At Montreal last Sunday evening the southeast corner of Queen's Hall block, in which was located W. H. Scroggie's big retail dry goods store, fell in. No one was injured, but had it occurred ten minutes later, when the congregation of Christ Church cathedral adjoining, was dismissed, undoubtedly there would have been loss of life. The building also contained the Queen's theatre, which was not damaged. The loss is placed at $25,000 on the building and $30,000 on the Scroggie stock,

GOODHUE THE JEWELER

Mr. Editor—It is no part of a gentleman to continue a fight with an imaginary foe or a light fowl who dare not give date or place of his location, but like the foe without manly courage will fight in ambush and then take refuge behind his brainless effusions to conceal his identity. Such an one has occupied space in the last Advertiser in his effort to divert public opinion from the members of the county council, who for the past fifteen years have shown their utter incapacity to hold any office in the gift of the people, and whose management of the county finances has been so conducted that the county was brought to the edge of bankruptcy. It is a sportsman's true remark when you fire the shot and see the feathers fly the fowl has been wounded, if not killed. Such appears to have been the result of the unerring aim of the writer on the jail and bridge question, who this light fowl charges in his brainless effusion as the "would be honorable," a claim to which he does not aspire and were it within his capacity to appreciate or enjoy.

Some seventeen years ago a similar agitation was had on the jail question, and by a majority of one was retained in its old position, and from that down to the present thousands of dollars have been expended and wasted on the old building in the effort to make it habitable, not to say decent, and still we have a building calling for thousands more. And when this additional outlay is completed we will only have a building, not like Joseph's coat of many colors but one of many pieces, and one, to say the least, that is neither comfortable, convenient or decent. The contract for building a new jail was $10,000; this light fowl, like most of his absurd conclusions, would, to frighten the electors, make it $20,000, and if built would be occupied by tramps at the ratepayers' expense. If he has got capacity of brain to receive it we would inform him provision in the new building was made for a jail yard in which to put all the jail loafers and tramps breaking stone, in this way compelling them to earn their bread, where now the jail is filled the year round with just such as this light fowl describes and fed at the peoples expense. With this appliance connected, the jail would be uninhabited instead of filled, and then the expense of bringing prisoners up for trial would disappear and what a bug bear to frighten electors in voting for men who have helped to bankrupt the county. If this myth of a writer will inform himself of the money paid for conveying prisoners from the jail to the P. M. office for examination he should examine the county accounts and if he has sufficient brain capacity to take it in he will see the rate payers have already paid hundreds of dollars for that service and must continue to do so until the jail is located in the town proper. And then this light fowl and lighter brain fears a half acre of land in town is not large enough on which to erect jail and court house. In Aroostook County with three times the population of Carleton their jail and court house does not cover half the size of the county lot in the town, and yet his fears is destroying what little brain he carries under his straw hat. It is easily understood why so much anxiety is shown against the new jail. Nearly all the present councillors are seeking re-election and if they can make the jail question overshadow all their waste and reckless extravagance of the county funds they have by that to hoodwink the people and get a new lease of power. We do not wish to under rate any man's ability, or show feeling against our neighbor, or even a councillor either for Brighton or any other parish, but if some of them were left they would only be missed as drones at the board and it would not be difficult to find men having a capacity for business and economy to fill their place with credit and ability.
