A Little Previous.

Thursday evening's "Gleaner" announced the election of officers for Fowler division No. 6. U. R. K. of P. The "Gleaner" is just a little previous, as the election of officers will not take place until the 14th of March. The members named in the "Gleaner" were nominsted, not elected.

Mr. Racey, the popular manager of the Merchants Bank here, has been promoted to the position of inspector for that institution. He will enter upon his new duties about the 1st of April. While his many friends here will be sorry to have him remove to another city, they will join with the GLOBE in wishing him success wherever his lot may be cast.

Thunder in February.

Tuesday night about half-past one o'clock. during the rain storm, three distinct rolls of thunder were heard by those unfortunates whose business sometimes keep them up the best part of the night. Thunder in February is something out of the ordinary in this part of the country, and only the unfortunates were fortunate enough to hear it in this case.

Wedding Bells at Dorchester.

DORCHESTER, Feb. 9.—This morning at 10 o'clock Miss J. Charlotte Peters, daughter of W. T. Peters, formerly of St. John but now of Winnipeg, was joined in marriage to Mr. H. C. Hanington of Moncton, Barrister, and eldest son of Judge Hanington. The ceremony took place in Trinity Church, around the door of which long before the hour a considerable last, and when she returned upstairs her number had collected awaiting admittance. eighteen months' old child was enveloped in Rev. J. Roy Campbell performed the ceremony. flames. The child lived only three hours. During the preliminary authem, the proces sion up the aisle of the church to the alter was lead by the two ushers, B. B. Teed and R. W. Hanington, and then came the bride leaning on the arm of her uncle George W. Chandler who gave her away. There were no bridesmaid or groomsman. The bride wore a green cloth travelling dress with tan trimmings, hat to match. After the ccremony the party proceeded to Justice Hanington's residence for refreshments The invited guests were few, being only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties but the wedding gifts were many in number and beautiful in kind, The newly wedded couple left on the noon train for Nova Scotia to spend their honeymoon.

If the train should break down, verily believe we would walk to Winnipeg rather than miss the opportunity now afforded for rest and exercise and change of environment before proceeding on our way.

We have been now three nights and two days on board without any change here is a public library in Winnipeg worthy of mention, and we all feel tired. Besides we are most of us accustomed to lite in cities rather large or small, and the tediousness of a journey such as this has been is fast wearing upon our minds and bodies, we look forward therefore with much anxious pleasure, to the prospect of spending even a few hours in a live and growing city Fortunately no accident occurs to delay us, and we soon see apparently in our very course, the dis tant buildings of St. Boniface, a small suburb to the left as we enter. Sharply at 10.05 we glide across the Red River on Louise bridge and amid much bustle draw up at the platform of Winnipeg station. Louise Bridge is an iron railway and passenger bridge combined, named as I naturally suppose, after Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise.
