The Wrong Man.

The Grand Lodge officers of the Kuights of Pythias from Springhill, N. S., who attended the Grand lodge here this week, purchased a beautiful bouquet for presentation to G. V. C. Fowler, of this city. The presentation was to be made at the depot just before the train left, and was made, but to the wrong person Mayor Cooper, who made the presentation, (before he could be prevented) addressed himself to Past Chancellor Powers, of St. John in a most becoming manner, and presented him with the bouquet. Powers accepted with thanks, and turning to a young lady with whom he had been in conversation, presented her with the bouquet, as the prettiest young ady on the platform. One on the Mayor.

He said the statement made by Carroll about confession was unfounded. He did not expect justice nor did he by his remarks wish to create sympathy.

After finishing his remarks the Judge said he was sorry to see a man of such excellent abilities found guilty as he was. After commenting on the course he should pursue in the penitentiary he sentenced him to 25 years in Dorchester penitentiary, and when sentence was delivered the prisoner turned with a smiling sneer and took his seat. As "Buck" came in to receive sentence of death there was a complete silence. The judge asked him it he had anything to say, but he said no.

The judge related the merits of the charge, the absolute certainty of his guilt and the necessity of him preparing for the end.

He reminded him of the necessity of calling tended him. his spiritual adviser and making his peace. Then he sentenced him to be hanged by the neck in the common jail at Dorchester on
