WHO IS MRS WINSLOW!
As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has untiringly spent her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and as a result of this effort and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children's teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health and is moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs Winslow is becoming world renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her, especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs WINSLOW has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use and that millions unborn will share its benefits and unite in calling her blessed. NO MOTHER has discharged her duty to her suffering little one in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs Winslow Soothing Syrup. Try it mothers—TRY IT NOW.—Ladies Visitor, New York City.

The united circulations of the MONTEAL WITNESS publications is by far larger than those of any other publishing house in Canada. They are as follows:—DAILY WITNESS, 13,300; WEEKLY WITNESS, 28,300; NORTHERN MESSENGER, 59,000; AURORA, 900—in all 101,500. Now estimating the population of Canada at 4,500,000 and five souls to a family, there are 900,000 families in the Dominion, from which it will be seen that one of those who are published—if no two were taken in the same family—would be sent to one of every nine families in the Dominion, including all races and religions, and besides leave a good fraction over to cover the foreign circulation. The publishers of the WITNESS are not satisfied with this wonderful success, and are endeavoring to increase their proportion of subscribers, by some certainly very attractive inducements, which can be explained to those interested by every subscriber of the MONTEAL WEEKLY WITNESS or NORTHERN MESSENGER.

$5 Outfit sent free to those who wish to engage in the most pleasant and profitable business known. Everything new. Capital not required. We will furnish everything. $10 a day and upwards is easily made without staying away from home over night. No risk whatever. Many new workers wanted at once. Many are making fortunes at the business. Ladies make as much as men, and young men and girls make great pay. No one who is willing to work fails to make more money every day than can be made at any ordinary employment. Those who engage at once will find a short road to fortune. Address H. Hallett & Co, Augusta Maine. oct30&wly

Bret Harte in one of his charming sketches tells of a schoolmistress who was accustomed to take long walks in the pine woods of California for the benefit of the balsamic air. There is more in this treatment than most people will be inclined to credit. We see the pines and spruce have been brought into requisition in the cause of medical progress. GRAY'S SARSAPARILLA—a thoroughly scientific preparation—provides this treatment in a concentrated form, and has, after 20 years' test proved itself the most satisfactory cure extant for Coughs, Colds, Lung and Throat Affections. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle.

The Independent.
The foremost religious newspaper of the United States.—JOSEPH COOK.
The Independent seeks the patronage of the public on three grounds, as follows:
1st It is the largest weekly religious newspaper published in the world.
2d It employs as contributors more able writers, at home and abroad, than any other weekly newspaper.
3d It gives its readers a wider range of topics and more and fuller departments than they can find elsewhere in any journal.
The Independent consists of 32 pages neatly cut and pasted. It is printed from clear type [we stereotype the pages weekly, and hence, every issue is really printed with new type] and on good paper, and mechanically it is unexcelled.
There is no question of prominence in religion, politics, science, education, finance, or any other department of human knowledge which the Independent does not discuss. It has regular departments devoted to Biblical Research, Missions, Religious Intelligence, Book Reviews and Literary News, the Sunday-school, Education, Science, Sanitary questions, Fine Arts, the Movements of ministers, Personalities, News of the week, Financial and Commercial matters, including weekly prices current, Market Reports, Cattle Market, Dry Goods quotations, Flowers and Farming, and Insurance. In its religious department it gives news and statistics of all denominations of Christians, everywhere. In fullness, accuracy, and comprehensiveness this department is unequalled. Several pages of stories and poems adapted to Old and Young are given every week, with a column of Puzzles.
From time to time Sermons by eminent ministers are published. The current topics of the day are discussed in our editorial columns freely and vigorously. We are not afraid to state our opinions.
These reduced prices ($2 per annum in clubs of five or more) are very much lower than any of the standard religious weeklies, though the paper is much larger and better, as comparison will show.

FASCINATION BY A SNAKE.
In 1859 (twenty-one years ago) I followed in the rocks of Ayon, close paths park of Fontainebleau, the fairy by the Denoe court, when the approach of a storm induced me to leave the blue arrows, indicating the right path for a short cut. I soon lost my way, and found myself in a maze of brambles and rocks, when I was startled by seeing on my left hand, at a distance of about ten yards, a snake, whose body, lifted up from the ground at a height of about a yard, was swinging to and fro. I remained motionless, hesitating whether to advance or retreat, but soon perceived that the snake did not mind me, but kept on maintaining its swaying motion, and some plaintive shrieks attracted my attention to a greenfinch perched on a branch of a young pine overhanging the snake, with his feathers ruffled, following by a nod of his head on each side of the branch the motions of the snake. He tottered, spread his wings, alighted on a lower branch, and so on, until the last branch was reached. I then flung my stick at the snake, but the point of a rock broke it and the snake disappeared with the rapidity of an arrow. On approaching the spot, a real abode of vipers, which I did with the greatest precaution, knowing by observation that death may be the result of a bite of a viper, I saw the greenfinch on the ground agitated by convulsive and spasmodic motion, opening and shutting his eyes. I put him in my bosom to try the effect of heat, and hastened to reach the park of Fontainebleau. The little claws of the bird opening and shutting, perhaps as an effect of heat, made me think that he might perhaps be able to stand on my finger, and he did clutch it, and held on with spasmodic squeezes. In the park I got some water, and made him drink it. In short, he revived, and finally flew off in the lime-trees of the park. Now, while following the motions of the snake and bird, I experienced a singular sensation. I felt giddy; a squeezing like an iron hoop pressed in my temples, and the ground seemed to me to be heaving up and down. In fact, the sensation was quite analogous to that experienced on a beginning of sea-sickness. From these facts, would it not seem probable that fascination is nothing more nor less than an extreme fatigue of the optic nerve, produced by a rapid gyratory motion of a shining object, and resulting in a nervous attack and a coma. Curiosity rivets at first the attention of the bird, unconscious of any danger, and when giddiness warns him of his peril it is too late. The snake is as well aware of this as the lophius piscatorius is of the effect of his membrane. In this system the fact of the bird coming down from a higher to a lower branch would be explained by the supposition that, giddiness overtaking him, he opened instinctively his wings and clung to the next support that he found, the motion having partially removed the giddiness so as to enable him to hold fast. Observe that nothing hindered the bird from flying away, and that the snake, being at most five feet long, could never have reached even the lowest branch. Besides he could have no nest to protect, for in the rocks of Ayon there is no water save rain-water in the hollows of the rocks, and this is not potable on account of microscopic leeches which people it, the instincts of birds teaching them to avoid it.—Nature.
