KNIGHTS AT WOODSTOCK.

Fowler Division No. 6 of this City the best Drilled Division in the Parade.

The Knights returned from Woodstock Wednesday much pleased with their trip and reception given them by the Woodstock lodge. About 3 o'clock, after the Wilfred division had been organized, the different divisions met and formed on King street. The procession contained in all about one hundred and fifty men, and presented a fine appearance. While the marching of all the divisions was excellent, Fowler division of this city was admitted by all to be the best drilled, and received applause all along the line of march as they performed some very pretty movements. The line of march concluded at the Wilbur house, the knights forming three sides of a square with the bands in the centre, and were addressed by his Worship Mayor Drysdale from the balcony of the Wilbur house as follows:

"Sir Knight Colonel Moulson, commander of the Division of the Uniform Rank, K. of P. of the Maritime provinces, and Sir Knights: "In the name and on behalf of the citizens of Woodstock, I extend to your society a wish for its universal and continued prosperity, and to you Sir Knights individually and collectively a hearty welcome to our town, trusting that the acquaintance begun to-day shall be renewed year by year, until it ripens into a friendship as lasting as that which underlies the foundations of your honored society. An Eastern sage was wont to say "That no life was pleasing to God that was not useful to man." But the spirit of Christianity still more clearly and strongly inculcates the same sentiments. The Saviour continually went about doing good. His daily walk and all his miracles had for their object the instruction of the ignorant, the relief of suffering and the promotion of the temporal and eternal welfare of man.

"In humble imitation of His glorious example, you have declared that your order recognizes the universality of human brotherhood, and is designed to embrace the world within its jurisdiction. And you further declare your mission is to uplift the fallen, to champion humanity, to be his guide and hope, his refuge, shelter and defence; to soften down the asperities of life, subdue party spirit, and, by the sweet and powerful attractions of the glorious triunity, friendship, charity and benevolence, to bind in one harmonious brotherhood men of all classes and opinions. Enunciations so broad and universal, and principles so beautiful, so wide and so attractive, should command themselves to every mind, and we should exemplify them in every avenue of social life, not only for our own true interest and individual improvement but for the happiness and welfare of society generally. In conclusion, on the records of all societies like the one you represent, we always find a few names handed down as benefactors from one generation to another. Let it be your study individually thus to transmit your names with honor to coming time."

Past Grand Chancellor Moulson, of the supreme lodge of the world, replied to the above address, setting forth the history of the order, its work among and advantages to men, and thanking the citizens for the cordial welcome given to the Uniform Rank. Each band then gave a selection, after which Capt. Fowle put Fowler Division, No. 6, through some fancy drill, the boys performing some very difficult movements without a hitch.

Wilfred division appeared to good advantage in their new uniforms, and won great praise for their military bearing and good marching.

The promenade concert in the evening was largely attended, and was a most successful affair, everything being conducted in a most creditable manner. The Grand band furnished the large audience with some very pretty selections.

The men got him out as quickly as possible, and found that it was Donovan and that he was dead. He could not have been in the water more than fifteen minutes. SPORTING.

Trotting at Mystic.

At the sixth annual meeting of the New England Trotting Horse Breeders' Association at Boston, the most remarkable mile was done by Tom Gillig, the phenomenal yearling, who made a New England record of 2:37 1/2 for his age last week. He tried to beat it, but could not do it against the stiff breeze up the stretch. As it was, however, he showed a beautifully level mile, never once lifting his nose, and moving with an old campaigner's pace. His time was 2:39 1/2. The spectators gave him a round of applause as he went back to the stable, in approval of a game, if unsuccessful, trial.

The 2:30 race had a tragic beginning. Midnight Chimes, the pride of C. J. Hamlin's stable, fell dead on the track. Ed Geers, the driver, came out of it uninjured, save a bruised hand, though he had a narrow shave. It is not known just what was the trouble, but a burst blood vessel was accepted as the most probable cause. The dead mare was a three-year-old by Chimes, and valued at $20,000. She had a race record of 2:16 1/2. She was entered in a number of valuable stakes which were deemed to be easily within reach.

On Wednesday at Tette Haute, Ind., Nancy Hanks trotted a mile in 2:04; the quarters in 31; 1.02 1/2 and 1.31 1/2. This breaks the world's record for a light harness horse, either trotting or pacing.

The Canadian Championship.

Over 4,000 people were gathered upon the M. A. A. grounds at Montreal last Saturday afternoon to witness the annual fall games of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Association. Early in the afternoon the American contingent, among whom were Messrs H. H. Morell, G. Schwieger, H. E. Billings, S. Winslow, W. C. Downer, T. Letson, R. T. Lyons, E. C. Carter, I. S. Mitchell, E. Ransher and Geo. Goldie was on the grounds.

It soon became apparent that Canadian records were going to go, but no one anticipated the smashing of a world's record until Harry Jewett, of the Detroit A. C., came out in the 220 yards run and came in flying in the astonishing time of 21:3-5ths. Then those who knew turned themselves loose and howled, for the best Canadian record is 22-1-5ths done in Toronto by Jewett just a year ago. Mitchell broke the record, the 56th weight, with 32 feet 3 inches, while Orton of the Toronto L. C. lowered the record for the mile run to 4 min. 21-4-5ths sec. Gentlemen was disqualified for unfair walking in the three mile walk, and this fell to W. H. Meek of the Columbia C. C. in 21 min. 55-1-5ths sec.

SWINDLING OPERATIONS.

Carried on by Three Prominent St. John Men, One of Them Being Rev. Sidney Welton of the Main Street Baptist Church.

A general topic of conversation in St. John now is the alleged swindling operations that have been carried on by the Rev. Sidney Welton, pastor of the main Street Baptist church; C. B. Welton, formerly a pastor of the same denomination, and Dr. E. C. Randall, a physician of Hillsboro. These three gentlemen are now confined in the jail at St. John. A fourth party implicated in the case is Gideon D. Reed, of Albert County, who is being looked up by Detective Ring.

The following, which was issued at the instance of Mr. John W. H. Turner, of Caledonia, A. C., is the cause of the arrests:

Information of John W. H. Turner, of county of Albert, who saith:-

That he suspects and believes that Cephas C. Walton, Sidney Welton, Edward C. Randall and Gideon D. Reed, between the first day of January in the year of our Lord, 1890, and the 27th day of September in year last aforesaid, in city of St. John, city and county of St. John, and fully did conspire, combine, confederate and agree together by divers false pretences and subtle devices, falsely and fraudulently, to acquire and obtain to themselves, and in pursuance thereof unlawfully did obtain of and from the Total Abstinence Life Association of America, a large sum of money, to wit, the sum of $3,000, money of said Total Abstinence Life Association of America, with intent to cheat and defraud the said Total Abstinence Life Association, contrary to the statute made and provided.

The history of the case is briefly that Wm. D. Reed, of Caledonia, was insured in the Total Abstinence Insurance Company of Chicago, for $3,000. The application bore the name of Wm. D. Reed, the signature of Rev. Sidney Welton as witness, and was made through C. B. Welton as agent. A few weeks after the policy was effected Wm. D. Reed died and Dr. Randall gave a certificate of death, in which it is said he declared he had attended the deceased, who was ill only a few days. Shortly after this Mrs. Reed, who is a daughter of Mr. Turner, was told by Gideon D. Reed, brother of the deceased, that her husband had a policy on his life in her favor of $2,000. Subsequently she was paid $1,000 by C. B. Welton and was told that was the total amount. As Mrs. Reed never had any knowledge that her husband was insured, she consulted her father, and he finally communicated with the head office. This led to investigations, which resulted in the above.

The prosecution charge that Wm. D. Reed never knew of the insurance effected on his life and they endeavor to prove that the signature to the application have is a forgery. The prosecution have $3,000 policy in Mr. Reed's favor, attached to which is Mrs. Reed's receipt for the full amount. She only got $1,000, and declares she never signed for $3,000. This looks like forgery of her signature which might also be proved. The endorsement on the draft by which the $3,000 was drawn from the company is also alleged to be a forgery. Mrs. Reed does not think that her husband knew anything whatever of the insurance and believes that the premiums were paid by other parties.

Some very incriminating evidence is stated to be forthcoming on the point of Wm. D. Reed's illness.

The Rev. Mr. Welton feels his position keenly, but states that it is nothing to implicate him in the affair. He says he is innocent of any attempt at wrong doing and merely forwarded the application and received the draft as an agent.

Information was made by Mr. C. J. Spencely of the Golden Rule Insurance Company, against C. B. Welton, Dr. Randall and G. D. Reed. The information was similar to that in the Reed case, and the amount of fraud was stated to be $2,500.

He came with his regiment to Canada at the time of the Trent affair. The close proximity of the Republic proved too much for Mr. Gilmore, and he deserted. His musical abilities soon brought him into prominence, and it was not long before he organized his famous band, which has since become a household word.

A LOCOMOTIVE THIEF.

Striker Burns Stole an Engine and was Chased by Police in Another.

The Lehigh Valley railroad across Edward Burns, an ex-switchman, and his pal, at present unknown, of stealing one of its locomotives. Last Friday afternoon the two stood on the Lake shore crossing of the Lehigh frantically waving a coat with a red lining. Engineer Rufus Spencer stopped his machine to inquire the cause, whereupon the pair climbed into the cab, and with drawn revolvers commanded Spencer to get off. Spencer refused. Then one of the two pulled the throttle open and the locomotive jumped like a frightened rabbit and went rattling out towards East Buffalo. Spencer was made to lie down on the cab floor under threat of instant death. No one saw the men on board the locomotive save the telegraph operator at the junction, who telegraphed for police. A sergeant came down with a squad in a wagon, and inside of five minutes another engine was racing after the first.

The fugitives saw their pursuers, and when they caught sight of their brass buttons, reversed the level and one of them jumped off and ran into the tunnel. The first man escaped. The other, Burns, pulled his engine to a halt before he jumped off, and the squad caught him. The prisoner is in jail awaiting trial. He was a striking switchman.
