A little boy, five years old, of Mr. Jas. Morgan's, merchant at Southport, met with an accident last week which terminated fatally. The little fellow was out in the field playing, when his father turned the horse out to pasture. The little one ran up behind the horse and struck the animal with a stick. The horse kicked, striking the boy in the face, breaking his nose and inflicting an ugly gash in which Dr. Kelly, who was summoned was obliged to put a few stitches. It is not known how long the child laid in the field before going home, but the first his parents knew of the accident was when he walked into the house covered with blood and said "Take off! Take off!" no doubt thinking that the pain was caused by the horse's hoofs still remaining on his face. After a short time he was able to tell his parents the cause of the accident: "Hit 'orse with 'tick," meaning that he had struck the horse with a stick.

A joint meeting of the agricultural society and the board of trade has been called for Monday afternoon to make final arrangements for an exhibition to be held here this fall, about the 1st of October. Committees will be appointed, and the preliminary work done. There should be a good attendance and everything done, that can be done, to make the exhibition a success.

The majority of the stores were closed for the Thursday fall holiday, although there were some who failed to carry out the contract to the letter. There seems to be some doubt about this being continued. Instead of a half holiday why not close at six o'clock every evening except Saturday? We think this would be a far better arrangement and would not interfere with, or prevent the country people who come in on a Thursday from being able to purchase what they may require, as this half holiday business does, they not generally knowing that there is any such thing, and consequently are forced to return home without having been able to make their purchases.

DROWNED AT ST. ANDREWS.
By the Capsizing of the Yacht Ina, George Barker Lost His Life.

Early Thursday morning Geo. Barker, son of C. O. Barker, John Henry son of J. C. Henry, and a young man named Merrill of New Hampshire, cousin of Geo. Barker, started in the small yacht Ina for a sail to St. Andrews and return. At noon word was received that the yacht had capsized in St. Andrews harbor and that Geo. Barker had been drowned. Barker was a bright, generous hearted young man of 24 and had a host of friends. For two years past he has been an officer on Gen. F. B. Butler's sailing yacht America, sailing out of Gloucester, Mass., and was an excellent swimmer. The body was recovered. Much sympathy is felt for his parents and two sisters. His remains were taken to New Hampshire for burial. He was spending his vacation with his parents and expected to rejoin the America next week.

Funeral of Judge Watters.

A very large number of the citizens of St. John attended the funeral of the late Hon. Judge Watters, which took place Monday afternoon. The body was taken to the Cathedral, where services were held, and then conveyed to the Roman Catholic burying ground, in the rear of St. Peter's church, and interred by the side of his first wife. The pall bearers were Lt. Gov. Tilley, Chief Justice Ritchie, and Judges Tuck, King, Stevens and Steadman. Preceding the hearse were the members of the Board of Health, the Barristers' Society, and the Law Students' Association. The chief mourners were his sons, Albert, Thomas, Harry, Frank, William, Kenneth and Robert; his son-in-law, Dr. McAvenny, and his brother-in-law, Mr. James McDonell, of New York.

The floral tributes were very numerous and very handsome. A large pillow, thirty inches square, was from the members of the Board of Health. It was of white carnations and roses, ferns, bravedia and stephanotis with a base of lilies. The word "Rest" was across the centre in purple letters. The members of the Law Society sent a beautiful cross of yellow and white roses, stephanotis and ferns, with the arms of golden ferns. A beautiful wreath of white roses, stephanotis and ferns was from the Provincial Board of Health. The grandchildren of Judge Watters sent a crescent of pink and white roses. Another handsome piece was a large anchor of cream and white roses. Besides these large pieces there were many baskets and bunches of cut flowers sent in by friends and relatives of the deceased.

Horrible Accident.
A Boy Falls Down a Shaft a Distance of 770 Feet.

A horrible accident happened at Sydney Mines on Wednesday last. About 3 o'clock in the morning, as four night shiftmen were coming to the surface in a "cage" one of them, a boy named Stephen Gillis fell out of the cage near the surface. The men in the descending cage hearing the noise of the falling body were so alarmed that they leaped to the bottom while still a few feet from it. They feared that the shaft cribbing had given away. But a few feet from them they found the mangled body of Gillis, his vest, coat and shoes stripped from him, his arm bones devoid of flesh and his brains scattered about. It is thought that a fainting fit seized him. He fell at least a distance of 770 ft. The young man belonged to the League of the Cross, and was buried by that order on Thursday.

Micked by a Horse.

While Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Marchant were driving in from Black River to Chatham on Friday last the horse stumbled and kicked and afterwards fell to the ground. Mr. Marchant immediately dropped the reins and jumped out of the wagon to assist it to rise. While thus engaged he happened to look back at the wagon when he saw Mrs. Marchant hanging over the dashboard. He rushed back to her assistance while some men who had come up attended to the horse. He found her insensible and covered with blood with a large cut in her face where she had been kicked by the horse. As fast as possible he drove to town and procured the assistance of Dr. J. B. Benson. In addition to being cut, her face, throat, and breast were badly bruised and swollen. The doctor sewed up the cut and attended to her other injuries, and although she is now a little easier from pain, she will be confined to her bed for some time. She had a narrow escape from being killed.

Andrews, a well known medical practitioner of Lynn, Mass. Stories derogatory to Mrs. Dodge have been circulated for some time and she traced them, she alleges, to Dr. Andrews. Saturday morning she saw Andrews enter a printing office, and followed him. Andrews called Mrs. Dodge a "shovel for the police" and she replied by insinuating that he was a malpractitioner. Suddenly Mrs. Dodge struck Andrews who is a middle aged man and followed it up by banging his head against a brick wall. Dr. Andrews attempted to escape, but the angry woman gave chase and kicked him through the printing office, following him to the street. Andrews at once went home. Mrs. Dodge is a member of the Baptist church, and Andrews takes a prominent part in the affairs of the Washington street Baptist society.

Hanlan and O'Connor Win Easily.

Fully fifteen thousand people witnessed the great double scull race at Hamilton last Saturday evening for the world's championship. The men were in good condition and the water smooth. It was exactly seven o'clock when a start was made, and it was a beautiful one. Both crews got away together, Hanlan and O'Connor pulling 36 strokes to the minute and Gaudaur and McKay pulling 35. It was neck and neck for the first 300 yards, but after this point the Toronto double had the race well in hand. The mile post was passed by Hanlan and O'Connor in 5.25. They were then over a length in advance of their opponents and pulling only 30 strokes to the minute, while Gaudaur and McKay were still pulling hard. At the mile and a half both the Toronto crew made a beautiful turn, while the losers in the race made a very ugly one, and lost fully a boat's length by their poor work. The mile and a half stake was reached by the winners in 8 min. 35 sec. On the home stretch the leaders did not exert themselves to any extent, and when within a quarter of a mile of the finish they stopped rowing and Hanlan dipped his hand in the bay. The losing crew were still pulling hard at their old pace, and managed to gain a couple of lengths by his manoeuvre on the part of the Toronto crew. The result, however, was unchanged, and Hanlan and O'Connor arrived at the finish winners by fully four boat lengths, in 18 minutes, 26 1/2 seconds. Many people were disappointed the three mile record was not lowered, and it is generally thought the Toronto crew could have accomplished this feat had they wished to do so.

FATAL BALLOONING ACCIDENT.

A Parachutist Killed and a Young Woman Narrowly Escapes.

A balloon accident occurred Saturday at Leeds, England, by which a balloonist and parachutist was killed and a young woman, Miss Devoy, had a narrow escape from death. The ascent of the couple was watched by quite a crowd and when the balloon was released it rapidly soared upward amid cheers. A cross bar was attached to the balloon and it was the intention of the couple to give a trapeze performance when they had reached a sufficient height and afterwards to descend by means of a parachute. After the balloon had risen a short distance it was caught in a current of air and drifted sideways until it struck a telegraph pole. The couple were sitting on the bar and when the balloon struck the pole the bar swayed to and fro in a frightful manner. Miss Devoy, to avoid being thrown off, lowered herself by her hands, hung for a moment and then let go. The height from which she dropped was not great and she landed on the ground unhurt. Released from her weight the balloon swung upward. Higgins, who was still on the bar, became entangled in the telegraph wires and was swept off the bar and fell, twisting and turning, upon a fence. He struck on his back, received terrible injuries and died after suffering for a few moments the most intense agony.
