CARS in GLASSVILLE.

All these exciting events which may shortly happen will prove to be only the calm, before the storm that will greet the next issue of "THE GLASSVILLE NEWS." We are pleased to say that our circulation, is like The National Debt, Custom's Duties and Local Taxation, constantly on the increase. From this fact we may infer that it is appreciated by our subscribers, and, though a small one, is at the same time a valuable one, and as an advertising medium is hardly to be surpassed; this comes from the fact that every word printed in our columns is eagerly read, and treasured up in the minds of our readers, so that its value for advertising purposes can be estimated by comparison, with larger and more pretentious papers, published at shorter intervals, and, which are often tossed aside, without a careful perusal. A striking example of this was recently brought before me by a gentleman, whose business were advertised to in our columns. He informed us a short time ago that he had received the offer of a large contract, at a distance, entirely through the mention in our paper, of his skill in his avocation. This is a flattering testimonial to the value of our little sheet. We purpose in the near future to make it still more valuable, by endeavouring to keep in the front ranks of local journalism. With that object in view we appeal to our subscribers, and readers for their generous patronage and support. Our next issue will be the first number of the second volume, and will contain, amongst other interesting items a concise history of the origin of the Glassville settlement, and the foundation of the parish of Aberdeen; compiled by one of its earliest settlers, expressly for our pages. We did purpose to publish it as an extra number at Christmas, but a forcible illustration of the old French adage "L'homme propose, et Dieu dispose." rendered that impracticable, like Lieu-

Now, we want all our old subscribers to renew their subscriptions, and also to induce their friends to become patrons. For "one insignificant quarter" you can have a lively little monthly paper, sent to your postal address for a whole year; and, while receiving full value for your money, you will be helping to build up your country, and bring into notoriety your own particular locality. We would like to have a copy sent to each of the populous centres, and for that purpose will undertake to supply us with interest from their respective localities. We will publish reports of Temperance and Religious meetings, accidents and perils "By flood and field," or any other scrap of news that may be of interest to our readers. With a view to further enhance the value of our little sheet, and, having before us the facts, that there are in our own immediate neighbourhood, a goodly number of fine farms that are unoccupied and, having an earnest desire to see this country flourish, we shall commence, in our next to advertise gratuitously, such farms as vendors wish to sell or let. Any person who wishes to sell, or hire a farm can, by furnishing particulars, situation, area of cleared land, buildings, price &c. have it advertised free. As many of our papers find their way to the Old country purchasers may perchance be found for some of these farms, amongst the tenant farmers of Great Britain.

Send along your quarters! Let them roll this way in goodly numbers, and we will endeavour to give you full value for your money, in the Local news, Scraps of general information, Laughable jokes and other items of interest that make up our columns.

LA GRIPPE.

"The pestilence that walketh in darkness," as well as in broad daylight, La Grippe, has paid us another visit this winter. In the early part of the season it was prognosticated that we should see a Green Christmas, that prophecy was not however fulfilled, as we have passed through a spell of very severe weather in the early part of the season, in fact such extremely cold weather is rare in early winter. We have been informed that the degree of cold registered at The New Brunswick University was more extreme than it has been for more than twenty years. That being the case need there be wonder that respiratory diseases should be more rife than usual. We read a short time ago that these diseases were owing
