The "Farmer" certainly appears to be grad ually, but surely swinging into the liberal lines. In this week's issue in an article referring to the 'establishment of Rankine & Son's St. John, he says : "Mr. Thomas Ran kine the head of the firm, is a staunch libera and was a candidate in the last Dominion election." He (Mr. Rankine) says, and the Farmer seems to be convinced of the fact, that if we had reciprocity the firm's business could be extended to great advantage. In another article the same paper says in refer ring to the vacancy on the supreme court bench at Ottawa : Perhaps Minister Foster will be able to tell what the McLeod's have done for this country that they should all be saddled on the taxpayers.

We are pleased to sce the genial proprietor of the Farmer is gradually getting on the right side.
