Small Potatoes.

It takes all kinds of men to make a world, but there is little doubt that the world would be far better off without some men in it. We have a grievance to relate this week which concerns an individual employed on a weekly paper down street, and which, from the accounts that have been given us, surprise us more than a little. The facts are these: On Saturday last the Globe issued a special holiday edition and the papers sold at a lively rate on both sides of the river. At St. Mary's there is a deserving young lad, a son of Mrs. Titus, whose husband lost his life so sadly a short time ago. This boy is anxious to make what money he can. On Saturday he called at this office and the proprietor gave him a number of Globes to sell. The boy disposed of his papers quickly. He has been selling Progress and The Herald for some time past. When an employee of The Herald discovered that the lad sold the Globe, he at once informed him that he must stop selling the latter paper and sell only The Herald. This is what we call mean in every sense of the word. Why stop the boy from making what little money he could, no matter how many papers he handled. We did not suppose that the Herald was so afraid of its weekly contemporary, but it looks very like it from the above. Even this, however, would not justify a man in depriving a poor industrious lad from making an honest penny.

MISSIONARY ENTERTAINMENT

In the Free Christian Baptist Church Sunday Night.

Last Sunday evening the Free Baptist church was filled to the doors. The entertainment given in aid of the missionaries was a most successful affair. There is not the least doubt that if such entertainments were of more frequent occurrence, great good would be the result. The music, readings and recitations were most appropriate and all well rendered. The reading by F. Hartley was exceptionally fine, but he was just a little slow in delivery. He possesses a clear, deep voice, of which he has good command, and with practice Mr. Hartley will make an eloquent speaker. Another taking and rather amusing feature of the evening was a sermon by Master Vandine, son of Dow Vandine, who took for his text the following: "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver." A collection for the missions was then taken up, after which Rev. F. C. Hartley pronounced the benediction.

Mr. Bellamy's Estate.

Referring to the recent publication of alleged transactions in railway stock between the late Mr. Bellamy and himself, Mr. W. T. Whitehead states in the Fredericton Farmer:

The late Hon. Richard Bellamy held two shares of stock in the St. John Valley and Tobique Railway Co., and on his becoming a member of the Legislature he asked me if I would take them, as he might be called upon to vote a subsidy to the road in his capacity as a member of the House. I said I would consent, provided I would not be held responsible for any liability for the shares. He replied that he would assume all liability, and pay it if there was any call to pay. He then wrote to the company notifying them that he had handed over his interest to me. I afterwards subscribed to 165 shares myself, on which I paid all the calls and afterwards sold and transferred the stock to a gentleman executing a transfer for that stock only. Subsequently, Mr. Bellamy executed a transfer of his two shares to the same gentleman, and if Mr. Bellamy received any money out of the transaction he got it from the gentleman to whom the transfer was made. That is the whole story regarding the stock transaction between myself and Mr. Bellamy. With regard to the manner in which the deceased gentleman bestowed his property, I may say that during our trip to the Southern States a short time ago, Mr. Bellamy asked my advice as to whom he should will his property; and I advised him to give it to educational and charitable purposes. I never had any idea that I would be benefited to the extent of one dollar by Mr. Bellamy's disposal of his property, and up to the day of his death the most cordial and friendly personal relations existed between Bellamy and myself.

Death of an Old Resident.

Mr. Bernard McCaffrey, an old and well known citizen, died very suddenly Wednesday morning at his home on Brunswick street. He was in his 80th year, and has been quite feeble during the past year. He was a native of County Fermanagh, Ireland, and came to this city in 1837. The deceased was a contractor and builder, and in his day was an active and popular man. His family includes John McCaffrey and Miss McCaffrey of this city; Mrs. Melick of St. John, Mrs. McGregor, now living in England, and Frank McCaffrey, a resident of Boston. The funeral took place yesterday morning.

That Christmas Money.

In the next few weeks people will talk Christmas more than all other subjects combined. And very many will count their pennies to see if they go around. And some will realize for the countless things offered for sale, "that money talks." Yes, and many a poor tired clerk will wish that they too could talk back. To give unselfishly without thought of return is the true Christmas spirit; but how many times, oh human nature, will the thought occur this month "Now if I make so and so a Christmas present, wonder if I will get a return next year." The growing Christmas present custom comes hard among certain classes, who do not always have plenty of ready money; among farmers and people near towns, who keep poultry the egg supply is a great source of Christmas money, because prices are always very high at this season. If the old hens will only shell out the eggs now, thinks many a mother, I can soon get back all the money taken for Christmas. The surest way we have heard to get it back is this—E. A. Hubbard of Hatfield, Mass., says, "about one year ago I sent $5.00 for six cans of Sheridan's Condition Powder to make hens lay and in January my 28 hens laid 29 dozen eggs. I have sent $5.00 this year for six more cans and the Farm-Poultry monthly." Certainly that Christmas money came back in short order. Mrs. Warren Delano, Hamplden, Me., said recently to the manufacturers of this wonderful Powder "I send $6.00 for Farm-Poultry two years, and six large cans of Sheridan's Powder. It is the very thing needed. Last winter my hens did so poorly I almost lost heart, but this year 50 hens have cleared me $125.00." All for a little courage and Sheridan's Powder, her hens paid her more than double the average usually allowed per hen, so that her Christmas money returned manifold. Husbands, a word to the wise is sufficient; make your wives a Christmas present of six cans of Sheridan's Powder and take no other. For 50 cents I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send two 25 cent packs; five packs for $1.00; or for $1.25, one large 25 cent pack of Powder, postpaid; six cans for $5.00, express pre-paid. The best poultry paper—Farm Poultry, one year, and a can of Powder for $1.50.
