

LOCAL NEWS.

Jottings on Events as they Happen about Town.

The Ebb and Flow of Civic and Suburban Life.

Purchased a Business.

Miss S. Kelly has purchased the millinery stock in the establishment lately run by Mr. Fred Trites here in the interest of Daniel & Boyd, of St. John. Mr. Trites left for St. John Thursday.

Sixth Annual Moonlight Excursion.

The Star Social club will run their sixth annual moonlight excursion on Tuesday Aug. 22nd. The David Weston has been chartered and will leave her wharf at eight o'clock, returning about midnight. There will be lots of music for dancing, refreshments, etc., and for those who enjoy a sail on the river in the evening, a 'beautiful moon.' Posters containing particulars will be out next week.

Will March to Church.

Prentice Boys, Lodge No 21, will march from the Orange Hall to the Free Christian Baptist church to-morrow evening, headed by the 71st batt. band, where the pastor, Rev. Mr. Hartley will deliver an appropriate sermon. This lodge organized only a few months ago, has a membership of thirty-three. The boys will turn out in black clothes, white gloves and tie, and black hard hats, will present a good appearance. The lodge is rapidly growing.

Wedding at the Methodist Church.

A very interesting event took place in the Methodist church Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock, in which Mr. Joseph G. Pickard, formerly of this city but now of Boston, and Miss Josephine Thompson, youngest sister of Hon. F. P. Thompson figured prominently. The knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Weddall. The bride wore a travelling suit of fawn color, trimmed with golden brown, with hat to match, looked exceedingly pretty even for a bride. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white sweet peas, and was attended by Miss Barbour of St. John, who was also tastefully dressed in a fawn colored suit with green trimmings. There was no groomsmen. The happy young couple left by the early train for Boston followed by the best wishes of their many friends in which the GLOBE heartily joins.

Death of Mrs. W. O. Dunham.

The many friends of Whitney O. Dunham of Carleton heard, last Wednesday evening, with deep regret of the death of his wife, which occurred about five o'clock in the evening. Mrs. Dunham's illness was brief and but few people knew of her danger until they heard of its result. Mr. and Mrs. Dunham were wedded only a few years and Mrs. Dunham had made many friends in the community, all of whom sympathize most deeply with her husband and family in their sad loss.—Sun.

Mr. Dunham's friends in this city will learn with regret, of this, his second sad bereavement. His first wife was Miss Mina McCorquindale, a pretty and popular young dress-maker of this city, whose death occurred shortly after her marriage.

Fatal Accident at Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK N. B. Aug. 8th. A sad accident, resulting in the death of Mr. Elbridge Bailey of Bailey Bros. shoe dealers of this town, occurred here last evening between seven and eight o'clock. The fire department of which Mr. Bailey has been a prominent and efficient member for about four years, were out for practice. Mr. Bailey and Mr. Lindon had the pole of the hook and ladder wagon, and were running down the hill on Main street, past the Wilbur House. When about half way down the hill several other members of the company jumped on the hind end of the wagon; and their weight, with that of the ladders which extended some distance behind, tipped the front end of the wagon so that the king-bolt, which was not securely fastened was drawn from its socket, thus allowing the body of the wagon to rush forward. As it did so the end of a ladder struck Bailey a severe blow on the head, knocking him down. The hind wheel passed over his chest and shoulder, breaking a rib and forcing the broken bone into the lung. He was carried into H. Paxton Baird's drug store and doctors Sprague and Hand summoned. Shortly after regaining consciousness he was carried to the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. Jas. Watts, where he died about 11.30 p. m.

The deceased was a young man of sterling qualities and his untimely death has cast a gloom over our business and social circles. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon, the Oddfellows of whom deceased was a member and the Firemen attending in a body.

For Over Fifty Years.

W. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night or broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind-Colic, softens the Gums and reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP."—Aug. 9—66—ly

ODDFELLOWS GRAND LODGE.

The Maritime Provinces' Convention held here this Week.

The Entertainment Given in the Temperance Hall—Election of Officers—New Lodge Organized.

The Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. of the maritime provinces met in Victoria lodge rooms in this city Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. The attendance was large; the delegates numbering about two hundred. The lodge was called to order by Grand Master John Sutherland of Halifax, and after roll call forty-two new members received the grand lodge degree. Grand Master Sutherland, in his annual address, said:

"Again by the kind providence of the Grand Architect of the Universe we are privileged to assemble together at this our thirty-eighth annual communication, to which I extend to one and all a fraternal welcome. I fully appreciate the honor you conferred on me one year ago by electing me grand master, and on assuming the office and entering upon its duties I fully realized my inability to properly perform the important task which your favor had imposed upon me. In the discharge of the various duties pertaining to this office I have doubtless erred, but I beg you to be assured that the fault, when fault there was, has been of the head and not of the heart. I have ever been actuated by what I believe to be for the best interest of the order. The past year has been one of prosperity in our jurisdiction and I am glad to know that our order has made a considerable increase in membership. New lodges have been organized, and in most of the lodges a greater interest in the work has been manifested, and many are adopting the new and beautiful work. As far as I am aware no appeals will come before the grand body. Peace and harmony mark the onward march of our order. From reports received from the district deputy grand master I am led to believe that greater gains may be expected in the coming year than in the past.

During the year four new lodges have been instituted with exceptionally good charter members. There are still many places in our jurisdiction where the prospects for successful lodges are good, and in the coming year I hope to see the banner of our order unfurled at Clarke's Harbor and Leclercq, Shelburne county; Middleton and Bear River, Annapolis county; Glass Bay, C. B., and Causo.

From the reports of the D. D. grand masters, and from correspondence with brethren, I am satisfied that applications will soon be made for charters from the above named places. I would recommend that charters be granted the following lodges: Crescent Lodge, No. 63, Bridgetown, N. S., instituted November 9th. Twenty-five candidates were initiated on the night of institution. Sunbeam lodge, of Turbrook, N. S., was instituted January 10th. Six candidates were initiated. Kingston lodge, No. 65, Kingston, N. S., was instituted Feb. 24. Twenty candidates joined. Tokalon lodge, No. 66 Albert, P. E. I., was instituted on April 26. Ten candidates were initiated. All these lodges started with the most encouraging prospects said the grand master. After dealing with other matters pertaining to the workings of the order the grand master said: "Death has invaded our ranks and we are again reminded that 'All that is born must die.' Those reported to me by the D. D. grand masters as members of this grand body are: Duncan Ross, P. G. M. of Norton lodge No. 6, and Arch D. White P. G., of Wilsey lodge No. 27—faithful and worthy brothers who will be greatly missed by their several lodges. I would recommend that memorial pages be inserted in the printed proceedings."

The grand master's address dealt with his visits to the different lodges and the way the work was being done. He returned thanks to the grand secretary, Grand Representative J. R. Macdonald and D. D. Grand Masters R. J. Uniacke and T. B. Grady for their untiring energies in forwarding the work of Oddfellowship. In conclusion he said: "And now, brethren the work of the year is before you, with the hope that it may meet with your approval. What we need is constant devotion to the great principles of our beloved order by all the members—workers who are willing to work together in unity. Let us put our shoulders to the good work, and move onward until one law shall bind all nations, kindreds and tongues of the earth, and that law shall be the law of universal brotherhood."

Grand Secretary J. C. P. Fraser made no comments in presenting his report. His report shows that there are four lodges of Rebekahs, with a total membership of 184. The receipts of this branch were $145.41; and the expenditure $94.30. The Rebekahs only paid out $10 for relief.

The following statistics show the state of the order: The number of lodges per last report was 54, and four being instituted, the present number is 55. The total number of members per last report was 3,793, instituted during the year, 655; admitted by card, 53; reinstated, 51; errors to be added, 6; making a total increase of 765. The number withdrawn by card, etc., was 289. These figures include the deaths, which number 16. The net increase for the year is 476, and the total membership is now 4,269 members. The total expenditure for relief for the year was $5,524.16, divided as follows: Amount paid for relief of members, $5,756.74; for relief of widowed families, $424.46; for burying the dead, $535.60; for education of orphans, $31, special relief from lodge funds, $776.36. The total receipts of the whole order for the year were $25,995.51, and the expenditure, $20,968.28. The amount in the widows' and orphans' fund is $23,523.98.

Grand Treasurer H. A. Taylor in his report showed that the receipts of the grand lodge for the past year from all sources were $3,187.88, and the expenditure $1,526.56, leaving in the hands of the treasurer and in Savings bank $1,664.32.

District Deputy Grand Master B. A. Stammers in submitting his report for the St. John District, said: "The past year has for us been a fair one, all of the lodges showing a gain of membership. At the stated periods, assisted by a number of past grands, I installed the officers of Pioneer, Siloam and Golden Rule. I have not been called upon for any decisions, other than information asked during my attendance at the meetings of the different lodges.

"Golden Rule lodge (of Carleton) have accepted tenders to build a hall. They intend to have it ready for occupation next January."

The number initiated in St. John during the year was 56. The total assets of the lodges are $21,456.35.

The different reports were referred to the usual committees.

The mileage rate was raised from three to four cents.

The afternoon session was taken up with the discussion of the proposed amendments to the bye-laws. All of the proposed alterations, however, were negatived.

In the evening a musical reception was tendered the visitors by Victoria lodge in the Temperance hall, the following programme being carried out.

PROGRAMME.

1. Overture.....F. O. M. W. Orchestra.
2. Address of welcome on behalf of Victoria Lodge.....John Richards P. G. M.
3. Address of welcome on behalf of the City.....Mayor Beckwith
4. Overture.....Orchestra
5. Solo.....Miss A. L. Lugin
6. Piano Solo.....Miss Annie Burchill
- Intermission.
7. Solo.....Mr. A. E. Massie
8. Banjo Duet.....Mrs. Barker and Miss Yerxa
9. Quartette.....Messrs Massie, Tibbits, McGrath and Richards.
10. Solo.....Mrs. Barker
11. Violin Solo.....Prof. White
12. Solo.....Mr. A. R. Tibbits
13. God Save the Queen.....Orchestra

During intermission refreshments were served, all present thoroughly enjoying themselves. Owing to the length of the programme the chairman, Mr. C. A. Sampson announced that there would be no encores, and despite the fact that the audience supported by Deputy Grand Master Stammers who occupied a seat on the platform, made a determined effort to recall Miss Lugin, the chairman refused to allow it. All who took part in the concert performed their part to perfection receiving great applause.

The election and installation of the following officers took place Thursday:—B. A. Stammers, St. John, Grand Master; H. W. Rogers, Amherst, D. G. Master; S. T. Rogers, Moncton, G. Warden; J. C. P. Frazer, re-elected G. Secretary; H. A. Taylor, Halifax, re-elected G. Treasurer; C. B. Allen, St. John and J. R. McDonald, Hopewell, grand representatives; J. A. Murdoch, St. John, G. Marshal; J. F. Richards, Fredericton, G. conductor; John Guest, Yarmouth, G. guard; Rev. R. D. Bambrick, Sidney, C. B. G. chaplain; John McNevin, G. Herald.

The session which close Thursday afternoon was better attended than any previous convention. The majority of the delegates left for their homes on the afternoon train.

Coming and Going.

Hon. A. S. White is at the Queen.
Prof. Bristowe is away on a vacation.
Miss Bessie Hagerman returned home this week.

Mr. John Kerr, of St. John, was here this week.

Mrs. Frank Thompson, of St. Louis is home on a visit.

Mr. F. I. Morrison returned home from St. Andrew's this week.

Rev. C. W. McCully and wife are visiting friends in St. John.

Mr. Frank McGregor is home from Boston on a vacation.

Mr. Albert Edgecombe and family are at Quispansis, Queen's Co.

Mr. J. L. Stewart of the Chatham "World" gave us a call on Thursday.

Mrs. S. Hieler, of Boston, formerly Miss Goldworthy, of this city, is here on a visit.

Miss Lou, Burchill left for St. Martin's Thursday where she will have charge of a school.

Miss K. C. Tracey, Miss F. B. Elliott and Miss Mary O'Brien are home from Boston on a vacation.

Mr. W. R. Racey is in charge of the Merchant's Bank here during Mr. Mitchell's absence on his vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy C. Biggs, of New York, who have been visiting Mr. Biggs' home here, left for New York again Thursday afternoon.

Mr. J. G. Gunn went to St. John this week as a representative of Millicote Encampment of Foresters at the meeting of the High Court held at that place.

Miss Alice Boyd, Miss Gertrude Boyd, Miss Colwell, Capt. Boyd and Capt. Grouse, of St. John; Messrs. McKean and McKay, of Westville, N. S., and Mr. Kezer, of New York, were among those who registered at the Royal this week.

The fine team of the Skoda Discovery Co., of Wolfville, N. S. appeared on our streets to-day driven by E. M. Wilband traveller for New Brunswick. The popular remedies of this company are meeting with marked success throughout the Dominion and the United States.

William E. Seery wants two coat makers at once to help make some of the new goods he has just received. He will pay the highest wages to good hands.—Adv.

EVENTS AROUND US.

Happenings of the Week Throughout the Province.

Great hay weather.

Boots, shoes and slippers at the Stone Boot.

The U. N. B. senate will meet next week.

The Bathurst school inquiry is still in progress.

The Salvation Army will hold a picnic down river this month.

The Salvation Army band will return home from their tour to-day.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show at Pine Park, Wednesday, Aug. 23rd.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster will address a meeting in the city hall next Tuesday.

The farmers pronounce the crops good, the wheat crop promising to be exceptionally fine.

The interior of the Cathedral is being repaired and painted. When finished it will present a fine appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barry have been receiving congratulations this week on the arrival of a little stranger. It is a girl.

Mr. John Blaker, son of Wm. Blaker, of Richibucto, will succeed Mr. Frank Miles as junior clerk in the Merchants' Bank.

Grand Master Fowler attended the session of the York County Orange Lodge at the mouth of the Tay Wednesday evening.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

Miss Annie Lugin has accepted a position on the staff of the Morley Conservatory of music which opens at St. John, Sep. 4th. She will be the instructress in voice culture. The GLOBE congratulates Miss Lugin on her preferment, the position having been unsought.

The chief justice delivered judgment Wednesday in the case of the Queen v. Peterson, on the application made by Thomas Lawson for certiorari. He refused the application and withdrew the stay of execution. The ground relied on was misdirection by the judge in his charge to the jury. Peterson was sentenced to three years' imprisonment, and this will now be enforced.

A Full Line of
THE HAWKER REMEDIES
For Sale by
C. FRED CHESTNUT,
Apothecary,
2 Doors above Barker House.
Queen St., Fredericton

FREDERICTON, AUG.