of some sort. The inclination to mirth was to much for her, and she broke into a peal of laughter, in which, after a moment Mrs. Stafford joined, as if it was infectious. GOFFSTOWN, N. H., Aug., 1, 1875. H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.: -Dear Sir,-Allow me to say a word in favor of VEGETINE. During the past year I have suffered from a complication of diseases. I lay in bed from the third of November until the middle of the following June, and on an average did not sit up two hours a week; I had eight of the best physicians in the state, but got no help, and constantly grew worse. They agreed that I had heart disease, phthisis, pyaemia, and kidney was reduced in weight 50 pounds, which is much, for I am naturally thin.

In June, finding that I was failing under the treatment of the physicians, I commenced the use of VEGETINE through the earnest persuasion of friends, and, I am happy to state, with good results. I have gained ten pounds in weight, and can sit up all day, walk half a mile and I am greatly encouraged, and shall continue using the VEGETINE if I can get it. I am a poor man, but for the truth of this statement I refer to any man in Goffstown or vicinity, Yours, very thankfully,

TESTIMONIALS.

Messrs McFarlane, Thompson & And erson. GENTLEMEN,-In repty to your enquiry about your Mowing Machines in this place, we would say that last year when we recevied your Mowers, we gave them a fair trial with others, before we offered them for sale. We used them an hour each in the field with the one team and an experienced driver. We, and others who were present, were convinced that your Mower would as good work, and was not as liable to get out of order as other Machines that are running here We have had some experience in repairing Mowers for the last five years. We have always found that the Wood Mower runs with the least expense; there are not so many bolts and nuts and run very smooth; the strains are met with straight lines, and these are features worthy of and run very smooth; the strains are met with straight lines, and these are features worthy of notice in machinery. In fact we think you have the plainest, simplest, and most substantial Mower running. They are dot only the best, but lowest in price of any of the same quality. We do not hesitate in saying to parties wanting to buy a good Machine, to try one before purchasing and be convinced that you make at home in our own country as good a Mower as can be got in the market. They are not surpassed by any, and should you accidentally break a piece you have no difficulty in getting it replaced at the Foundry; you are not humbugged by agents, and lose the use of a Machine nearly all having time hunting them, up, and then not find them. The use of a Machine nearly all haying time hunting them up and then not find them. The achines we sold last year gave good satisfaction, and the farmers wish you every success so long as you put up first-class machinery.

Gentlemen,—The only objection we have to the Machine is this, it is not to the shop for repairs. as often as we would like it, but as that is the kind that suits the farmers, we dare not grumble Yours respectfully.

THOS. W. HOYT.

Messrs. McFarlane, Thompson & Anderson. GENTLEMEN, -After having used one of your Walter A. Wood's Iron Frame Mowers for the last e years, cutting seventy tons of hay each season, I can, with a full knowledge of its merit testify to its excellent qualities. It is light of draught, cuts heavy and light, standing or lodged grass with perfect success, is easily managed, and very durable. It has never cost me one cent for repairs. It all appears in as good working order as when bought. The absence of bolts and nuts, in consequence of its solid boxing, I consider one of its most important and valuable improvements over other Mowers in our Market, and would most strongly recommend it to the farmers of York County as the Mower to buy.
