THE GENERAL ELECTION!

Election, To-day.

The Government Candidates for the County of York are-

HON. A. G. BLAIR, WILLIAM WILSON, JOHN ANDERSON, THOMAS H. COLTER.

VOTE THE TICKET.

ELECTION TO-DAY.

At the polls to-day the people of the province will say, by ballot, whether the Blair government shall continue in power, or step down and out to give place to a new administration. Everything points to a renewal of confidence in the present rulers and we will be greatly surprised, if when the returns are all in, the opposition party will not still remain in the minority, and Mr. Blair and his followers receive a vote from the people that will leave no doubt as to the electors confidence in the York county boy. In York county, at least, the government is certain of victory, and it would be an ungrateful act on the part of the electorate of York to do otherwise than return, with an increased majority, the Attorney General and the three gentlemen supporting him, viz—Messrs. Wilson, Anderson and Colter. York has never, under any government, fared so well as under the present administration and for proof of this we have only to remind our readers of the Fredericton bridge, the handsome and substantial new departmental buildings, the new deaf and dumb asylum, the efforts put forth to improve our agricultural, stock, and dairy interests, which efforts have been in every sense, most successful. Do the people of York imagine they would fare nearly so well if the reins of government were in the hands of Dr. Stockton? surely not. Then again we have to point to the subsidy granted the Canada Eastern railway, and the Prince William Railway, while throughout the whole county the roads and bridges are in a better condition to-day than ever before.

GREEN GOODS MEN.

One of our merchants received a packet of documents neatly printed, and the contents were most pleasingly told—how for the sum of ten dollars, "green goods" will be sent to his address worth say $100—the meaning of which is that for genuine money you may get counterfeit, so well executed that even experts cannot often tell the difference. Thus are we invited to become criminals and run the risk of taking up our board in States prison, or penitentiary; yet a large amount of this rascally stuff must be passed off—the anglers must get bites enough to keep them moving, for the work has been going on for many years, as most people know, especially those who have been bitten. If there were no dupes there would be no sharpers. As long as they can get bites from the green horns, so long will they ply their calling, for one good haul will pay rent and keep the rascals in food for many days at a time. But the beauty of the whole thing is in the implicit confidence the rascals place in the parties to whom they address their circulars, although they may never have seen their intended victims, only it may be read their names in the directory. They desire to form a confidential correspondence with Smith, with a view of driving a large trade by means of which Smith is to accumulate a large fortune without the least effort—that is to say Smith is expected to shell out good provincial notes worth say $100,000, and in return receive $10,000 in bogus, undetectable American notes, which when Smith receives he is to pass off as best he can, and run the risk of receiving all the honors of a penitentiary life for a term of years. And yet there must be many Smiths of that kind, to keep the business going. Now what seems to us the most remarkable is that the American detectives have not been on the trail of these villains long ere this and run them to cover, for their haunts must be known to persons having dealings with them, or how could exchanges be made between the parties in the business. But there is a direction for the use of our merchant to whom the circular was forwarded, and if it serves as a clue to the discovery of the parties this paper will stand in for words of approval in accomplishing such an end. The address reads: "H. Franklin," "care of Passaic County Hotel," "Passaic, New Jersey." To this address then any of our readers may send their money and "take their choice."

In this issue we are offering to the public their choice of two papers FREE. THE AMERICAN FARMER, a sixteen page paper, finely illustrated; devoted to farming in all its branches; stock raising, poultry, etc. This paper also contains articles on topics of general interest and selections by the best authors.

CANADA'S brightest and best monthly paper published in the Dominion, is something every person should have. Having made arrangements we are prepared to furnish the GLOBE and either of the above papers for one year for $1.00 payable in advance. This offer is without a doubt the most liberal offer ever made by any paper, and we hope will be fully appreciated and secure for us many new subscribers. Sample copies sent on application.

It is now almost a month since the shooting affair of St. Mary's and yet the prisoners are still undergoing their preliminary examination. The case has been postponed from day to day and from week to week, for what reason is not apparent. Why delay the proceeding? Why not put the examination through, for it is only an examination, and at the most the prisoners can only be sent up for trial, when the whole ground will be fully covered. It is so seldom that our police court has a real big case on hand, we suppose it is necessary to make the most of it.

A SOLSVILLE MIRACLE

ANOTHER GREAT TRIUMPH FOR A CANADIAN REMEDY.

An Account of the Sufferings and Restoration of Philander Hyde—Multiple, Ridden and Long for Death—His Recovery From This Pitiable Condition—A Remarkable Narrative.

The Syracuse Standard. During the past few months there have appeared in the columns of the Standard the particulars of a number of cures so remarkable as to justify the term miracles. These cases were investigated and vouched for by the Albany Journal, the Detroit News, Albany Express and other papers whose reputation is a guarantee that the facts were as just stated. That the term miraculous was justified will be admitted when it is remembered that in each of the cases referred to the sufferer has been pronounced incurable by leading physicians, and at least one of the cases was treated by men whose reputation has placed them among the leaders of the world's medical scientists, but without avail, and the patient was sent to his home with the verdict that there was no hope for him, and that only death could intervene to relieve his sufferings. When some months later the restoration to health and strength of the former sufferer was announced it is little wonder that the case created a profound sensation throughout the country. Recently the following letter, which indicated an equally remarkable cure, came under the notice of The Standard:

SOLSVILLE, N. Y., June 25, 1892.

Five weeks ago father, (Philander Hyde,) was very low and not expected to live but a short time. He was in such agony that we had to give him morphine to relieve the terrible pain from which he was suffering. The doctors had given him up. They said there was no help for him, and my dear father longed for death as being the only certain relief from his sufferings. One day he saw in the Albany Journal an account of a man by the name of Quant, living in Galway, Saratoga county, and who was afflicted like father with locomotor ataxia, had been very greatly benefited and hoped for permanent cure from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. On learning that these pills could be had of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, and that they were not expensive, my husband sent $2.50 for six boxes of them. And what a blessing they have been! Father has taken but four boxes of the Pink Pills. He is no longer confined to his bed, but is able to get up without assistance and the aid only of a cane to walk about the house and all around out of doors. He has a good hearty appetite, his food agrees with him, the pain in the back from which he suffered so long and so terribly, has left him. He has no more creeping chills and he appears and says he feels like a new man. The doctors had pronounced his disease to be creeping paralysis, and said he could not be cured. He said we are that we heard about these wonderful Pink Pills, and how thankful we are for what they have done for father. Indeed they have done wonders, yes, even a miracle for him. Respectfully yours, Mrs. WILLIAM JOHNSON.

The above letter indicated a cure so remarkable as to be worthy of the fullest investigation and The Standard determined to place the facts, if correctly stated, before the public for the benefit of other sufferers, or if unfounded to let the people know it. With this end in view a reporter was sent to Solville with instructions to give the facts of the case as he found them. With these instructions he went to Solville and on Tuesday, Aug. 2, 1892, called upon Philander Hyde and learned from him and from his relatives and neighbors and friends the whole story of his sickness and his terrible suffering, of his having been given up by the doctors, and of his cure and rapid convalescence by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

It may be of interest to the reader to know that Solville is a postoffice village in Madison county, N. Y., about thirty miles from Utica, on the line of the New York, Ontario & Western Railroad. It is the station at which to get off to go to Madison Lake, the charming and attractive objective point of a great many picnic and excursion parties. On reaching Solville the reporter enquired of the station agent, who is also agent there of the National Express Company, if he knew a man by the name of Philander Hyde, and where he lived, and also if he knew a man by the name of William Johnson. "Yes," said he, "I am William Johnson, and Philander Hyde, who is my wife's father, lives with me in that white house over there on the side hill; that's him sitting on the piazza."

When told that your reporter's errand was to interview Mr. Hyde and to learn about his sickness and alleged cure, Mr. Johnson said: "That's all right; you go right over to the house and see Mr. Hyde and my wife. I will come over pretty soon, and we will be only too happy to tell you all about it."

"Will you walk in?" said Mrs. Johnson. "These children (who are playing about the piazza) are my twins, and this is my father, Philander Hyde."

Mr. Hyde walked into the sitting room and taking a seat said he would willingly tell the story of his sickness and cure, and had no objection to its being published, as it might be the means of helping to relieve others whose sufferings were the same or similar to what his had been.

His story was as follows: "My name is Philander Hyde. I am nearly 70 years old—will be 70 in September. I was born in Brookfield, Madison county, where all my life was spent until recently, when, becoming helpless, my son-in-law was kind enough to take me to his home, and from him and my daughter I have had the kindest care. My life occupation has been that of a farmer. I was always prosperous and well and strong and rugged until two years ago last winter, when I had the grip. When the grip left me I had a sensation of numbness in my legs, which gradually grew to be stiff at the joints and very painful. I felt the stiffness in my feet first, and the pain and stiffness extended to my knees and to my hip joints, and to the bowels and stomach and prevented digestion. To move the bowels I was compelled to take great quantities of castor oil. "While I was in this condition, cold feelings would begin in my feet and spread up my legs to my back and would follow the whole length of my backbone. These spells, which occurred daily, would last for two hours, and were excruciatingly painful. I could not sleep, I had no appetite, I became helpless, and life was such a burden that I prayed for death. Why, my dear sir, the pain I suffered was more to be dreaded than a thousand deaths.

"While in this condition I was treated by Dr. Green, of Poolville, and Dr. Nicholson, of Solville, and Dr. Weed, of Utica. They did me no good. I soon became perfectly helpless and lost all power of motion even in my bed."

"On the 24th of February last," said Mrs. Johnson, "we had him brought to our home. He had to be carried all the way in bed. He was so helpless and such a sufferer the doctors give him up. They said he had locomotor ataxia and that he could not be cured. They stopped giving him medicine and said they could only relieve the pain, and for the purpose he took a pint of whiskey a day for three months and morphine in great quantities.

"It was while father was in this dreadful condition that we saw in the Albany Journal the story of the miraculous cure of a Mr. Quant in Galway, Saratoga county, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. We had not much faith, but we felt that it was our duty to try them, and so we sent to Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, and got six boxes of the pills. We read the directions carefully, and resolved to comply with them as fully as possible. We stopped giving him morphine or any other medicine, cut off all stimulants, and gave him the Pink Pills and treatment according to directions in which each box is wrapped. The effect was wonderful and almost immediate. In ten days after father began taking the pills he could get out of bed and walk without assistance, and has continued to improve until now he walks about the house and the streets by the aid of a cane only."

"Yes," said Mr. Hyde, "and the pain has gone out of my back and the numbness out of my legs. I have no more chills, my digestion is good, and I have an excellent appetite, and then after a pain, 'But, ah me, I am an old man; I have been, but by best days and can not hope to recover my old vigor as a younger man might, but I am so thankful to have the use of my limbs and to be relieved of those dreadful pains."

Mr. Hyde has continued to take the pill regularly since he began their use, and was on his tenth box at the time he told his story. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, other people in Solville confirm the accounts of the sickness of Mr. Hyde and of his most remarkable recovery, and a number of others for various ailments, are using the Pink Pills. The mother of Abel Curtis is using them with satisfactory effects, for rheumatism, and Mrs. Lippitt, wife of ex-Senator Lippitt, is using the Pills with much benefit, for nervous debility.

A further investigation revealed the fact that Dr. Williams' Pink pills are not a patent medicine in the sense in which that term is usually understood, but a scientific preparation successfully used in general practice for many years before being offered to the public generally. They contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of a grippé, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, and the tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry overwork or excesses of whatever nature.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapped, at 50cts. a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.
