CANADIAN ORATORS.

Wilmot and Howe our Leading Lights.

In the Victoria (B. J.) Colonist, Chas. H. Lugin, writing on a subject of oratory, pays the following glowing tributes to two of our own countrymen: "Indeed while we have many good talkers in Canada today, we have few orators. They are scarce anywhere—men who can handle an audience as a skillful driver handles a pair of horses. Joseph Howe could do it; L. A. Wilmot, the great gladiator of responsible government in New Brunswick, could do it. To hear such men, when they were at their best was to get a revelation of the power of human speech. Wilmot was probably the finest specimen of an orator ever produced by British North America. A man of commanding presence, with piercing eyes, a musical voice and intense dramatic power, he would catch his hearers on the flood of his eloquence, and for the time being influence them almost as he wished. Joseph Howe was a speaker of the same type. He made a speech at Detroit on one occasion from the balcony of a hotel, and one of his hearers said that when he closed by a reference to the war of secession, sobs could be heard from all parts of the vast concourse, and the crowd, that had come to hear him, shouting and headed by a band, left his presence in silence. There can be no greater triumph of oratory than this—to rouse an audience to wild enthusiasm, as he did, and then to dismiss in silence.

A Canterbury Wedding.

Canterbury Station, July 29.—Under the willows fronting the house of Mrs. Jane Dickinson there transpired a very pleasant event at 4 p. m., Wednesday, 27th inst., when her daughter, Della G. was united in marriage to Mr. George N. Hayward of Rockland, Carleton. Co.

The ceremony was performed by Rev C. E. Hayward, uncle of the groom, and a more suitable place could not have been found at this season than under the shade of these massive willow trees through which the bright July sun found but a welcome admission.

The bride was handsomely attired in pure white silk and was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among which was a gold watch chain, slide set with amethyst and pearl, from the groom.

Murphy's Trial.

County Attorney Lumbert started for Bangor, today, to meet Hon. Wm. T. Haynes of Waterville, Maine's able attorney general, to consult in regard to the trial of Daniel Murphy, Jr. for the murder of his father, which tragedy occurred in Mars Hill in June. It is expected that the trial will take place during the September term of the supreme judicial court in Houlton.—Caribou Republican.

THE TERMS OF PEACE.

The Reply of the United States.

The reply of the United States government to Spain's overtures for peace was given to M. Cambon, the French Ambassador on Sunday afternoon for transmission to the Spanish government. The terms decided upon are: Cuba to be free; Porto Rico to be ceded to the United States; one of the Ladronez (the north-most of the Australasian group) to be ceded to the United States as a coaling station; all Spanish forces to be withdrawn from West Indies and the appointment of a commission to settle the details of the government of the Philippines. At the conference M. Cambon, the French ambassador, presented to the president credentials he had received from the Spanish government appointing him envoy extraordinary and plenipotentiary, with complete instructions as to the manner of acting upon every one of the peace conditions presented by the United States, including the disposition of Cuba, Porto Rico the Philippines, the Ladronez, indemnity, armistice and all other questions likely to arise in the course of the negotiations.
