A. F. Lockhart of Hartford, has placed Keystone Brush Scourers for cleaning wheat in the grist mills of G. A. Brittain of Bristol and C. E. Giberson of Bath. This little machine makes a wonderful improvement in local wheat grinding, taking out every vestige of barley, oats, buckwheat, cockle and small wheat, leaving the good grain. Last season he put one in his own mill at Hartford and the result was most satisfactory.

The rumours of a revival of the lumber business are not borne out by the latest advices from the markets. Many mills on the Penobscot, says a Bangor paper, are idle, the New York and Long Island markets being exceedingly dull. The European ports alone affords a market, and the prospect there is dull. So much of our local interests are dependant upon the price of lumber that a renewal of activity in this line should be welcomed by all.

New oats came to market on Monday, having been brought in by William O. Rideout of Simonds. The price paid is 25 cents for new oats, while old oats bring 3s cts. But the prices are apt to go down. Butter is bringing 15 cents here, and in St. John is bringing but 12 to 14 cents. Eggs, 8 cents. Old buckwheat is all sold, and new is not yet offering. Hay is too low to quote. Provisions: flour is on the raise; sugar is also advancing.

Picnic at Upper Brighton.

The annual picnic of the Free Baptist Sabbath school at Upper Brighton was held on Charles Chase's grounds on Thursday afternoon. There was a good attendance; an excellent programme was carried out by the Sabbath school scholars under the direction of Handy Nevers; afterwards tables presided over by the workers of the school, and all were welcomed to an excellent tea. At 7.30 o'clock the company went to the Free Baptist church, and a public meeting was held in the interests of the prohibition campaign. The choir rendered excellent music throughout the service. J. T. G. Carr occupied the chair, and addresses were delivered by Revs J. B. Daggett and Daniel Bayley; and J. K. Flemming and Allen Rideout. There was a good interest manifested, and all the speakers were listened to attentively.
