Fires.

If the parents and guardians of children fully realized the destruction caused by children playing with matches and fire they would think it one of the first duties to instruct them and firmly implant in their minds the danger. It is an old cry "Children and matches," and if it were noticed it would be discovered that more than half of the fires are from that cause. From up river comes the report of two more fires from that cause that occurred last week.

One is at Florenceville by which a barn belonging to Lou Smith was burned. The loss is considerable, having just been filled with hay. The other fire is at Upper Wicklow and was the burning of two barns owned by John Gee, and they also were filled with hay and his farming machinery was also destroyed.
